Through the Crosshairs Roger Stahl, 2018-06-21 Now that it has become so commonplace we rarely blink an eye at camera footage framed by the crosshairs of a sniper s gun or from the perspective of a descending smart bomb But how did this weaponized gaze become the norm for depicting war and how has it influenced public perceptions Through the Crosshairs traces the genealogy of this weapon s eye view across a wide range of genres including news reports military public relations images action movies video games and social media posts As he tracks how gun camera footage has spilled from the battlefield onto the screens of everyday civilian life Roger Stahl exposes how this raw video is carefully curated and edited to promote identification with military weaponry rather than with the targeted victims He reveals how the weaponized gaze is not only a powerful propagandistic frame but also a prime site of struggle over the representation of state violence

The Political Psychology of the Veil Sahar Ghumkhor,2019-11-21 Veiled women in the West appear menacing Their visible invisibility is a cause of obsession What is beneath the veil more than a woman This book investigates the preoccupation with the veiled body through the imaging and imagining of Muslim women It examines the relationship between the body and knowledge through the politics of freedom as grounded in a natural body in the index of flesh The impulse to unveil is more than a desire to free the Muslim woman What lies at the heart of the fantasy of saving the Muslim woman is the West's desire to save itself The preoccupation with the veiled woman is a defense that preserves neither the object of orientalism nor the difference embodied in women's bodies but inversely insists on the corporeal boundaries of the West's mode of knowing and truth making The book contends that the imagination of unveiling restores the West's sense of its own power and enables it to intrude where it is other thus making it the centre and the agent by promising universal freedom all the while stifling the question of what freedom is Blockbusters and the Ancient World Chris Davies,2019-03-21 Following the release of Ridley Scott's Gladiator in 2000 the ancient world epic has experienced a revival in studio and audience interest Building on existing scholarship on the Cold War epics of the 1950s 60s including Ben Hur Spartacus and The Robe this original study explores the current cycle of ancient world epics in cinema within the social and political climate created by September 11th 2001 Examining films produced against the backdrop of the War on Terror and subsequent invasions of Iraq and Afghanistan this book assesses the relationship between mainstream cinema and American society through depictions of the ancient world conflict and faith Davies explores how these films evoke depictions of the Second World War the Vietnam War and the Western in portraying warfare in the ancient world as well as discussing the influence of genre hybridisation narration and reception theory He questions the extent to which ancient world epics utilise allegory analogy and allusion to parallel past and present in an industry often dictated by market forces Featuring analysis of Alexander Troy 300 Centurion The Eagle The Passion of the Christ and more this book offers new insight on the continued evolution of the ancient world epic in cinema Strong Female Character Hanna Flint,2023-02-07 Leading film critic of her generation offers an unflinchingly honest and humorous account of her millennial journey towards self acceptance through a cinematic lens Hanna Flint speaks from the heart in Strong Female Character a personal and incisive reflection on how cinema has been the key to understanding herself and the world we live in A staunch feminist of mixed race heritage Hanna has succeeded in an industry not designed for people like her Interweaving anecdotes from familial and personal experiences episodes of messy sex introspection and that time actor Vincent D Onofrio tweeted that Hanna Flint sounded like a secret agent she offers a critical eye on the screen's representation of women and ethnic minorities their impact on her life body image and ambitions with the humour and eloquence that has made her a leading film critic of her generation Divided into the sections Origin Story Coming of Age Adult Material Workplace Drama and Strong Female Character the book ponders how the creative industries could better reflect our multicultural society Warm funny and engaging and full of film infused lessons Strong Female Character will appeal to readers of all backgrounds and seeks to help us better see ourselves in our own eyes rather than letting others decide who and what we can be Frames of Minds Eelco F. M. Wijdicks,2024 As a medium that aims to connect people through the communication and interpretation of experiences cinema is uniquely positioned to showcase cultural misunderstandings around issues of mental health Frames of Minds traces a history of psychiatry in film concentrating on the major paradigm shifts in neuropsychiatry over the last century Oftentimes representations of psychiatry mental illness and psychotic breakdown are reduced to tropes and used by filmmakers as a tool for plot progression Conversely films can be used as an avenue to voice common concerns about the missteps of psychiatry including overdiagnosis and mistreatment Dr Eelco Wijdicks provides fresh insights into the minds of filmmakers and how they creatively tackle this complex topic How do filmmakers use psychiatry and what do they want us to see What is their frame of mind psychoanalytically biologically sociologically anthropologically Were they influenced by their own prejudices about the origins of mental illness How does this influence the direction of their films Examining the history of film alongside developments in neuropsychiatry Frames of Minds uncovers a cinematic language of psychiatry By taking chances to portray mental illness filmmakers aim to achieve a sense of reality and provide catharsis for viewers through the act of dramatization Ultimately the history of psychiatry in film is a history of the public perception of medicine and the ways psychiatry is understood by directors writers actors and audiences

Empire of Hope David Leheny, 2018-11-15 Empire of Hope asks how emotions become meaningful in political life In a diverse array of cases from recent Japanese history David Leheny shows how sentimental portrayals of the nation and its global role reflect a durable story of hopefulness about the country's postwar path From the medical treatment of conjoined Vietnamese children victims of Agent Orange the global promotion of Japanese popular culture a tragic maritime accident involving a US Navy submarine to the 2011 tsunami and nuclear disaster this story has shaped the way in which political figures writers officials and observers have depicted what the nation feels Expressions of national emotion do several things they construct the boundaries of the national body they inform and discipline appropriate expression and they depoliticize messy problems that threaten to produce divisive questions about winners and losers Most important they work because they appear to be natural simple and expected expressions of how the nation shares feeling even when they paper over the extraordinary divergence in how the nation's citizens experience each incident In making its arguments Empire of Hope challenges how we read the relations between emotion and politics by arguing unlike those who build from the neuroscientific turn in the social sciences or those developing affect theory in the humanities that the focus should be on emotional representation rather than on emotion itself
