Theory Of Literature By RenWellek:

Theory of Literature Rene Wellek, Austin Warren, 2024-04-02 Theory of Literature was born from the collaboration of Ren Wellek a Vienna born student of Prague School linguistics and Austin Warren an independently minded old New Critic Unlike many other textbooks of its era however this classic kowtows to no dogma and toes no party line Wellek and Warren looked at literature as both a social product influenced by politics economics etc as well as a self contained system of formal structures Incorporating examples from Aristotle to Coleridge written in clear uncondescending prose Theory of Literature is a work which especially in its suspicion of simplistic explanations and its distrust of received wisdom remains extremely relevant to the study of literature today Theory of Literature [by] René Wellek and Austin Warren René Wellek, Austin Warren, 1962 René Wellek Martin Bucco, 1981 Theory of Literature [by] René Wellek and Austin Warren René Wellek, 1954 Theory of literature; by Rene Wellek and Austin Warren London., J. Cape René Wellek, Austin Warren, The Attack on Literature and Other Essays Rene Wellek, 2018-07-25 With the erudition that has distinguished his lifelong study of literary criticism Wellek considers the trends theories and quarrels of recent years He continues to insist that criticism whether written by structuralists phenomenologists Marxists or the New Critics makes judgments and also takes into account a common humanity that makes all art accessible to us He also considers the relationship between literature and linguistics and the difficulty of constructing evolutionary models for literary history Originally published in 1982 A UNC Press Enduring Edition UNC Press Enduring Editions use the latest in digital technology to make available again books from our distinguished backlist that were previously out of print These editions are published unaltered from the original and are presented in affordable paperback formats bringing readers both historical and cultural value

Encyclopedia of Contemporary Literary Theory Irene Rima Makaryk, 1993-01-01 The last half of the twentieth century has seen the emergence of literary theory as a new discipline As with any body of scholarship various schools of thought exist and sometimes conflict within it I R Makaryk has compiled a welcome guide to the field Accessible and jargon free the Encyclopedia of Contemporary Literary Theory provides lucid concise explanations of myriad approaches to literature that have arisen over the past forty years Some 170 scholars from around the world have contributed their expertise to this volume Their work is organized into three parts In Part I forty evaluative essays examine the historical and cultural context out of which new schools of and approaches to literature arose The essays also discuss the uses and limitations of the various schools and the key issues they address Part II focuses on individual theorists It provides a more detailed picture of the network of scholars not always easily pigeonholed into the categories of Part I This second section analyses the individual achievements as well as the influence of specific scholars and places them in a larger critical context Part III deals with the vocabulary of literary theory It identifies significant complex terms places them in context and explains their origins and use Accessibility is a key feature of the work By avoiding jargon providing mini bibliographies and cross referencing throughout

Makaryk has provided an indispensable tool for literary theorists and historians and for all scholars and students of contemporary criticism and culture

