Yasemin Kirkgöz, Ali Karakaş, 2022-02-17 This book examines the phenomenon of English Medium Instruction EMI in Turkish higher education using research based findings and review based discussions with a critical focus on diverse aspects of EMI Particularly it addresses issues under four major themes EMI policy and the macro level context teaching practices in EMI learning experiences in EMI and future directions for EMI in Turkey English as the Medium of Instruction in Turkish Higher Education Policy Practice in Action and Future Directions comprehensively examines the EMI phenomenon by taking Turkey as a case study and it exclusively explores existing issues against different conceptual frameworks and theoretical foundations. It also explores novel issues around EMI such as EMI assessment, EMI classroom interaction and technology enhanced EMI teacher training. Written by established experts in the field, this volume will be of particular interest to scholars of English for Academic Purposes, English Medium Instruction and Applied Linguistics, as well as postgraduate students of Applied Linguistics, English as a Lingua Franca, English for Academic Purposes and language and education policy. The book might also appeal to policy makers both in Turkey and in international education seeking blueprints to align their avowed principles and ground realities for purposes of effective practices.

Teaching English for Academic Purposes (EAP) in Japan Rachael Ruegg, Clay Williams, 2018-03-09 This book focuses on appropriate English for Academic Purposes instructional concepts and methods in the Japanese context. It investigates a variety of pedagogical techniques addressing the fundamental academic English skills: listening, speaking, reading and writing, as well as assessment and materials development. All the research included was conducted in Japanese university settings, thus shedding new light on the effective implementation of EAP teaching and learning activities with Japanese learners of English. This book is of interest to anyone working in an EAP context at the secondary or tertiary level, especially those which include Japanese learners.

Critical Approaches to Teaching the High School Novel Crag Hill, Victor Malo-Juvera, 2018-10-25 This edited collection will turn a critical spotlight on the set of texts that has constituted the high school canon of literature for decades. By employing a set of fresh, vibrant critical lenses such as youth studies and disabilities studies that are often unfamiliar to advanced students and scholars of secondary English, this book provides divergent approaches to traditional readings and pedagogical practices surrounding these familiar works. By introducing and applying these interpretive frames to the field of secondary English education, this book demonstrates that there is more to say about these texts: ways to productively problematize them and to reconfigure how they may be read and used in the classroom.

The Pedagogy of English as an International Language Roby Marlina, Ram Ashish Giri, 2014-06-23 This volume offers insights in current theoretical discussions, observations and reflections from internationally and regionally celebrated scholars on the theory and practice of teaching English informed by a new school of thought: English as an International Language (EIL). This volume provides readers, scholars, teachers, teacher educators, researchers in the relevant fields with knowledge of the changing paradigm and attitudes towards English language teaching, from teaching a single variety of English to teaching intercultural communication and English language variation. Current thoughts on the theory of teaching English as an international language by internationally celebrated established scholars and emergent scholars. Scholarly descriptions and discussions of how English language educators and teacher educators translate the paradigm of English as an International Language into their existing teaching. Delineation of how this newly emerged paradigm is received or responded to by English language educators and students when it is implemented. Readers have a unique opportunity to observe and read the tensions and dilemmas that educators and students are likely to experience in teaching and learning EIL

International Perspectives on Teachers Living with Curriculum Change Martin Wedell, Laura Grassick, 2017-11-10 This book gives a voice to English language teachers faced with the challenges posed by English language curriculum change As a core component of national state system curricula in virtually every country in the world there has nevertheless been little research exploring how the millions of English teachers worldwide navigate the challenges posed by such curriculum changes This volume includes eleven stories from teachers based across every continent providing a global glimpse of how national English curriculum change projects have been experienced by classroom teachers who are commonly if erroneously viewed as mostly responsible for its implementation success or failure The final chapter synthesises these experiences and suggests wider implications for the development of curriculum change planning processes and how they might better support teachers attempts to achieve curriculum goals Edited and authored by leading experts in the field this ground breaking collection will be of interest to students and scholars of English language teaching teacher education curriculum change and education policy
