Report Card Hilary R. Persky,Brent A. Sandene,Janice M. Askew,1998 The last several years have seen a growing resolve among educators and policymakers to assure the place of a solid arts education in U S schools In 1997 the National Assessment of Educational Progress NAEP conducted a national assessment in the arts at grade 8 The assessment included the areas of music theater and visual arts For each of these arts areas this Report Card describes the achievement of eighth graders within the general population and in various subgroups Taken with the information provided about instructional and institutional variables this report gives a context for evaluating the status of students learning in the arts The arts assessment was designed to measure the content specifications described in the arts framework for NAEP The arts have a unique capacity to integrate intellect emotions and physical skills in the creation of meaning Meaningful arts assessments need to be built around three arts processes creating performing and responding To capture these processes the arts assessment exercises included authentic tasks that assessed students knowledge and skills and constructed response and multiple choice questions that explore students abilities to describe analyze interpret and evaluate works of art in written form Data are reported in overall summaries for creating performing and responding in terms of student and school reported background variables Student results for theater are discussed in terms of teacher reported background variables as well The major findings of the assessment are that a large percentage of grade 8 students attend schools in which music and visual arts were taught usually by specialists most students attended schools in which instruction following district or state curricula was offered in music and visual arts but not in theater or dance and most visual arts and music instruction took place in school facilities that were dedicated to that subject JH Art and the End of Apartheid John Pepper, 2009 Black South African artists have typically had their work labeled African art or township art qualifiers that when contrasted with simply modernist art have been used to marginalize their work both in South Africa and internationally This is the first book to fully explore cosmopolitan modern art by black South Africans under apartheid Naked Truths: Adventures in Art George Rufus Harman, 2025-02-21 An erotic and often humorous memoir of a male life model in the UK This is the story of a man's unconventional upbringing in the Australian outback a boy who became obsessed with art books art and ballet He was introduced to these creative outlets by his mum who recognised that as a hyperactive kid he was only ever still when he had his nose in art books His mum also recognised the need to combine and focus his creative interests with disciplined physical activity She therefore saw fit to introduce him to ballet classes at the age of six The story unfolds building on the influence of women in his early life as he completes his ballet exams and moves to live and work in the UK as a dancer actor and life model What was intended as a gap year in the UK became his permanent country of residence An early fortuitous meeting with a professional female artist in London led him to become immersed in the art world as a professional male life model initially to supplement his income but mainly to satisfy his first love of expressive figurative art This in turn led him into a number of erotic and sometimes bizarre sexual encounters and situations with female creatives in environments where they felt adventurous and secure enough to express and indulge in their own fantasies with him What Makes an Artwork Great? Michael H. Mitias, 2024-06-04 Michael Mitias presents explains and defends in some detail the features that make an artwork great magic universality and the test of time Although some aestheticians beginning with Longinus discussed these features during the past two millennia they did not analyze them comprehensively nor did they justify them from the standpoint of a satisfactory conception of the nature of art In this book the author first explains the nature of the features that make an artifact art and then proceeds to establish the validity of his thesis on firm epistemological and ontological foundations In his endeavor to explicate the nature of this foundation the author answers four questions First what is the genesis of the artwork What makes it art He answers this question by advancing a concept of aesthetic depth The essence of this depth is human meaning Second under what perceptual conditions does this depth come to life in the process of aesthetic perception Third what is the role of the concept of aesthetic depth in the analysis of the nature of the great artwork How does the concept of aesthetic depth function as a principle of explanation Fourth how can we justify the attribution of magic universality and the test of time to the great work of art In short an understanding of the genesis of the artwork aesthetic depth aesthetic value and aesthetic perception is indispensable for an adequate conception of greatness in art Women Artists in the United States Paula L.
