Building Evidence for Active Ageing Policies Asghar Zaidi, Sarah Harper, Kenneth Howse, Giovanni Lamura, Jolanta Perek-Białas, 2018-02-07 This book provides multinational evidence on active and healthy ageing. It generates authoritative new knowledge for mutual learning and policymaking in addressing challenges linked with population ageing. The authors discuss how to achieve better active ageing outcomes through appropriate policies including addressing life course determinants of active and healthy ageing. The chapters are distinctive in their focus on quantitative analysis of active and healthy ageing based on a first of its kind composite measure, the Active Ageing Index, developed during the 2012 European Year for Active Ageing and Solidarity between Generations. Contributors include researchers, civil service representatives, policymakers and other stakeholders from national, regional and European organisations. This edited volume provides a multidisciplinary resource for academics and policy makers in various areas of the social sciences, especially those studying population ageing and its consequences: economists, sociologists, social policy analysts and public health experts. Social Media and Social Work Megele, Claudia, Buzzi, Peter, 2020-07-15 The COVID 19 pandemic has shed fresh light on the ways that social media and digital technologies can be effectively harnessed to support relationship based social work practice. However, it has also highlighted the complex risks, ethics and practical challenges that such technologies pose. This book helps practitioners and students navigate this complex terrain and explore and build upon its multiple opportunities. It uses real life examples to examine how practitioners can assess the impact of new technologies on their professional conduct and use them in a way that enhance public confidence and relationship based practice. The authors explore how digital technologies can support multiple areas of service including social work with children, families and adults, mental health, social work, youth justice and working with online communities. They also consider regulatory questions and provide a roadmap for good practice.

Managing State Fragility Isabel Rocha de Siqueira, 2017-03-27 This book examines the management of state fragility and the practices and impacts of quantification over relations of power in international politics. With the further movement towards quantification and as technical and technological changes advance, this book argues that certain important quantifying practices can be understood in terms of symbolic power, which is more nuanced and subtle. The aim is that such an understanding can also open space for considering other instances of power that are blurred and nuanced in current international politics. By looking at how the merging of conflict and development issues in the fragile states agenda has been fed by and has fed the authority of ever perfectible numbers, the book offers an approach to address the difficulty in dealing with profound inequality without presuming domination. Instead, the example of the G7 group of self-labelled fragile states and its tools indicate that quantification has reached a point of no return, but it has done so through indirect practices of management and with the complicity, so to say, of those deemed least favoured by it. This shows that there is little chance that policy makers and academics can escape dealing with numbers and there is much to be gained by understanding how complex and knowingly imperfect statistics become authoritative and widespread This book will be of much interest to students of critical security studies International Political Sociology development studies and IR in general Women in Neuroscience Marie-Ève Tremblay,Corette J. consequences countries like Colombia where informality and unemployment rates are high lack a proper labour market information system to identify skill mismatches and employer skill requirements One reason for this absence is the cost of collecting labour market data Recently the potential use of online job portals as a source of labour market information has gained the attention of researchers and policymakers since these portals can provide quick and relatively low cost data collection As such these portals could be of use for Colombia However debates continue about the efficacy of this use particularly concerning the robustness of the collected data This book implements a novel mixed methods approach such as web scraping text mining machine learning etc to investigate to what extent a web based model of skill mismatches can be developed for Colombia The main contribution of this book is demonstrating that with the proper techniques job portals can be a robust source of labour market information In doing so it also contributes to current knowledge by developing a conceptual and methodological approach to identify skills occupations and skill mismatches using online job advertisements which would otherwise be too complex to be collected and analysed via other means By applying this novel methodology this study provides new empirical data on the extent and nature of skill mismatches in Colombia for a considerable set of non agricultural occupations in the urban and formal economy Moreover this information can be used as a complement to household surveys to monitor potential skill shortages Thus the findings are useful for policymakers statisticians and education and training providers among others

