functions be By looking across several disciplines and analyzing evil as it is referenced across a broad spectrum of phenomena this work demonstrates the varying ways that we interact with the ethical dilemma as academics as citizens and as people The work draws from authors in different fields including history literary and film studies philosophy and psychology and from around the world to provide an analysis of evil in such topics as deeply canonical as Beowulf and Shakespeare to subjects as culturally resonant as Stephen King Captain America or the War on Terror By bringing together this otherwise disparate collection of scholarship this collection reveals that discussions of evil across disciplines have always been questions of how cultures represent that which they find socially abhorrent This work thus opens the conversation about evil outside of field specific limitations simultaneously demonstrating the assumptions that undergird the manner by which such a conversation proceeds
