,2023-11-02 COVID wrought havoc on the world's economic systems. Higher education did not escape the ravages brought on by the pandemic as institutions of higher education around the world faced major upheavals in their educational delivery systems. Some institutions were prepared for the required transition to online learning. Most were not. Whether prepared or not, educators rose to the challenge. The innovativeness of educators met the challenges as digital learning replaced the face-to-face environment. In fact, some of the distance models proved so engaging that many students no longer desire a return to the face-to-face model. As with all transitions, some things were lost while others were gained. This book examines practice in the field as institutions struggled to face the worst global pandemic in the last century. The book is organized into four sections on Perils and Promises, The State of Online Education, Goals and Challenges of Online Learning, and Innovations in the Age of COVID. It presents various perspectives from educators around the world to illustrate the struggles and triumphs of those facing new challenges and implementing new ideas to empower the educational process. These discussions shed light on the impact of the pandemic and the future of higher education post-COVID. Higher education has been forever changed and higher education as it once was may never return. While many questions arise, the achievements in meeting and overcoming the pandemic illustrate the creativity and innovativeness of educators around the world who inspired future generations of learners to reach new heights of accomplishment even in the face of the pandemic.

Financing Higher Education Worldwide D. Bruce Johnstone, Pamela N. Marcucci, 2010-06-07 No issue in higher education is as salient or as controversial as finance. As demand for higher education around the world grows, so do the costs associated with it, especially as governments shoulder less of the burden. Tuition fees rise and student loan debt grows. Who pays for these surging costs? Who should pay? D. Bruce Johnstone and Pamela N. Marcucci examine the universal phenomenon of cost sharing in higher education where financial responsibility shifts from governments and taxpayers to students and families. They find that growing costs for education far outpace public revenue streams that once supported it. Even with financial aid and scholarships defraying some of these costs, students are responsible for a greater share of the cost of higher education. Featuring comprehensive economic and policy data, the authors' international comparative approach shows how economically diverse countries all face similar cost sharing challenges. So, who should pay for higher education? While cost sharing is both politically and ideologically debated, Johnstone and Marcucci contend that for almost all countries it is imperative for the financial health of colleges and universities, bringing better efficiency, equity, and responsiveness.

Financing Higher Education Worldwide combines sophisticated economic explanations with sensitive political and cultural analyses of the financial pressures facing higher education throughout the world.

Student Financing of Higher Education Donald Heller, Claire Callender, 2013-06-07 The financing of higher education is undergoing great change in many countries around the world. In recent years, many countries are moving from a system where the costs of funding higher education are shouldered primarily by taxpayers through government subsidies to one where students pay a larger share of the costs. There are a number of factors driving these trends including A push for massification of higher education in the recognition that additional revenue streams are required above and beyond those funds available from governments in order to achieve higher participation rates Macroeconomic factors which lead to constraints on overall government revenues Political factors which manifest in demands for funding of over services thus restricting the funding available for higher tertiary education A concern that the returns to higher education accrue primarily to the individual rather than to society and thus students should bear more of the burden of paying for it This volume will help to contribute to an understanding of how these trends occur in various countries and regions around the world and the impact they have on higher education institutions students and society as a whole With contributions for the UK USA South Africa and China this vital new book gives a truly global picture of the rapidly changing situation

Higher Education Pathways Ashwin, Paul, Case, Jennifer M., 2018-12-14 In what ways does access to undergraduate education have a transformative impact on people and societies What conditions are required for this impact to occur What are the pathways from an undergraduate education to the public good including inclusive economic development These questions have particular resonance in the South African higher education context which is attempting to tackle the challenges of widening access and improving completion rates in a system in which the segregations of the apartheid years are still apparent Higher education is recognised in core legislation as having a distinctive and crucial role in building post apartheid society Undergraduate education is seen as central to addressing skills shortages in South Africa It is also seen to yield significant social returns including a consistent positive impact on societal institutions and the development of a range of capabilities that have public as well as private benefits This book offers comprehensive contemporary evidence that allows for a fresh engagement with these pressing issues The Youth Dividend Jan H. Hofmeyr, 2012

Going to University Case, Jennifer, Marshall, Delia, 2018-02-09 Around the world more young people than ever before are attending university Student numbers in South Africa have doubled since democracy and for many families higher education is a route to a better future for their children But alongside the overwhelming demand for higher education questions about its purposes have intensified Deliberations about the curriculum culture and costing of public higher education abound from student activists academics parents civil society and policy makers We know from macro research that South African graduates generally have good employment prospects But little is known at a detailed level about how young people actually make use of their university experiences to craft their life courses And even less is known about what happens to those who drop out This accessible book brings together the rich life stories of 73 young people six years after they began their university studies It traces how going to university influences not only their employment options but also nurtures the agency needed to chart their own way and to engage critically with the world around them The book offers deep insights into the ways in which public higher education is both a private and public good and it provides significant conclusions pertinent to anyone who works in and cares about universities

