The Wasted Vigil By Nadeem Aslam:

The Wasted Vigil Nadeem Aslam, 2012-11-02 Marcus Caldwell and English widower and Muslim convert lives in an old perfume factory in the shadow of the Tora Bora mountains in Afghanistan. Lara, a Russian woman, arrives at his home one day in search of her brother, a Soviet soldier who disappeared in the area many years previously and who may have known Marcus's daughter. In the days that follow, further people arrive there, each seeking someone or something. The stories and histories that unfold interweaving and overlapping span nearly a quarter of a century and tell of the terrible afflictions that have plagued Afghanistan as well as the love that can blossom during war and conflict. Islam and the West Sadia Zulfiqar, 2015-06-18 Islam like the West is not a homogenous monolith. However, Islam is most commonly represented in the West in terms of suicide bombing, suppressed and veiled women, and internal and external conflict. These depictions of Islam suggest that the relationship between Islam and the West is and has always been one of hostility and hatred. However, this collection locates threads of connection and love between Islam and the West and argues that it is important to bring them to the forefront.

The Blind Man's Garden Nadeem Aslam, 2013-01-29 Love is not consolation; it is light. From the author of Maps for Lost Lovers comes a searing, exquisitely written novel set in Pakistan and Afghanistan in the months following 9/11. A story of war, of one family's losses, and of the simplest, most enduring human impulses, Jeo and Mikal follows two foster brothers from a small Pakistani city who secretly enter Afghanistan not to fight with the Taliban but to help and care for wounded civilians. But it soon becomes apparent that good intentions can't keep them out of harm's way. From the wilds of Afghanistan to the heart of the family left behind, their blind father haunted for years by the death of his wife by the mistakes he may have made in the name of Islam and nationhood, Jeo's steadfast wife and her superstitious mother, Aslam's prose takes us on an extraordinary journey. Fictions of the War on Terror D. O'Gorman, 2015-06-29 This book argues that there are a number of contemporary novels that challenge the reductive us and them binaries that have been prevalent not only in politics and the global media since 9/11 but also in many works within the emerging genre of 9/11 fiction itself. Contemporary Pakistani Fiction in English Cara N. Cilano, 2013-04-12 Looking at a wide selection of Pakistani novels in English, this book explores how literary texts imaginatively probe the past, convey the present, and project a future in terms that facilitate a sense of collective belonging. The novels discussed cover a range of historical movements and developments, including pre-20th century Islamic history, the 1947 partition, the 1971 Pakistani war, the Zia years, and post-9/11 Pakistan, as well as pervasive themes including ethnonationalist tensions, the zamindari system, and conspiracy thinking. The book offers a range of representations of how and whether collective belonging takes shape and illustrates how the Pakistani novel in English, often overshadowed by the proliferation of the Indian novel in English, complements Pakistani multi-lingual literary imaginaries by presenting alternatives to standard versions of history and by highlighting the issues English language literary production brings to the fore in a broader Pakistani context. It goes on to look at the literary devices and themes used to portray ideas nation and state as a foundation for collective belonging The book illustrates the distinct contributions the Pakistani novel in English makes to the larger fields of postcolonial and South Asian literary and cultural studies

Sacrifice and Modern War Writing Alex Houen, 2024-09-05 Sacrifice and Modern War Writing presents the most extensive study to date of twentieth and twenty first century war writing Examining works by over 110 authors Alex Houen surveys how war writing explores sacrifice in relation to major modern and contemporary conflicts from the First World War to the War on Terror Various conceptions of sacrifice are examined including Christian Jewish Islamic and secular The discussion ranges across literary portrayals of multiple sacrificial practices including ancient rituals of child sacrifice martyrdom scapegoating and suicide bombing Houen builds an innovative interdisciplinary approach to how war sacrifice and their representations interrelate and a wide range of Anglophone literature is discussed including novels memoirs short stories essays manifestoes elegies ballads and lyric poetry Whereas critics and theorists have tended to emphasize that war's reality exceeds any attempt to represent it Houen contends that political religious and cultural frames of sacrifice have continued to play a significant part in shaping how war's reality is shaped and experienced Those frames are inextricably tied to modes of representation which include symbolism and mimesis Sacrifice and Modern War Writing explores how sacrificial killing in war is itself riddled with symbolic transfigurations and mimetic exchanges and it builds a fresh approach by arguing that the figurative and imaginative aspects of literary writing ironically become its very means of engaging closely with the reality of war's sacrifices That approach also develops by using the literary analyses to critique and revise various prominent theories of sacrifice and war

