Art as Therapy Alain De Botton, National Gallery of Victoria, John Armstrong, 2014 Renowned philosophers authors Alain de Botton John Armstrong explore the therapeutic potential of art contextualise fifty eight individual or groups of works in the NGV collection according to their potential to help guide us with some of life s everyday problems work love status self worth questions of morality Art as Therapy Alain de Botton, John Armstrong, 2013-10-14 What is art s purpose In this engaging lively and controversial new book bestselling philosopher Alain de Botton and art historian John Armstrong propose a new way of looking at familiar masterpieces suggesting that they can be useful relevant and above all else therapeutic for their viewers De Botton argues that certain great works offer clues on managing the tensions and confusions of everyday life Chapters on Love Nature Money and Politics outline how art can help with these common difficulties for example Vermeer s Girl Reading a Letter helps us focus on what we want to be loved for Serra s Fernando Pessoa reminds us of the importance of dignity in suffering and Manet s Bunch of Asparagus teaches us how to preserve and value our long term partners Art as Therapy offers an unconventional perspective demonstrating how art can guide us console us and help us better understand ourselves The Handbook of Phototherapy and Therapeutic Photography Del Loewenthal, 2023-07-10 This text introduces the concepts essential tenets and basic techniques of Phototherapy and Therapeutic Photography Through the use of case studies and the author s own professional experience this book covers the practices together with their theories and research behind phototherapy and therapeutic photography providing a comprehensive range of major approaches Examples include Talking Pictures Therapy Reenactment Phototherapy the creation of therapeutic photo books stories and diaries and the therapeutic use of portraiture Chapters also explain how we can effectively use these techniques in a variety of contexts including private practice voluntary organisations schools prisons and management consultancy as useful adjuncts to primary practices as well as for self help This handbook is for therapists photographers other professionals clients and activist clients Art is therapy Alain De Botton, John Armstrong, 2014 In 2014 Art is Therapy by guest curators Alain de Botton and John Armstrong wanted to provoke you into rethinking some crucial assumptions about what a museum visit is for What is the purpose of art They proposed it can be enjoyed for its powerfully therapeutic effect on evils that we all suffer yes you too De Botton and Armstrong introduced a kind of philosophical graffiti New texts appeared on giant Post It notes throughout the museum This unusual exhibition catalogue is published in the form of a giant yellow Post It block designed by Irma Boom Bilingual English Dutch language edition c Rijksmuseum Amsterdam Repair the World Alexandre Gefen, 2024-08-19 Talk of repair has become ubiquitous in recent years In the age of trauma culture art and literature have a new purpose to do justice to console comfort and heal Drawing on works of twenty first century French language literature this monograph shows how literature can not only serve as a means of personal development but expand our capacity for empathy help repair the brokenness implied in victimhood and redress individual and collective traumas Centered on a critical reflection on discourses of repair and reparations it questions the canonical theories on the functions of literature and proposes a new way of writing and reading literary history Praise Repair the World is an invigorating and essential call to arms The modern category of the literary it declares is being outpaced by the contemporary uses of literature as a medium of exorcism empathy reparation testimony commemoration existential renewal and ethical or political connectivity Neither celebrating nor condemning such uses Gefen models a much needed style of criticism interdisciplinary pragmatic relational that comes to grips with their importance Rita Felski the John Stewart Bryan Professor and Professor of English at the University of Virginia USA In an era where self help memoir and autobiography command more than their fair share of publisher s lists in France it s tempting some fifty years after post structuralism s heyday to ascribe an impending death of literature to a taste for narcissistic exhibitionism in French literary culture But why bemoan the waning relevance of the question what is literature asks Alexandre Gefen when evidence abounds in the new century that literary writing increasingly posits itself as a restorative reparative act In the best instances authors who give form to embodied experience imaginatively forge with their readers empathetic bonds of the sort that secular and religious institutions long sustained Repair the World is not only a capacious study of writers who hail from surprisingly broad sectors of French society from health and social workers to skilled laborers journalists and educators it s a situated call for a pragmatics of reading that makes of each book an intervention into the fabric of the real Harnessing sources in affect theory trauma studies ethics and cognitive science Alexandre Gefen performs a critically reparative act all his own reminding us that the notion of literature as autonomous object was itself a historical construct in short an ideology Reading and writing have always conjoined care for the self and care for others and it s upon that reciprocity that the communities of sense of tomorrow can flourish in a spirit of reparative humanism Derek Schilling Professor of French Director of the Centre Louis Marin Department of Modern Languages and Literatures Johns Hopkins University USA Alexandre Gefen s wide ranging thought provoking study takes stock of a paradigm shift in contemporary French literature away from a model of autonomy and intransitivity to ways of writing and reading that seek to repair restore reassure and rebuild From the varied forms of expressivity found in self narratives to the empathetic projections of fiction Repair the World maps out an expanding literary territory that seeks not critical negativity but rather the power to intervene for good in individual and collective life While reserving judgment on the actual extent of literature s effects Gefen demonstrates that contemporary projects and discourses undeniably center the therapeutic and remediative uses of literature With its nuanced readings and keen insights Repair the World has been rightly influential in France its powerful diagnosis of contemporary sensibilities resonates far beyond revealing both the promises and predicaments of literature in the twenty first century Alison James Professor of French and Chair of the Department of Romance Languages and Literatures at the University of Chicago USA What would it mean to ask Sartre s post war question What is literature in the 21st century In this wonderful essay Alexandre Gefen argues convincingly that the main purpose of literature today is to repair a broken world and memorialise forgotten lives Taking examples from predominantly contemporary French literature he proposes that literature as therapy has replaced religions of salvation a politics of emancipation and formal experimentation Today literature's mission is to heal traumatised individuals and communities resurrect the lives of the vulnerable and commemorate their deeds in the face of the forces of oblivion For Gefen Patrick Modiano's Dora Bruder 1997 is the contemporary literary archetype of these lost identities to be rehabilitated and reinhabited Gefen describes this new role for literature without taking sides the writing is lucid compelling and non partisan In an age of victimhood testimony empathy self expression and identity Gefen's reparative paradigm is as persuasive as Sartre's political version in the age of ideology Max Silverman Professor of Modern French Studies University of Leeds UK

