Words on Cassette, 2002 R.R. Bowker Publishing, 2002 Gender Bias in Mystery and Romance Novel Publishing Anna Faktorovich, 2015-04-27 Examines gender bias from the perspective of readers, writers and publishers with a focus on the top two bestselling genres in modern fiction. It is a linguistic literary stylistic and structurally formalist analysis of the male and female sentences in the genres that have the greatest gender divide: romances and mysteries. The analysis will search for the historical roots that solidified what many think of today as a natural division. Virginia Woolf called it the fabricated feminine sentence and other linguists have also identified clear sexpreferential differences in Anglo-American, Swedish and French novels. Do female mystery writers adopt a masculine voice when they write mysteries? Are female-penned mysteries structurally or linguistically different from their male competitors and vice versa among male romance writers? The first part can be used as a textbook for gender stylistics as it provides an indepth review of prior research. The second part is an analysis of the results of a survey on readers' perception of gender in passages from literature. The last part is a linguistic and structural analysis of actual statistical differences between the novels in the two genres considering the impact of the author's gender.