Postgraduate Research Engagement in Low Resource Settings

Atibuni, Dennis Zami, 2019-09-27 The general academic progression and particularly research engagement of postgraduate students is characterized by various problems such as high dropout rates longer completion times low graduation rates and high repetition or retake rates This means that there are far fewer students pursuing postgraduate studies at tertiary institutions and universities than there are at the lower levels of education Yet there is growing demand for postgraduate education given its strong projected association with socioeconomic transformation at national and international levels among developed and developing countries alike Postgraduate Research Engagement in Low Resource Settings sets out to garner strategies for fostering efficiency of research conduct among the students and faculty so as to enhance high quality output for the envisaged personal societal national and international socioeconomic transformation Covering a range of topics such as intellectual property mental health and quality assurance this book is ideal for research supervisors higher education faculty librarians educators administrators researchers academicians and students

Let's Talk About Varsity, 2009 Education and Leadership Tom Claes, Frank McMahon, David Seth Preston, 2008 This truly international book brings together authors from different regions of the world including North America South Africa Europe Iran and Russia all of whom are concerned with aspects of the challenges involved in the expansion of higher education both in student numbers and areas of study Some are concerned about the loss of guiding principles which steered university education for centuries The traditional purposes of higher education have come under such pressure that we have achieved conflicting models of the university Claes and ambiguity in regard to teaching and research Simons et al For others the problems are at a different stage Contributions from South Africa look at three challenges Can we provide enough places in higher education How do we deal with institutional mergers How do we make staff development effective in a situation in which English is the first language of less than five percent of the staff Young scholars in Russian regions face formidable hurdles in achieving academic careers while the best law graduates in Canada are faced with the ethical dilemma of personal career advancement or social justice Topsakal The problem of integrating nursing into a traditional Irish university is reviewed by Grant while the role of a university in regional development is addressed from a Greek perspective by Papaelias et al The comparative international approach features in research into teacher job satisfaction in India and Iran while McMahon reviews the impact of the Bologna Process

Accessing Post-School Studies Venica McGhie,2017-12-01 This publication makes a valuable contribution to often problematic and pertinent South African higher education issues such as student access and success student learning student support and student engagement In this regard the authors draw on the works of higher education theorists such as Kuh Tinto Marton and Saeljoe The book is primarily a helpful resource for South African learners in school students at universities life orientation teachers as well as parents of prospective university students It will especially assist students to adapt to the university environment ETDP SETA Scarce & Critical Skills Guide 2010/11 , Discrimination in an Unequal World Miguel Angel Centeno,Katherine S. Newman,2010-09 Is globalization making our world more equal or less Proponents of globalization argue that it is helping and that in a competitive world no one can afford to discriminate except on the basis of skills Opponents counter that globalization does nothing but provide a meritocratic patina on a consistently unequal distribution of opportunity Yet despite the often deafening volume of the debate there is surprisingly little empirical work available on the extent to which the process of globalization over the past quarter century has had any effect on discrimination Tackling this challenge Discrimination in an Unequal World explores the relationship between discrimination and unequal outcomes in the appropriate geographical and historical context Noting how each society tends to see its particular version of discrimination as universal and obvious the editors expand their set of cases to include a broad variety of social relations and practices However since methods differ and are often designed for particular national circumstances they set the much more ambitious and practical goal of establishing a base with which different forms of discrimination across the world can be compared Derived from a broad array of methods the book draws many important lessons on the new means by which the world creates social hierarchies the democratization of inequality and the disappearance of traditional categories QUALITY OF LIFE SURVEY V (2017/18) THE QUALITY OF LIFE OF STUDENTS IN GAUTENG Christian Hamann,Kate Joseph,2020-07-29 GCRO Data Brief on quality of life of students Utilisation of South African Research on Higher Education Jan Botha ,Gabriele Vilyte ,2021-10-26 The relationship between research on the one hand and policy practice on the other hand is complicated and collaboration between scholars in research on higher education RHE and institutional research IR practitioners is often lacking This book marks a collaborative effort of a diverse range of South African RHE and IR scholars and asks the overarching questions What do we know about the utilisation of South African research on higher education SARHE and its subset of research known as Institutional Research How and by whom is this research used The book begins by looking at the historical underpinnings of SARHE and delineating the shape and size of this body of research This is followed by a series of case studies on South African Higher Education institutions and governmental bodies investigating how when and by whom are research on higher education and institutional research used in the decision making of these organisations This book is the first of its kind in South Africa and sets out to lay the groundwork for further research into the use uptake and utilisation of RHE and IR in this country Handbook of the Economics of Education Eric A. Hanushek, F. Welch, 2006-11-29 Vol 4 edited by Eric A Hanushek Stephen Machin Ludger Woessmann What is the value of an education Volume 4 combines recent data with new methodologies to examine this and related questions from diverse perspectives School choice and school competition educator incentives the college premium and other considerations help make sense of the investments and returns associated with education
