

Considerations for Scheduling for CRCT and CRCT Retest

- There are important considerations to keep in mind when seeking to ensure that your main and retest windows are scheduled to allow for the receipt of PL 1 reports in a timeframe that offers adequate time for timely parent notification, for preparation of materials/online test setup, and for required remediation and instructional support to students. Careful planning is needed – especially in instances where a district elects to test both late in the main administration window and also retest before the close of school (for many districts this will be the week of May 19 this year).
- CTB provides a 5 business day turnaround for electronic posting of PL 1 summaries. This can also be calculated as 8 days (to account for weekends) from the pickup date with the pickup date counting as day 1.
- The 5 business day turnaround applies after the representative sample has been reached. To use as a reference, for 2013, the representative sample was met the week of April 29. Dependent upon a district's last day of school, those that test early in the window should have ample time to prepare and complete retesting prior to the close of school.
