2014 Exemplar Life Orientation:

Narrative, Calling, and Missional Identity in 1 Peter David Shaw, 2023-11-13 A story well told and subsequently imbibed by its recipients has the power to shape one's beliefs, identity, and way of life. So what happens when a person or community is swept up in such a story? In this study, Shaw draws upon the dual methodologies of Narrative Transportation and Social Identity theories to consider how 1 Peter's use of Old Testament narratives and language serves to transport its recipients into an identity defined as elect sojourners. Amidst suffering, 1 Peter calls the Anatolian believers to a priestly ministry, blessing their antagonists as they await their eternal glory in Christ. The Partisan Next Door Ethan C.

Busby, Adam J. Howat, Jacob E. Rothschild, Richard M. Shafranek, 2021-09-29 In the United States, politics has become tribal and personalized. The influence of partisan divisions has extended beyond the political realm into everyday life, affecting relationships and workplaces as well as the ballot box. To help explain this trend, we examine the stereotypes Americans have of ordinary Democrats and Republicans. Using data from surveys, experiments, and Americans' own words, we explore the content of partisan stereotypes and find that they come in three main flavors: parties as their own tribes, coalitions of other tribes, or vehicles for political issues. These different stereotypes influence partisan conflict: people who hold trait-based stereotypes tend to display the highest levels of polarization, while holding issue-based stereotypes decreases polarization. This finding suggests that reducing partisan conflict does not require downplaying partisan divisions but shifting the focus to political priorities rather than identity. A turn to what we call responsible partisanship. The Healing Power of Hip Hop

Raphael Travis Jr., 2015-12-14 Using the latest research, real-world examples, and a new theory of healthy development, this book explains Hip Hop culture's ongoing role in helping Black youths to live long, healthy, and productive lives. In The Healing Power of Hip Hop, Raphael Travis Jr. offers a passionate look into existing tensions aligned with Hip Hop and demonstrates the beneficial quality it can have in empowering its audience. His unique perspective takes Hip Hop out of the negative light and shows readers how Hip Hop has benefited the Black community. Organized to first examine the social and historical framing of Hip Hop culture and Black experiences in the United States, the remainder of the book is dedicated to elaborating on consistent themes of excellence and well-being in Hip Hop and examining evidence of new ambassadors of Hip Hop culture across professional disciplines. The author uses research-informed language and structures to help the reader fully understand how Hip Hop creates more pathways to health and learning for youth and communities. VIA Character

Time Issues in Strategy and Organization T. K. Das, 2019-10-01 The field of strategy science has grown in both the diversity of issues it addresses and the increasingly interdisciplinary approaches it adopts in understanding the nature and significance of problems that are continuously emerging in the world of human endeavor These

newer kinds of challenges and opportunities arise in all forms of organizations encompassing private and public enterprises and with strategies that experiment with breaking the traditional molds and contours The field of strategy science is also perhaps inevitably being impacted by the proliferation of hybrid organizations such as strategic alliances the upsurge of approaches that go beyond the customary emphasis on competitiveness and profit making and the intermixing of time honored categories of activities such as business industry commerce trade government the professions and so on The blurring of the boundaries between various areas and types of human activities points to a need for academic research to address the consequential developments in strategic issues Hence research and thinking about the nature of issues to be tackled by strategy science should also cultivate requisite variety in issues recognized for research inquiry including the conceptual foundations of strategy and strategy making and the examination of the critical roles of strategy makers strategic thinking time and temporalities business and other goal choices diversity in organizing modes for strategy implementation and the complexities of managing strategy to name a few This book series on Research in Strategy Science aims to provide an outlet for ideas and issues that publications in the field do not provide either expressly or adequately especially as regards the comprehensive coverage deserved by certain emerging areas of interest The topics of the volumes in the series will keep in view this objective to expand the research areas and theoretical approaches routinely found in strategy science the better to permit expanded and expansive treatments of promising issues that may not sufficiently align with the usual research coverage of publications in the field Time Issues in Strategy and Organization contains contributions by leading scholars on time issues in the field of strategy science research The 8 chapters in this volume cover the topics of future orientation in strategy making time conceptualizations in interorganizational relationships real time management in the digital economy spatio temporal aspect of strategic leadership a systemic cognitive perspective on organizational temporality ecosystem types and the timing of open innovation strategies and the temporalities of strategic risk behavior and partner opportunism in strategic alliances The chapters collectively present a wide ranging review of the noteworthy research perspectives on the temporal issues in strategy and organization

