USPTO Image File Wrapper Petition Decisions 0160 ,      The Halberd at Red Cliff Xiaofei Tian,2020-10-26 The turn of the third century CE known as the Jian'an era or Three Kingdoms period holds double significance for the Chinese cultural tradition. Its writings laid the foundation of classical poetry and literary criticism. Its historical personages and events have also inspired works of poetry, fiction, drama, film, and art throughout Chinese history, including Internet fantasy literature today. There is a vast body of secondary literature on these two subjects individually but very little on their interface. The image of the Jian'an era with its feasting, drinking, heroism, and literary panache, as well as intense male friendship, was to return time and again in the romanticized narrative of the Three Kingdoms. How did Jian'an bifurcate into two distinct nostalgias, one of which was the first paradigmatic embodiment of wen (literary) graces, cultural patterning, and the other of wu (heroic martial) virtue? How did these largely segregated nostalgias negotiate with one another? And how is the predominantly male world of the Three Kingdoms appropriated by young women in contemporary China? The Halberd at Red Cliff investigates how these associations were closely related in their complex origins and then came to be divergent in their later metamorphoses.

Letters and Epistolary Culture in Early Medieval China Antje Richter,2013-06-09 Honorable Mention for the 2016 Kayden Book Award This first book-length study in Chinese or any Western language of personal letters and letter writing in premodern China focuses on the earliest period ca. 3rd-6th cent. CE with a sizeable body of surviving correspondence. Along with the translation and analysis of many representative letters, Antje Richter explores the material culture of letter writing: writing supports and utensils, envelopes and seals, the transportation of finished letters, and letter writing conventions, vocabulary, textual patterns, topicality, creativity. She considers the status of letters as a literary genre, ideal qualities of letters, and guides to letter writing, providing a wealth of examples to illustrate each component of the standard personal letter. References to letter writing in other cultures enliven the narrative throughout. Letters and Epistolary Culture in Early Medieval China makes the social practice and the existing textual specimens of personal Chinese letter writing fully visible for the first time, both for the various branches of Chinese studies and for epistolary research in other ancient and modern cultures, and encourages a more confident and consistent use of letters as historical and literary sources.

Memory in Medieval China: Text, Ritual, and Community ,2018-06-05 Memory is not an inert container but a dynamic process. It can be structured by ritual, constrained by textual genre, and shaped by communities' expectations and reception. Urging a particular view of the past on readers is a complex rhetorical act. The collective reception of portrayals of the past often carries weighty implications for the present and future. The essays collected in this volume investigate various aspects of memory in medieval China ca. 100-900 CE as performed in various genres of writing, from poetry to anecdotes, from history to tomb epitaphs. They illuminate ways in which the memory of individual persons, events, dynasties, and literary styles was constructed and revised through processes of writing and reading.
