Art Samurai Disciplined Natural Growth:

The Art of the Samurai Ken Anderson, 2015-12-18 In a natural state there is never a moment a human being is not growing There is never a moment when a human being is not learning whether the individual realizes it or not Yet in affluent contemporary American society human beings remain stagnant and unable to evolve The human experience or what we refer to as life has become a pestilence for some and a hell for others Even given modern technology in the information age many are spiritually and emotionally illiterate Binging from the buffet of technological advances and enlightenment does not provide nourishment for the spirit or enable people to think independently Even in a country with all the amenities one could imagine at their fingertips many have no idea how to live meaningful and effective lives In our culture people are treated as commodities and this compels people to view themselves as marketable objects and programmed beings The human experience is in overdrive in the chaotic stressful chase for money power and influence dictated by the corporate marketplace many people begin to lose their morals and ethical values The Art of the Samurai invokes the awareness of the creative evolutionary process that is fundamental to the human experience To invoke such awareness people must think for not just themselves but of the greater good of all humanity These poems present the poets recognition that the fundamental conflict is the enmity between the forces of good and evil between justice and injustice and between the human and inhumane

Japanese Images of Nature Pamela J. Asquith, Arne Kalland, 1997 Documents the great diversity in how people perceive their natural environment and how they come to terms with nature be it through brute force rituals or idealization The main message of the book is that nature and the natural are concepts very much conditioned by their context

The Poetry of Nature John T. Carpenter, Midori Oka, 2018-02-26 With a shared reverence for the arts of Japan T. Richard Fishbein and his wife Estelle P. Bender assembled an outstanding and diverse collection of paintings of the Edo period 1615-1868 The Poetry of Nature offers an in depth look at more than forty works from their collection that together trace the development of the major schools and movements of the era Rinpa Nanga Zen Maruyama Shij and Ukiyo e from their roots in Heian court culture and the Kano and Tosa artistic lineages that preceded them Insightful essays by John T. Carpenter and Midori Oka reveal a unifying theme the celebration of the natural world expressed in varied forms from the bold graphic manner of Rinpa to the muted sensitivity of Nanga Lavishly illustrated these works draw particular focus to the unique intertwinement of poetry and the pictorial arts that is fundamental to the Japanese tradition In addition to providing new readings and translations of Japanese and Chinese poems The Poetry of Nature sheds new light on the ways in which Edo artists used verse to transform their paintings into a hybrid literary and visual art