Espionage Fiction in the US and Pakistan Cara Cilano, 2014-05-09 As the events of 11 September 2001 and their aftermath influence new developments in spy fiction as a popular genre an examination of these literary narratives concerned with espionage and terrorism can reshape our approach to non fictive representations of the same concerns Post 9 11 Espionage Fiction in the US and Pakistan examines post 9 11 American spy fictions alongside Pakistani novels that draw upon many of the same figures tropes and conventions As the Pakistani texts replace spy fiction's conventions they offer another vantage point from which to view the affective appeals common to these conventions usual deployment in American texts This book argues that the appropriation by Pakistani writers of these conventions insistently tracks how the formulaic and popular nature of post 9 11 American espionage thrillers forwards and reinforces appropriate affective responses often linked to domestic sites and relations to terrorism It also analyses and compares American and Pakistani representations of the twinned figures of the spy or his proxy and the terrorist a term frequently conflated with fundamentalist The insights of these analyses can serve as interpretive interruptions of non fictive representations of Pakistani US war on terror relations Offering an innovative analysis of the reflection of narrative conventions in our view of the real life events this book will attract scholars with an interest in Pakistani literature Postcolonial literature Asian Studies and Terrorism studies

The Diaspora Writes Home Jasbir Jain, 2017-09-13 This book by eminent author Jasbir Jain explores the many ways the diaspora remembers and reflects upon the lost homeland and their relationship with their own ancestry history of the homeland culture and the current political conflicts Amongst the questions this book asks is how does the diaspora relate to their home and what is the homeland's relationship to the diaspora as representatives of the contemporary homeland in another country The last is an interesting point of discussion since the present of the homeland and of the diaspora cannot be equated The transformations that new locations have brought about as migrants have travelled through time and interacted with the politics of their settled lands Africa Fiji the Caribbean Islands the UK the US Canada as well as the countries created out of British India such as Pakistan and Bangladesh have altered their affiliations and perspectives This book gathers multiple dispersions of emigrant writers and artistes from South Asia across time and space to the various homelands they relate to now The word write is used in its multiplicity to refer to creative expression as an inscription as connectivity and remembrance Writing is also a representation and carries its own baggage of poetics and aesthetics categories which need to be problematised vis vis the writer and his/her emotional location

Hybridity Vanessa Guignery, Catherine Pessio-Miquel, François Specq, 2011-09-22 Over the last two decades the unstable notion of hybridity has been the focus of a number of debates in cultural and literary studies and has been discussed in connection with such notions as métissage creolization syncretism diaspora transculturation and in-betweenness The aim of this volume is to form a critical assessment of the scope significance and role of the notion in literature and the visual arts from the eighteenth century to the present day The contributors propose to examine the development and various manifestations of the concept as a principle held in contempt by the partisans of racial purity a process enthusiastically promoted by adepts of mixing and syncretism but also a notion viewed with suspicion by those who decry its multifarious and triumphalist dimensions and its lack of political roots The notion of hybridity is analysed in relation to the concepts of identity nationhood language and culture drawing from the theories of Mikhail Bakhtin Homi Bhabha Robert Young Paul Gilroy and Édouard Glissant among others Contributors examine forms of hybridity in the work of such canonical writers as Daniel Defoe Robert Louis Stevenson Thomas De Quincey and Victor Hugo as well as in contemporary American and British fiction Neo Victorian and postcolonial literature