Practices of Projection Gabriel Menotti, Virginia Crisp, 2020 To many the technological aspects of projection often go unnoticed only brought to attention during moments of crisis or malfunction For example when a movie theater projector falters the audience suddenly looks toward the back of the theater to see a sign of mechanical failure The history of cinema similarly shows that the attention to projection has been most focused when the whole medium is hanging in suspension During Hollywood's economic consolidation in the 30s projection defined the ways that sync sound technologies could be deployed within the medium Most recently the digitization of cinema repeated this process as technology was reworked to facilitate mobility These examples show how projection continually speaks to the rearrangement of media technology Projection therefore needs to be examined as a pivotal element in the future of visual media's technological transition In Practices of Projection Histories and Technologies volume editors Gabriel Menotti and Virginia Crisp address the cultural and technological significance of projection Throughout the volume chapters reiterate that projection cannot and must not be reduced to its cinematic functions alone Borrowing media theorist Siegfried Zielinski's definition Menotti and Crisp refer to projection as the heterogeneous array of artefacts technical systems and particularly visual praxes of experimentation and of culture From this readers can understand the performative character of the moving image and the labor of the different actors involved in the utterance of the film text Projection is not the same everywhere nor equal all the time Its systems are in permanent interaction with environmental circumstances neighboring structures local cultures and social economies Thus the idea of projection as a universal fully autonomous operation cannot hold Each occurrence of projection adds nuance to a wider understanding of film screening technologies Prague and Central Bohemia Martin Ouředníček,2022-10-01 The theme of socio spatial differentiation has belonged to the core issues of social geography and urban studies for a long time The general aim of the book is to describe and explain the current socio spatial differentiation of Prague and the Central Bohemian Region and the processes that have influenced it during the first two decades of the twenty first century The book offers its own theoretical perspective on the structuration of spatial patterns and the social environment a general view of regional development and the main socio spatial processes of the period after transition Maps are an important part of this volume and concentrate crucial information within most chapters Apart from the static information described in the maps the book offers a look at current population processes as hinted at by the subtitle of the publication The presentation and evaluation of processes require more dynamic forms of cartographic visualisation and new methods of investigation Among them new tools of segregation measurement various approaches for the use of mobile phone data and an innovative form of population forecast are presented in the book The common thread connecting all chapters is a regional focus on Prague and the Central Bohemian Region and a quantitative approach to comparing spatial patterns and regional processes California State Publications California State Library,1985 The Year Without a World Series Robert C. Cottrell,2023-09-06 The 1994 Major League Baseball season promised to be memorable Long standing batting and pitching standards were threatened including the revered single season home run record The Montreal Expos and New York Yankees were delivering remarkable campaigns In August acting commissioner Bud Selig called a halt to the season amid the League s latest labor dispute The shutdown led to a lockout as well as cancellation of more than 900 regular season games the scheduled expanded rounds of playoffs and that year s World Series Like all labor struggles it was fundamentally about control of salaries of players ability to decide their own fates and of the game itself This book chronicles Major League Baseball s turbulent 94 season and its ripple effects It highlights earlier labor struggles and the roles performed by individuals from John Montgomery Ward David Fultz and Robert Murphy to Marvin Miller Andy Messersmith Jim Catfish Hunter and Donald Fehr Also examined are the ballplayers own organizations from the Players League of the early 1890s to the still potent Major League Baseball Players Association doing battle with team owners and their representatives Stock Trader's Almanac 2017 Jeffrey A. the business of war and its influence in every aspect of our lives In combining biblical historical theological and ethical analyses of the business of war the authors invite us to better understand it as a new moral problem that demands a new faithful response With contributions from Pamela Brubaker Stan Goff Christina McRorie Logan Mehl Laituri Kara Slade Won Chul Shin David Swartz Jonathan Tran Myles Werntz Matthew Whelan Tobia Winright Class and Everyday Life Kirsteen Paton,2023-11-28 Exploring the issues of class through in depth studies of housing sport art music and politics in Britain Class and Everyday Life persuasively demonstrates the pervasive influence of class on everyday life and the need to centre a radical understanding of class within emancipatory political movements The need for a more expansive understanding of class is politically urgent There is a disconnect between descriptive and analytical approaches to class and the politics of class and realities around how class is lived Discourse has been shaped by top down frameworks of analysis and measurements which have stripped the study of class of its political radicalism This book makes the case for a sociology of class which is informed by a politics of class based upon using the everyday as the point of enquiry It presents a sociology of class from the bottom up which focuses on everyday life and the point at which class is made and remade In doing so it advocates for an attentiveness to class and everyday life through a conjunctural analysis Using an everyday lens this book examines how the shifting conjunctures manifest in everyday spaces in classed ways and how such changes are negotiated resisted and shape the working class subject and communities This is based upon an understanding of everyday classed experiences which identifies and challenges inequalities while also recognising value and hope This perspective aims to offer a recognition of both the opportunities and challenges of class as a way of developing a stronger more politicised understanding of class which takes solidarity and class community power seriously to resist inequality and develop emancipatory politics This urgent and impassioned book will be essential reading for students academics and activists with an interest in the lived experience of class in Britain today