Theory of Literature René Wellek, 2017-08-07 The naming of this book has been more than ordinarily difficult Even a proper short title Theory of Literature and Methodology of Literary Study would be too cumbersome Before the nineteenth century one might have managed for then a full analytic title could have covered the title page while the spine bore the inscription Literature We have written a book which so far as we know lacks any close parallel It is not a textbook introducing the young to the elements of literary appreciation nor like Morize's Aims and Methods a survey of the techniques employed in scholarly research Some continuity it may claim with Poetics and Rhetoric from Aristotle down through Blair Campbell and Kames systematic treatments of the genres of belles lettres and stylistics or with books called Principles of Literary Criticism But we have sought to unite poetics or literary theory and criticism evaluation of literature with scholarship research and literary history the dynamics of literature in contrast to the statics of theory and criticism It comes nearer to certain German and Russian works Walzel's Gehalt und Gestalt or Julius Petersen's Die Wissenschaft von der Dichtung or Tomashevsky's Literary Theory In contrast to the Germans however we have avoided mere reproductions of the views of others and though we take into account other perspectives and methods have written from a consistent point of view in contrast to Tomashevsky we do not undertake to give elementary instruction on such topics as prosody We are not eclectic like the Germans or doctrinaire like the Russian Concepts of Criticism René Wellek, 1963 Provocative and penetrating these essays attest to Mr Wellek's intense concern during the past two decades with the problems besetting the disciplines of literary theory criticism and history Each essay accordingly sets as its goal the development of a concept that will contribute to better understanding of the literary work Trenchant investigation of such significant critical concepts as baroque romanticism and realism are complemented by illuminating surveys of the current state of literary criticism and related commentaries on contemporary literary theory and scholarship Concepts of Criticism constitutes a valuable statement of Mr Wellek's theoretical position A number of the essays are published for the first time and a bibliography of Mr Wellek's publications is included René Wellek author of A History of Modern Criticism 1750-1950 is Sterling Professor of Comparative Literature at Yale Literary Theory and Criticism Joseph P. Strelka, 1984 Essays on Literature and Music (1967-2004) Steven Paul Scher, 2004 The present volume meets a frequently expressed demand as it is the first collection of all the relevant essays and articles which Steven Paul Scher has written on Literature and Music over a period of almost forty years in the field of Word and Music Studies Scher The Daniel Webster Professor of German and Comparative Literature at Dartmouth College Hanover NH USA is one of the founding fathers of Word and Music Studies and a leading authority in what is in the meantime a well established intermedial field He has published very widely in a variety of journals and collections of essays which until now have not always been easy to lay one's hands on His work covers a wide range of subjects and comprises theoretical methodological and historical studies which include discussions of Ferruccio Busoni Thomas Mann Bertolt Brecht Judith Weir the Talking Heads and many others and which pay special attention to E T A Hoffmann and German Romanticism The range and depth of these studies have made him the mastermind of Word and Music Studies who has defined the basic aims and objectives of the discipline This volume is of interest to literary scholars and musicologists as well as comparatists and all those concerned about the rapidly expanding field of Intermedia Studies

Literary Theory and Criticism Patricia Waugh, 2006 This volume offers a comprehensive account of modern literary criticism presenting the field as part of an ongoing historical and intellectual tradition Featuring thirty nine specially commissioned chapters from an international team of esteemed contributors it fills a large gap in the market by combining the accessibility of single authored selections with a wide range of critical perspectives The volume is divided into four parts Part One covers the key philosophical and aesthetic origins of literary theory while Part Two discusses the foundational movements and thinkers in the first half of the twentieth century Part Three offers introductory overviews of the most important movements and thinkers in modern literary theory and Part Four looks at emergent trends and future directions

Literary Theory and Criticism Joseph P. Strelka,1984 Encyclopaedia of Literature in English M K Bhatnagar,2001 A Compendium Of Literature In English Written In The United Kingdom The Continent America Australia New Zealand Africa The West Indies South Asia And Other Countries Of The Commonwealth Critical Introduction To All Important Authors And Texts In All Essential Details Thematic As Well As Stylistic Indispensable Historical Sociological Cultural Literary And Critical Information To Facilitate A Comprehensive Comparative And Dialogic Discourse A Ready Compilation Of Texts From Different Literary Streams Suitable For Comparative Study An Invaluable Supplement To Conventional Studies Of English American Or Commonwealth Literature An Asset Of Incalculable Worth For Students Teachers Researchers And Scholars Creative Writing and the New Humanities Paul Dawson,2004-08-02 This book examines the institutional history and disciplinary future of creative writing in the contemporary academy looking well beyond the perennial questions can writing be taught and should writing be taught Paul Dawson traces the emergence of creative writing alongside the new criticism in American universities examines the writing workshop in relation to theories of creativity and literary criticism and analyzes the evolution of creative writing pedagogy alongside and in response to the rise of theory in America England and Australia Dawson argues that the discipline of creative writing developed as a series of pedagogic responses to the long standing crisis in literary studies His polemical account provides a fresh perspective on the importance of creative writing to the emergence of the new humanities and makes a major contribution to current debates about the role of the writer as public intellectual Twentieth-Century Literary Theory Vassilis Lambropoulos,David Neal Miller,1987-01-01 The ten topics contained in Twentieth Century Literary Theory reflect contemporary theoretical interests and guide the reader through fundamental questions from the formation to the uses of theory and from the construction to the interpretation of literature The selected essays cover a wealth of scholarship from both the United States and Europe They go beyond traditional categories by focusing on issues rather than writers or critical movements thus providing a forum for the continuing discussion of what theory is and does
