Real Austin Annie Vocature Bullock,2012-02-14 Christianity is simple Love God Love your neighbor The rest is commentary Simple in theory becomes much more difficult when your neighbor is a man in a dress who stinks like urine and a decaying unwashed body And yet that s exactly who you find on a downtown bus the homeless the unsavory the just plain weird Drawing on the wisdom of the Desert Fathers and Mothers this book explores one woman s complex and ambivalent interactions with the homeless Stories about a persistent failure to acknowledge and honor the humanity of the homeless are evidence of the pervasive reality of human sin But at the same time there are moments of genuine kindness and humanity that stand as reminders that God brings new life from the brokenness of sin These stories of days spent on a downtown bus move from unflinching self reflection to a new awareness of God s presence This is where the abstract becomes local and where theology finally gets real Recovering from Depression Robert W. Griggs,2019-11-12 Depression steals joy and brings pain After serving for more than thirty years as a parish minister the author was hospitalized for major depression and experienced the powers of this disease to destroy all that makes life good In the years since he has learned it is possible to recover the joy that depression had stolen Always with honesty often with humor he shares the lessons he learned on his recovery journey back from being hospitalized to practicing his profession He offers these lessons as Forty Nine Helps each a short chapter focused on a specific aid to recovery each speaking the truth to depression s lies Reading T.S. In Bed with the Word Daniel Coleman,2009-02-26 While reading is a deeply personal activity paradoxically it is also fundamentally social and outward looking Daniel Coleman a lifelong reader and professor of literature combines story with meditation to reveal this paradox and illustrate why more than ever we need this special brand of quiet time in our lives In Bed with the Word sparks with every conceivable enticement for those who worry about living in a culture of distraction and who long to reconnect with something deeper Living Devotions Mary Clark Moschella, 2008-01-01 Living Devotions explores how a particular community has creatively negotiated its religious bonds of connection in the context of immigration. These matters cannot be studied in the abstract. Religious practice is not something separate from the economic, cultural, and psychological dimensions of life but rather something integral which shapes and is being shaped by all of these other realities. The author examines these dynamics through an ethnographic case study of the living devotions of a group of Italian Catholic immigrants to San Pedro, California. The narrative describes how the group's historical experiences of immigration and fishing find expression in their particular forms of prayer, art, artifacts, and food. The healing and transformative power of these shared religious practices is explored. As contemporary theologians, pastors, and congregations seek to welcome and care for immigrants and other strangers in a shifting social landscape, we need ways to engage in care full and attentive relationships. The ethnographic method employed here suggests a way to lift up the voices of ordinary people, allowing them to tell their own stories while piecing together emerging bits of theological wisdom and compelling care practices. While the particular insights of any community are situated and specific, theological reflection in one context can animate a broader discussion of transformative pastoral theology and practice.
