Introduction to Art Therapy Research Lynn Kapitan, 2025-04-11 Thoroughly updated with references to newly published research and engaging first person reflections from art therapist researchers working throughout the world the third edition of Introduction to Art Therapy Research places art therapy research within a socially complex world of compelling questions and emerging trends while guiding readers through basic research design First published in 2010 this seminal textbook fulfills the need for a pragmatic educational text that broadly surveys the purpose and role of art therapy research guides students and practitioners in becoming knowledgeable of their field's research literature and ethical principles and instructs them into the kinds of projects, questions, and methods they might undertake. Written by a prominent figure in the world of art therapy, this pragmatic text is organized into three parts. Part I provides an overview of the basic steps in conceptualizing an art therapy research study with an emphasis on perspectives that are intrinsic to art therapy. Chapters in Part II cover an inclusive methodological framework from quantitative and outcomes research to qualitative practitioner-based field research, critical participatory orientations, phenomenological and narrative approaches, and the growing influence of art-based research in art therapy. Part III offers up-to-date ethical guidelines and valuable tools for understanding and evaluating research reports as well as practical guidance for publication in scholarly journals based on the author's long experience as the editor of the field's leading scholarly publication. Also included are added coverage on cross-cultural research as well as high-quality examples from published peer-reviewed art therapy research studies that illustrate material throughout the text. This landmark text will continue to educate and inform new and emerging art therapists.

Jungian Arts-Based Research and "The Nuclear Enchantment of New Mexico" Susan Rowland, Joel Weisshaus, 2020-07-26 Jungian Arts-Based Research and The Nuclear Enchantment of New Mexico provides clear, accessible, and in-depth guidance both for arts-based researchers using Jung's ideas and for Jungian scholars undertaking arts-based research. The book provides a central extended example which applies the techniques described to the full text of Joel Weisshaus' prose poem The Nuclear Enchantment of New Mexico, published here for the first time. Designed as a how-to book, Jungian Arts-Based Research and The Nuclear Enchantment of New Mexico explores how Jung contributes to the new arts-based paradigm in psychic functions such as intuition by providing an epistemology of symbols that includes the unconscious and research strategies such as active imagination. Rowland examines Jung's The Red Book as an early example of Jungian arts-based research and demonstrates how this practice challenges the convention of the detached researcher by providing holistic knowing. Arts-based researchers will find here a psychic dimension that also manifests in transdisciplinarity, while those familiar with Jung's work will find in arts-based research ways to foster diversity for a decolonized academy. This unique project will be essential reading for Jungian and post-Jungian academics and scholars, arts-based researchers of all backgrounds, and readers interested in transdisciplinarity.
