The daughter of Pakistani and Indian migrants, she had never lived in South Asia. Raised to be a good Muslim girl, she struggled to reconcile these cultural expectations with her desire for equality and acceptance. After she met Yasser, a Pakistani law student, they returned to their ancestral country and married. Little did they know that a brain tumor would become an almost lethal third wheel in their relationship. The cancer gnawed at Yasser's personality, provoking aggressive outbursts. The illness explained Yasser's violence, Aisha told herself, but at what point did it become the excuse? She began to see their marriage within a bigger picture of women's place in an oppressive society and of the tug between feminist principles and personal happiness. Between Africa, the USA, and Pakistan, this is a unique story of abuse and trauma, identity and belonging, misogyny and motherhood, patriarchy and power. With searing honesty and political passion, Heart Tantrums and Brain Tumors reveals one woman's battle to redefine the rules by fighting for and sometimes