Green Schools Globally Annette Gough, John Chi-Kin Lee, Eric Po Keung Tsang, 2020-08-31 This book brings together stories of the green schools movement Eco Schools Enviroschools Green Schools Sustainable Schools ResourceSmart Schools etc in several countries around the world with a focus on the impact of the movement on the development and implementation of education for sustainable development in each of the countries In particular each story will explain the history of the movement per country its current status achievements obstacles and broader impact There have been a number of evaluations of these school movements at a national or more local level and numerous articles and chapters have been published on aspects of these schools activities but to date these have not been brought together in a single volume that focuses attention on the impact of the movement on education for sustainable development in each country This is the purpose of this volume The green schools movement focuses on a whole school approach which aims to include everyone students teachers and the local community to improve school environments including resource usage and the environmental footprint of the school to motivate students to take on environmental problems and seek resolutions particularly at a local level but also thinking globally and to improve students attitudes and behaviours as part of developing a sustainable mind set

Curriculum Histories in Place, in Person, in Practice Petra Hendry, Molly Quinn, Roland Mitchell, Jacqueline Bach, 2023-03-10 This book situates the Curriculum Theory Project at Louisiana State University within a larger historical framework of curriculum work examining the practices which have sustained this type of curricular vitality over the lifetime of the field s existence Divided into seven parts the authors illuminate seven practices which have sustained the scholarship graduate programs mentorship and networking that have been critical to maintaining a web of international relationships This exploration and coming together of intergenerational stories reveals a more complete and nuanced narrative of the development of curriculum theory over the last 60 years. Crucially, the project exemplifies the continuing resilience of curriculum theory despite ongoing neo-liberal aspirations to reframe education as a business. Reflecting upon the lived experiences and articulated memories of those who have participated in the project and analysis of documents collected over its 25-year history, it considers curriculum history in writing large through and from this lens of practice. As such, it opens up fresh insights for cultivating the vitality and vigor of curriculum theory more broadly on an international scale and with a view to future directions for the field. It will appeal to both new and experienced scholars working across education foundations, urban education, philosophy of education and higher education, and researchers from across history, sociology, anthropology, ethnic studies and gender studies. New Horizons in Positive Leadership and Change Satinder Dhiman, Joan Marques, 2020-03-11 This edited volume provides managers as well as students with the best practices in effectively leading the 21st-century workforce and managing change. It applies positive principles arising from the newly emerging fields of positive psychology, positive change and positive organizational studies to the field of leadership and change, offering managers strategies and tools to lead change effectively in the present-day boundary-less work environment. At its most fundamental level, the uniqueness of this volume lies in its anchorage in the moral and spiritual dimension of leadership, an approach most relevant for contemporary organizations.

Policy and the Political Life of Music Education Patrick K. Schmidt, Richard Colwell, 2017 Policy and the Political Life of Music Education is the first book of its kind in the field of Music Education. It offers a far-reaching and innovative outlook, bringing together expert voices who provide a multifaceted and global set of insights into a critical arena for action today: policy. On one hand, the book helps the novice to make sense of what policy is, how it functions, and how it is discussed in various parts of the world; while on the other, it offers the experienced educator a set of critically written analyses that outline the state of the play of music education policy thinking. As policy participation remains largely underexplored in music education, the book helps to clarify to teachers how policy thinking does shape educational action and directly influences the nature, extent, and impact of our programs. The goal is to help readers understand the complexities of policy and to become better skilled in how to think, speak, and act in policy terms. The book provides new ways to understand and therefore imagine policy, approximating it to the lives of educators and highlighting its importance and impact. This is an essential read for anyone interested in change and how to better understand decision-making within music and education. Finally, this book, while aimed at the growth of music educators' knowledge base regarding policy, also fosters open thinking regarding policy as a subject helping educators straddling arts and education to recognize that policy thinking can offer creative designs for educational change. Sexuality in Marketing and Consumption Athanasia Daskalopoulou, Daniela Pirani, Jacob

Ostberg, 2024-08-09 This volume provides an in-depth examination of the role of sexuality in consumers' life course and in the marketing of products and services. Leading scholars in the field define the most up-to-date picture of theories of sexuality in marketing and consumer research mapping the topic through diverse theoretical lenses addressing queer and feminist research and putting sexuality and consumption in context The book brings together leading international marketing scholars to build on the growing interest in theories of sexuality queer theory and intersectionality which are gaining more interest among institutions and researchers interested in equality and diversity While this book builds on existing expertise in consumer culture scholarship it is the first time a marketing book focuses on sexuality adding value to the existing repertoire in gender and feminist literature The chapters are organised into three key sections Part 1 maps the marketing and consumer research field discussing how sexuality can be studied through different lenses Part 2 focuses on queer and feminist theorising drawing on LGBTQIA theory queer theory and theories of intersectionality to analyse how overlapping social categories interact to influence consumer behaviour identity and experiences in the marketplace and Part 3 explores the personal and social aspects of sexuality offering a broad overview of issues of gender and sexuality digitalisation and the sexual body This text will be of direct interest to scholars and researchers within the fields of marketing consumer research sociology and media studies The aim of this book is to help scholars and students to develop a broader understanding about the interplay between sexuality society and the market
