workshop supported by RILEM and ACI was held in Bergamo Italy in 2004 At that time a lack of specific building codes and standards was identified as the main inhibitor to the application of this technology in engineering practice. The workshop aim was placed on the identification of applications guidelines and research needs in order for this advanced technology to be transferred to professional practice The second international FRC workshop held in Montreal Canada in 2014 was the first ACI fib joint technical event Many of the objectives identified in 2004 had been achieved by various groups of researchers who shared a common interest in extending the application of FRC materials into the realm of structural engineering and design The aim of the workshop was to provide the State of the Art on the recent progress that had been made in term of specifications and actual applications for buildings underground structures and bridge projects worldwide The rapid development of codes the introduction of new materials and the growing interest of the construction industry suggested presenting this forum at closer intervals In this context the third international FRC workshop was held in Desenzano Italy four years after Montreal In this first ACI fib RILEM joint technical event the maturity gained through the recent technological developments and large scale applications were used to show the acceptability of the concrete design using various fibre compositions. The growing interests of civil infrastructure owners in ultra high performance fibre reinforced concrete UHPFRC and synthetic fibres in structural applications bring new challenges in terms of concrete technology and design recommendations In such a short period of time we have witnessed the proliferation of the use of fibres as structural reinforcement in various applications such as industrial floors elevated slabs precast tunnel lining sections foundations as well as bridge decks We are now moving towards addressing many durability based design requirements by the use of fibres as well as the general serviceability based design However the possibility of having a residual tensile strength after cracking of the concrete matrix requires a new conceptual approach for a proper design of FRC structural elements With such a perspective in mind the aim of FRC2018 workshop was to provide the State of the Art on the recent progress in terms of specifications development actual applications and to expose users and researchers to the challenges in the design and construction of a wide variety of structural applications Considering that at the time of the first workshop in 2004 no structural codes were available on FRC we have to recognize the enormous work done by researchers all over the world who have presented at many FRC events and convinced code bodies to include FRC among the reliable alternatives for structural applications This will allow engineers to increasingly utilize FRC with confidence for designing safe and durable structures Many presentations also clearly showed that FRC is a promising material for efficient rehabilitation of existing infrastructure in a broad spectrum of repair applications These cases range from sustained gravity loads to harsh environmental conditions and seismic applications which are some of the broadest ranges of applications in Civil Engineering The workshop was attended by researchers designers owner and government representatives as well as participants from the construction and fibre industries The presence of people with different expertise provided a unique opportunity to share knowledge and promote collaborative efforts These interactions are essential for the common goal of making better and sustainable constructions in the near future The workshop was attended by about 150 participants coming from 30 countries Researchers from all the continents participated in the workshop including 24 Ph D students who brought their enthusiasm in FRC structural applications For this reason the workshop Co chairs sincerely thank all the enterprises that sponsored this event They also extend their appreciation for the support provided by the industry over the last 30 years which allowed research centers to study FRC materials and their properties and develop applications to making its use more routine and accepted throughout the world Their important contribution has been essential for moving the knowledge base forward Finally we appreciate the enormous support received from all three sponsoring organizations of ACI fib and Rilem and look forward to paying the path for future collaborations in various areas of common interest so that the developmental work and implementation of new specifications and design procedures can be expedited internationally Design Procedures for the Use of Composites in Strengthening of Reinforced Concrete Structures Carlo Pellegrino, José Sena-Cruz, 2015-08-25 This book analyses the current knowledge on structural behaviour of RC elements and structures strengthened with composite materials experimental analytical and numerical approaches for EBR and NSM particularly in relation to the above topics and the comparison of the predictions of the current available codes recommendations guidelines with selected experimental results The book shows possible critical issues discrepancies lacunae relevant parameters test procedures etc related to current code predictions or to evaluate their reliability in order to develop more uniform methods and basic rules for design and control of FRP strengthened RC structures General problems critical issues are clarified on the basis of the actual experiences detect discrepancies in existing codes lacunae in knowledge and concerning these identified subjects provide proposals for improvements The book will help to contribute to promote and consolidate a more qualified and conscious approach towards rehabilitation and strengthening existing RC structures with composites and their possible monitoring Electromembrane Processes Luigi Gurreri ,Alessandro Tamburini ,Giorgio Micale,2021-09-08 Electromembrane processes offer a multitude of applications allowing for the recovery of water other products and energy This book is a collection of contributions on recent advancements in electromembrane processes attained via experiments and or models The first paper is a comprehensive review article on the applications of electrodialysis for wastewater treatment highlighting current status technical challenges and key points for future perspectives. The second paper focuses on ZSM 5 zeolite PVA mixed matrix CEMs with high monovalent permselectivity for recovering either acid or Li The third paper regards direct numerical simulations of electroconvection in an electrodialysis dilute channel with forced flow under potentiodynamic and galvanodynamic regimes The fourth paper investigates the reasons for the formation and properties of soliton like charge waves in overlimiting conditions The fifth paper focuses on the characterization of AEMs functionalized by surface modification via poly acrylic acid yielding monovalent permselectivity for reverse electrodialysis In the sixth paper

CFD simulations of reverse electrodialysis systems are performed The seventh paper proposes an integrated membrane process including electrochemical intercalation deintercalation for the preparation of Li2CO3 from brine with a high Mg2 Li mass ratio Finally the eighth paper is a perspective article devoted to the acid base flow battery with monopolar and bipolar Advances in Structural Mechanics and Applications José António Fonseca de Oliveira membranes Correia, Satvabrata Choudhury, Subhrajit Dutta, 2022-06-07 The proceedings of the conference is going to benefit the researchers academicians students and professionals in getting enlightened on latest technologies on structural mechanics structure and infrastructure engineering Further work on practical applications of developed scientific methodologies to civil structural engineering will make the proceedings more interesting and useful to practicing engineers and structural designers Isotopes in Economic Geology, Metallogenesis and Exploration David Huston, Jens Gutzmer, 2023-06-19 This open access book documents the use of radiogenic and stable isotopes to study mineral deposits from a global to the deposit scale It includes data sets that have been directly used in mineral exploration Isotopic data have been key to developing models for the origin of many mineral deposit types The book has four sections 1 the use of radiogenic isotopes to date mineral deposits 2 the use of radiogenic isotope mapping to understand metal sources and regional to district scale controls on metallogenesis 3 the use of light stable isotopes to determine fluid and sulfur sources and 4 the use of metallic stable isotopes to understand the sources of ore metals Each section includes chapters on specific isotopic systems and or mineral systems that provide information on theory analytical methods uses in deposit and metallogenic studies examples and traps for young players