The Aesthetics of Atheism Kutter Callaway, Barry Taylor, 2019-04-02 To really understand God you have to understand atheism Atheism and Christianity are often placed at polar opposite ends of a spectrum forever in stark conflict with each other In The Aesthetics of Atheism Kutter Callaway and Barry Taylor propose a radical alternative atheism and theism need each other In fact atheism offers profound and necessary theological insights into the heart of Christianity itself To get at these truths Callaway and Taylor dive into the aesthetic dimensions of atheism using everything from Stranger Things to Damien Hirst's controversial sculptures to the music of David Bowie Nick Cave and Leonard Cohen This journey through contemporary culture and its imagination offers readers a deeper understanding of theology culture and how to engage faith in a chaotic and complex world where God is present in the most unexpected place atheism

Creative Arts Therapy: Restoring a Sense of Balance and Well-Being Alfonso Borello, Hey you know how sometimes we feel like we're carrying this heavy load of emotions but we just can't seem to find the right words to express them Well that's where creative arts therapy swoops in like a superhero It's like having this magical toolbox filled with paints music dance and drama that helps us unlock the door to our inner world Think about it when we paint a picture compose a song or dance to a rhythm we're not just creating art we're diving deep into our souls It's like we're peeling back the layers of our emotions revealing parts of ourselves we never knew existed And you know what's even more amazing As we engage in these creative activities we start to gain this incredible insight into who we are and what makes us tick Imagine sitting in front of a blank canvas with nothing but a paintbrush in hand and a world of possibilities ahead of you As you swirl the colors together you're not just painting a picture you're painting your story Each stroke of the brush reveals a new chapter a new emotion a new piece of the puzzle that is you And as you step back and admire your creation you can't help but marvel at the beauty of your own soul laid bare on the canvas Or picture yourself lost in the melody of a song the music washing over you like a warm embrace With each note you're transported to a different place a different time a different part of yourself You're not just listening to music you're feeling it in every fiber of your being And in that moment of connection you realize that music has this incredible power to heal to comfort to uplift and to reveal the deepest truths of our hearts And let's not forget about dance the most primal and instinctual form of expression known to humankind When we move our bodies to the rhythm of the music we re not just dancing we re telling a story without words With each graceful movement each fluid gesture we re expressing emotions that words alone could never capture It s like our bodies become a canvas and every dance step is a brushstroke painting a masterpiece of our innermost thoughts and feelings So my friends if you ever find yourself feeling lost or disconnected from yourself remember the magic of creative arts therapy It s not just about making art it s about discovering yourself in the process It s about peeling back the layers diving deep into your soul and uncovering the hidden truths that make you who you are So grab a paintbrush put on some music or dance like nobody s watching and let the journey of self discovery begin

Gramsci's Critique of Civil Society Marco Fonseca,2016-03-31 Antonio Gramsci was an Italian Marxist thinker whose radical ideas on how to build an alternative world from below remain vigorously relevant today Gramsci s philosophy of praxis critically dissects the institutions of modern liberal democracy to reveal what is perhaps its deepest secret it is the most successful political system in modernity at preserving an objective condition of domination while transforming it into a subjective conviction of freedom Based on a careful reading of Gramsci s The Prison Notebooks Marco Fonseca shows hegemony as more than leadership of elites over subaltern majorities based on consent Following Gramsci s critique of citizenship civil society and democracy including the current project of neoliberal democracy promotion particularly in the Global South he discloses a hidden process of hegemony that generates the preconditions for consent and thus successful domination As the struggles from Zapatismo to Chavismo and from the Arab Springs to Spain s Podemos show liberation is not possible without counter hegemony This book will be of interest to activist scholars engaged in the study of Marxism Gramsci political philosophy and contemporary debates about the renewal of Marxist thought and the relevance of revolution and Communism for the twenty first century

