ATLS, Advanced Trauma Life Support for Doctors, 2008-01-01 Trauma Operative Procedures G. Berlot, H. Delooz, A. Gullo, 2012-12-06 Trauma has assumed a prominent role in contemporary medicine as an event that can significantly influence clinical variables such as morbidity functional deficits and consequential disability and mortality Trauma is the principal cause of death in the population below 40 years of age in industrialized countries Therefore there is great interest in studying traumatic events from both the clinical and epidemiological viewpoints The importance of trauma is exemplified by the fact that in many countries the trauma patient is first treated in specialized trauma centers in which the diagnostic and treatment processes are facilitated by the 24 hour presence of personnel having interdisciplinary competencies Trauma in this context consists of any acute often unexpected condition Many of the medical difficulties associated with trauma occur in a relatively brief period that spans from the first call for help to the initiation of first aid measures A correct approach depends on the availability of experienced personnel The first measures of aid must guarantee above all the patient's survival The most critical initial phases of care to trauma patients are represented by the triad first aid triage and transport Specific morbidity indices whether anatomical functional or mixed are indispensable elements for monitoring a patient's clinical evolution The immediate availability of essential drugs is imperative to confront the clinical situations that often present in the acute post traumatic phase Intensive Care for Emergency Surgeons Edoardo Picetti, Bruno M. INTRODUCTION TO THE JOINT TRAUMA SYSTEM JTS

The Joint Trauma System JTS is the Department of Defense DoD authority for the military s trauma care system The vision of the Joint Trauma System is that every Soldier Sailor Marine and Airman injured on the battlefield will have the optimum chance for survival and maximum potential for functional recovery To achieve this vision in 2006 the JTS implemented programs for data driven trauma system development and improvement in addition to the collection of trauma data As part of its data collection efforts the JTS maintains a registry of trauma patients who received care at medical treatment facilities MTFs Since 2007 this registry known as the DoD Trauma Registry DoDTR has documented demographic injury treatment and outcomes data for all trauma patients admitted to any DoD MTF regardless of whether the injury occurred during on going military operations and is the largest military trauma data source in the world Development of the DoDTR began during the early years of the Global War on Terror GWoT when the need to systematically improve trauma care for combat wounded resulted in the impromptu creation of a demonstration registry known then as the Combat Trauma Registry CTR The CTR was constructed by the Center for AMEDD Strategic Studies CASS trauma related information was initially abstracted into it from paper medical records received from trauma nurse coordinators TNCs at Landstuhl Regional Medical Center LRMC in Germany Shortly after the demonstration program started the Army Surgeon General approved its transition to an operational mode leading to the formation of the Joint Theater Trauma System JTTS and eventually the Joint Trauma System JTS
