A Chick Trick

When it's time to hatch,
a chick can do a super trick.
Inside the egg the chick begins
To pick, pick, pick.
You can hear him if you listen.
Click, click, click.
And pretty soon, what do you know?
(It happens pretty quick!)
The chick that was inside the egg is outside—what a trick!

—Helen O'Reilly

Dragon

The funnest thing I ever saw
Was a dragon who wore
A ring on his claw.
He lived in a cave
With his Maw and Paw.
Who had a beard on his dragon jaw.
Their dragon beds were made of straw.
And they played all day
On their dragon see-saw!

Christopher Kelen, 2009 The process of poetry has importantly intuitive aspects and poetry embodies an ambivalence towards consciousness and towards those activities of thought in which it is constituted It was ability to favour doubt over the productions of the rational mind that led Keats to associate poetry with his negative capability Consciousness is like poetry a floating signifier a term of wide reference and with a range of implications in the various disciplinary contexts in which it finds currency Poetry consciousness and community is about poetry consciousness and community about their reflexive relationships in process and about how these relationships matter to the world today and to worlds to come This book is interested in the nature of poetic as opposed to other thought it is interested in the critical application of these forms of thought to each others productions and in how poetic thought might or might not be subject to its own regime Poetry as practice of testing the limits of language entails a reflexive goal that of understanding the journey in words made possible for and by the poem Poetic meaning and truth are revealed between languages likewise between genres between texts between subjects it is in this inter subjective and inter cultural space that the limits of language and so of conceivable worlds are found Catalogue, Classified and Alphabetical, of the Books of the St. Louis Public School Library Saint Louis (Mo.). Christian Parenting David P. Setran, 2022-06-21 What can the past teach us about what it means to be a good Christian parent today Today's parenting guidance can sometimes feel timeless and inviolable especially when it comes to the spiritual formation of children in Christian households But even in the recent past parenting philosophies have differed widely among Christians in ways that reflect the contexts from which they emerged In this illuminating historical study David Setran catalogs the varying ways American Protestants envisioned the task of childrearing in the seventeenth eighteenth and nineteenth centuries Comparing two main historical time periods the colonial era and the Victorian era Setran uncovers common threads opposing viewpoints and the cultural and religious influences behind the dominant parenting postures of each era The implications of his findings matter for today's big questions about parenting Should children be viewed as basically good in need of protection from corruption or as fundamentally sinful in need of moral correction How should parents address misbehavior Should a parent's primary role be that of teacher disciplinarian or nurturer What importance should be attributed to devotions and prayer church involvement Sabbath keeping home decorating and fun family activities What consideration should be given to gender Should boys and girls be raised differently Do mothers and fathers have essentially different responsibilities As he surveys these historical perspectives Setran reflects on the legacy and future of Christian parenting concluding that the Protestant heritage encourages the importance of intentional devotional practices the development of close parent child bonds and the creation of godly household environments In the end he argues that all of these historical values are critical to the full expression of Christian parental love This is a love that teaches because it wants to help children understand true goodness that admonishes and restrains because it wants to protect children from whatever keeps them from true pleasure and joy that fosters strong relationships so children might experience the lavishness of God's love that models Christlike sacrifice and guides children into the arms of