The Case for Repatriating China's Cultural Objects Zuozhen Liu,2016-02-25 This book investigates China s demands for the repatriation of Chinese cultural relics lost during the country s modern history It addresses two main research questions Can the original owners or their rightful successors of cultural objects looted stolen or illicitly exported before the adoption of the 1954 Hague Convention and the 1970 UNESCO Convention reclaim their cultural objects pursuant to remedies provided by international or national law And what are the philosophical ethical and cultural considerations of identity underlying the international conventions protecting cultural objects and claims made for repatriating them The first part of the book explores current positive legal regimes while the second part focuses on the philosophical ethical and cultural considerations regarding repatriation of cultural objects Consisting of seven chapters and an introduction it outlines the loss of Chinese cultural relics in modern history and the normative framework for the protection of cultural heritage It presents case studies designed to assess the possibility of seeking legal remedies for restitution under contemporary legal regimes and examines the cultural and ethical issues underpinning the international conventions protecting cultural heritage and claims for the repatriation of cultural heritage It also discusses issues of cultural identity the right to cultural identity and heritage multiculturalism the politics of recognition cosmopolitanism the right to cultural heritage and other related issues The concluding chapter answers the two research questions and offers suggestions for future research

Humanism in Surgery Jonathan McFarland, Susana Magalhaes, Jacek Mostwin, René Genadry, 2025-08-12 Medical Humanities and Narrative Medicine have been increasingly relevant in view of the challenges that new health technologies and the digital world pose to truly person centered healthcare By Narrative Medicine we understand the practice of healthcare with narrative skills that allow professionals to recognize the suffering of others and of themselves be able to interpret verbal and non verbal narratives of illness and be motivated to act in a way that respects the Person of the Patient and of the Professional Surgery like other medical specialties requires space for reflection and debate on the meaning of humanism and its impact on the quality of care This requirement is more pressing in this area because it has escaped inquiry by Medical Humanities and Narrative Medicine We believe that this is due to the nature of the surgical activity carried out in an enclosed place characterized by the use of sophisticated technologies including robotics and artificial intelligence and inaccessible to patients relatives In addition the patients own expectations about surgery reinforce the technological and highly specialized nature of this area often marked by the neglect of the relational context with clear prejudice to the parties involved and the activity itself Although this gap has been identified there has been no space for reflection on the humanization of care in surgery This book is therefore innovative precisely because it responds to the previously mentioned shortcomings offering its readers the opportunity to reflect on Humanism in Surgery Textbook of Palliative Care Roderick Duncan

Transitional Selves Marcus Bussey,Meera Chakravorty,Camila Mozzini-Alister,2023-05-30 This book engages with the ethics and practices of identity formation in a world experiencing identity stress It engages with crucial questions such as What models are shaping our view of ourselves and the society in which we live What images ground our perception of what is true and real How have the images been historically produced What are the effects of such models on definitions of self Should we break free from these images if we get to know what they are Is it possible to change our models in order to create freer identities Through a range of distinctive lenses the essays in the volume deals with the ideas of the liminal self the digital self identities in flux and offers up anthropologies of self selves that situates current identity processes within their cultures and explores strategies and dilemmas from this perspective This key volume will be of interest to scholars and researchers of literary studies critical theory social theory social anthropology philosophy and political philosophy

Outsoaring the Shadow: Atheistic thoughts on life and death Martin Rushton,2015-11-19 The day will come when the Sun rises but you do not your last breath will have been made This is a stark fact Do you think the day will never come Do you conduct your life on the presumption that it will not come But it will come it is part of the script of life It may even come today How does an atheist answer the perennial existential question What is the meaning of life In this sobering but ultimately compassionate and optimistic book the author offers a helping hand Combining elements of ancient Stoic philosophy academic argumentation contemplative practices practical advice and at times dark humour the author weaves a coherent and sympathetic guide to the art of living in the face of mortal angst

Creative Repair Anne C. Holmes,2023-05-31 The recent pandemic has highlighted an increasing need for support for those experiencing mental health challenges and those caring for them There is an urgent need for clergy and others involved in pastoral care both to attend to their own well being and to develop resilience The role of pastors in accompanying those grieving planning and conducting funerals carries a toll of emotional and psychological resources which need to be replenished routinely Showing how everything from singing in choirs or joining theatre or dance groups to painting or sculpting can help those in leadership to develop a flexible mindset and give relief to the pressures of responsible roles Creative Repair is essential reading both for those who train others as pastors and those who are themselves in training and preparing to take on pastoral responsibility themselves
