Although all industries can reap the rewards of nonviolence, its positive impacts can particularly be examined in applied disciplines like conflict resolution, child development, criminal justice, and social work. Creating a Sustainable Vision of Nonviolence in Schools and Society is a unique reference source that discusses the value that nonviolent spaces can add to educational institutions and societies. Featuring extensive coverage on relevant topics including conflict skills, intersectional dialogue, mentoring, co-existence, and police brutality, this is an outstanding resource of academic material for educators, academicians, graduate students, and researchers seeking to expand their knowledge on nonviolent methods and techniques for educational environments. Bioregional Planning and Design: Volume II David Fanfani, Alberto Matarán Ruiz, 2020-07-22 This book provides insights and discusses the practical application of the theoretical concept of urban bioregion, complementing the general bio-regional planning cross-disciplinary issues provided in Volume I. It examines planning practices such as relocalisation of energy flows, land protection for climate change, territorial heritage enhancement, the consideration of urban ecosystems, and agro-ecology. It presents discussions on regional contexts, practices, and projects for a bioregional recovery and includes case studies from France, Belgium, Spain, Greece, Austria, and Italy, discussing topics that range from the reframing of local energy production, delivery, planning systems to soil protection and farmland sustainable exploitation schemes. This volume concludes with three cross-European case studies that make clear the worldwide relevance and potential of the bioregional approach beyond the Global North or Western countries. Communities' Sustainable

Experiences Salvatore Di Dio, 2024-06-24 THE TRUE DIMENSION OF CITIES IS NOT SPACE BUT TIME Konstantinos Doxiadis This shift from the spatial dimension to that of time places the focus on the individual's scale of perception. How individuals spend their time shapes and infuses our environments with meaning, influencing social dynamics and cultural values. The Next Generation EU project exemplifies this shift by integrating lifestyle and environmental sustainability into urban planning. The goal is to facilitate a just transition to a circular economy, redefining not only the physical layout of cities but also the lived experience of its citizens within these evolving spaces. The evolution from the Citizens Sustainable eXperience to the Communities Sustainable eXperience in the interdisciplinary research funded by the European Union underscores a significant progression from individual to collective experience. UX rooted in human-centered design focuses on optimizing products and environments for personal use and satisfaction. CX expands these principles into the realm of more than human-centered design, where the focus extends beyond individual users to include wider community interactions and ecosystems. Therefore, the shift from UX to CX in urban planning and design is profoundly ethical. It calls for a paradigm that prioritizes collective well-being and sustainable development, inclusivity, and cooperation. Uncanny Perspectives in

Inclusive Education in Italy Simona D'Alessio, 2012-01-01 This book provides an innovative and thought provoking analysis of the policy of integrazione scolastica from an inclusive perspective Drawing on historical and empirical research methods the book arises out of an ethnographic study which investigates the extent to which the policy of integrazione scolastica can be considered an inclusive policy The author poses two fundamental questions why are there episodes of micro exclusion and discrimination against disabled pupils still taking place in regular schools after more than 30 years have passed since the enactment of such a progressive policy Can the policy of integration lead to the development of inclusion in Italy The research findings presented in the book indicate that exclusion and discrimination towards disabled pupils in education do not result from a lack of implementation of the policy at a school level rather from the perpetuation of dominant discourses which construct disability as an individual deficit The book does not deny the progress made in the country following the application of this anti discriminatory policy rather it challenges the hegemonic abilist culture and the traditional perspectives of disability and schooling that undermine the development of inclusive education After having investigated the theoretical premises of the policy of integration the author argues that this progressive policy is still rooted in a special needs education paradigm and that what was once a liberating policy has been transformed into a hegemonic tool which still manages controls and normalizes disability leaving school settings and teaching and learning routines unchanged She finally argues for a human rights approach for the development of an inclusive school for the 21st century The book is an essential reading for academics policy makers researchers and students involved in education as it links ideological pressures to practical analyses The Role of Higher Education in the Professionalisation of Adult Educators Maria N.
