Shaped for Service Paul Goodliff, 2017-02-17 In the English speaking Western world alone thousands of men and women begin formal training for Christian ministry each year or informally seek to equip themselves for pastoral ministry Over the past fifty years the ancient world of virtue ethics has been reimagined as a means of forming people of character and morality today and in this book it is used as the framework to understand what we are doing as we form Christian ministers now and how we might strengthen that formation by more consciously linking the practices of ministry with the person spirituality and wisdom of the practitioner Writing out of the context of a lifetime of pastoral ministry and the oversight of ministers in the Baptist Union of Great Britain Paul Goodliff explores what pastors do and who they are called to be using a mixture of theological and pastoral inquiry reflections upon art and personal story This book will be of interest to those who are charged with forming the next generation of ministers but anyone starting out on that journey of formation for ministry will also find this vision of ministry challenging and inspiring Russian and Soviet Views of Modern Western Art Ilia Dorontchenkov, N. A. Gur'ianova, 2009 From the first Modernist exhibitions in the late 1890s to the Soviet rupture with the West in the mid 1930s Russian artists and writers came into wide contact with modern European art and ideas Introducing a wealth of little known material set in an illuminating interpretive context this sourcebook presents Russian and Soviet views of Western art during this critical period of cultural transformation The writings document complex responses to these works and ideas before the Russians lost contact with them almost entirely Many of these writings have been unavailable to foreign readers and until recently were not widely known even to Russian scholars Both an important reference and a valuable resource for classrooms the book includes an introductory essay and shorter introductions to the individual sections
