Contemporary Gothic and Horror Film Keith McDonald, Wayne Johnson, 2021-06-15 This book looks at contemporary Gothic cinema within a transnational approach With a focus on the aesthetic and philosophical roots which lie at the heart of the Gothic the study invokes its literary as well as filmic forebears by exploring how these styles informed strands of the modern filmic Gothic the ghost narrative folk horror the vampire movie cosmic horror and finally the zombie film In recent years the concept of transnationalism has transcended its original boundaries perhaps excessively in the minds of some Originally defined in the wake of the rise of globalisation in the 1990s

as a way to study cinema beyond national boundaries where the look and the story of a film reflected the input of more than one nation or region or culture It was considered too confining to study national cinemas in an age of internationalization witnessing the fusions of cultures and post colonialism exile and diasporas The concept allows us to appreciate the broader range of forces from a wider international perspective while at the same time also engaging with concepts of nationalism identity and an acknowledgement of cinema itself T.E.D. Klein and the Rupture of Civilization Thomas Phillips,2017-07-14

Lauded by critics yet largely unappreciated by fans of horror and weird fiction T E D Klein is considered one of the great horror writers despite his scant body of work His prose blends the mundane and the supernatural conjuring the monstrous and the malign with accessible but charged discourse that breaks with the formulaic entries in the genre Exploring a range of topics from religious fundamentalism and right wing extremism to fashionable pessimism and the rise of digital humanities the author argues that Klein s work is a prime example of what he terms critical horror a distinct subgenre that entertains while questioning individual and cultural complacency Horror in Space Michele Brittany,2017-10-27 In sharp contrast to many 1960s science fiction films with idealized views of space exploration Ridley Scott s Alien 1979 terrified audiences depicting a harrowing and doomed deep space mission The Alien films launched a new generation of horror set in the great unknown inspiring filmmakers to take Earth bound franchises like Leprechaun and Friday the 13th into space This collection of new essays examines the space horror subgenre with a focus on such films as Paul W S Anderson s Event Horizon Duncan Jones Moon Mario Bava s Planet of the Vampires and John Carpenter s Ghosts of Mars Contributors discuss how filmmakers explored the concepts of the final girl survivor the uncanny valley the isolationism of space travel religion and supernatural phenomena The Thing on the Doorstep and Other Weird Stories H. Lovecraft,2013-10-01 A definitive edition of stories by the master of supernatural fiction Howard Phillips Lovecraft s unique contribution to American literature was a melding of traditional supernaturalism derived chiefly from Edgar Allan Poe with the genre of science fiction that emerged in the early 1920s This Penguin Classics edition brings together a dozen of the master s tales from his early short stories Under the Pyramids originally ghostwritten for Harry Houdini and The Music of Erich Zann which Lovecraft ranked second among his own favorites through his more fully developed works The Dunwich Horror The Case of Charles Dexter Ward and At the Mountains of Madness The Thing on the Doorstep and Other Weird Stories presents the definitive corrected texts of these works along with Lovecraft critic and biographer S T Joshi s illuminating introduction and notes to each story For more than seventy years Penguin has been the leading publisher of classic literature in the English speaking world With more than 1 700 titles Penguin Classics represents a global bookshelf of the best works throughout history and across genres and disciplines Readers trust the series to provide authoritative texts enhanced by introductions and notes by distinguished scholars and contemporary authors as well as up to date translations by award winning translators Why Horror Seduces Mathias F. American Scary Jeremy Dauber,2024-10-01 America is the world's biggest haunted house and American Scary is the only travel guide you need I loved this book Grady Hendrix New York Times bestselling author of How to Sell a Haunted House and The Final Girl Support Group From the acclaimed author of American Comics comes a sweeping and entertaining narrative that details the rise and enduring grip of horror in American literature and ultimately culture from the taut terrifying stories of Edgar Allan Poe to the grisly lingering films of Jordan Peele America is held captive by horror stories They flicker on the screen of a darkened movie theater and are shared around the campfire They blare out in tabloid true crime headlines and in the worried voices of local news anchors They are consumed virally on the phones in our pockets Like the victims in any slasher movie worth its salt we can't escape the thrall of scary stories In American Scary noted cultural historian and Columbia professor Jeremy Dauber takes the reader to the startling origins of horror in the United States. Dauber draws a captivating through line that ties historical influences ranging from the Salem witch trials and enslaved person narratives directly to the body of work we more closely associate with horror today: the weird tales of H. P. Lovecraft, the lingering fiction of Shirley Jackson, the disquieting films of Alfred Hitchcock, the up-all-night stories of Stephen King, and the gripping critiques of Jordan Peele. With the dexterous weave of insight and style that have made him one of America's leading historians of popular culture, Dauber makes the haunting case that horror reveals the true depths of the American mind.
