Steampunk Film Robbie McAllister,2019-03-07 Steampunk Film A Critical Introduction is a concise and accessible overview of steampunk s indelible impact within film and acts as a case study for examining the ways with which genres hybridize and coalesce into new forms Since the beginning of the 21st century a series of high profile and big budget films have adopted steampunk identities to re imagine periods of industrial development into fantastical histories where future meets past By calling this growing mass cultural fetishism for anachronistic machines into question this book examines how a retro futuristic romanticism for technology powered by cogs pistons and steam engines has taken center stage in blockbuster cinema As the first monograph to consider cinema s unique relationship with steampunk it places this burgeoning genre in the context of ongoing debates within film theory each of which reflecting the movement s remarkable interest in reengineering historical technologies Rather than acting as a niche subculture Robbie McAllister argues that steampunk s proliferation in mainstream filmmaking reflects a desire to reassess contemporary relationships with technology and navigate the intense changes that the medium itself is experiencing in the 21st century

Heroes, Heroines, and Everything in Between Christopher J. Olson,CarrieLynn D. Reinhard,2017-09-20 Current characters in children s entertainment media illustrate a growing trend of representations that challenge or subvert traditional notions of gender and sexuality From films to picture books to animated television series children s entertainment media around the world has consistently depicted stereotypically traditional gender roles and heterosexual relationships as the normal way that people act and engage with one another Heroes Heroines and Everything in Between Challenging Gender and Sexuality Stereotypes in Children's Entertainment Media examines how this media ecology now includes a presence for nonheteronormative genders and sexualities. It considers representations of such identities in various media products e.g. comic books, television shows, animated films, films, children's literature meant for children e.g. toddlers to teenagers. The contributors seek to identify and understand characterizations that go beyond these traditional understandings of gender and sexuality. By doing so they explore these nontraditional representations and consider what they say about the current state of children's entertainment media, popular culture and global acceptance of these gender identities and sexualities. Educating Students in Poverty Mark Lineburg, Rex Gearheart, 2013-10-02

Since the nineteenth century it has been assumed that the concept of personal identity in the early modern period is bound up with secularization. Indeed, many explanations of the emergence of modernity have been based on this thesis in which Shakespeare as a secular author has played a central role. However, the idea of secularization is now everywhere under threat. The secularity of modern society is less apparent than it was a generation ago. Shakespeare too has come to be seen in a religious perspective. What happens to human identity in this different framework? Mortal Thoughts asks what selfhood looks like if we do not assume that an idea of the self could only come into being as a result of an emptying out of a religious framework. It does so by examining human mortality. What it is to be human and how a life is framed by its ending are issues that cross religious confessions in early modernity and interrogate the sacred and secular divide. A series of chapters examines literature and art in relation to concepts such as conscience, martyrdom, soliloquy, luck, suicide and embodiment. Religious and philosophical creativity are revealed as poised around anxieties about finitude and contingency, challenging conventional divisions between kinds of literary and artistic endeavour. Mortal Thoughts considers incipient genres of life writing. More Foxe and Montaigne and life drawing. Dürer, Hans Baldung Grien in relation to dramatic representation and literary narration. Shakespeare, Donne, Milton. In the process it asks whether the problem of human identity rewrites historical boundaries. Federalism in Central and Eastern Europe Rudolf
