rural livelihoods which are intimately connected to ecological services many developing countries It finds that African communities and governments are prioritising green economy for job creation poverty alleviation and reducing inequalities while addressing global environmental concerns What remains problematic however is how these objectives are to be achieved The paper argues that one of the key challenges in South Africa is the gap between policy and implementation of sustainable development the Millennium Development Goals and other globally driven initiatives The paper emphasises that green economy policy needs to consider poverty reduction and women s empowerment in order to promote rural sustainable development Publisher description Reducing Inequalities Rémi Genevey,R. K. Pachauri,Laurence Tubiana,2013-01-01 The reduction of inequalities within and between countries stands as a policy goal and deserves to take centre stage in the design of the Sustainable Development Goals agreed during the Rio 20 Summit in 2012 The 2013 edition of A Planet for Life represents a unique international initiative grounded on conceptual and strategic thinking and most importantly empirical experiments conducted on five continents and touching on multiple realities This unprecedented collection of works proposes a solid empirical approach rather than an ideological one to inform future debate The case studies collected in this volume demonstrate the complexity of the new systems required to accommodate each country s specific economic political and cultural realities These systems combine technical financial legal fiscal and organizational elements with a great deal of applied expertise and are articulated within a clear well understood growth and job generating development strategy Inequality reduction does not occur by decree neither does it automatically arise through economic growth nor through policies that equalize incomes downward via ill conceived fiscal policies Inequality reduction involves a collaborative effort that must motivate all concerned parties one that constitutes a genuine political and social innovation and one that often runs counter to prevailing political and economic forces Tackling Inequalities in Brazil, China, India and South Africa The Role of Labour Market and Social Policies OECD,2010-10-21 This book focuses on the role of growth and employment unemployment developments in explaining recent income inequality trends in Brazil China India and South Africa and discusses the roles played by labour market and social policies in both shaping and addressing these inequalities

Condemned Again Skhumbuzo Letlaka,2015-01-31 The work was conceived over a number of years and it relates to the manner in which African leaders govern their countries after independence Its main focus is on the South African politics under apartheid where racism and racial segregation was the order of the day and where white supremacy implied black inferiority It looks at a number of issues including humiliation and brutality that led to the United Nations declaring apartheid as crime against humanity It focuses on the processes leading to the build up of pressures that forced the racist government to accede to the demands of the international community and also bow to internal pressures which were exerted by the South African people themselves This book is written by a comrade who grew up in the township of Clermont a student of politics under the tutelage of Archie Gumede a man who rubbed shoulders with radicals such as Patrick Terror

Lekota and Diliza Mji amongst others and a staunch Catholic whose wedding was conducted by Archbishop Denis Hurley Skhumbuzo Letlaka is a product of a township struggle stay aways consumer boycotts strikes school boycotts street committees and their tight discipline kangaroo courts and the application of the Mandela Plan
