The Right Stuff By Tom Wolfe:

The Right Stuff Tom Wolfe, 2005 What is it I wondered that makes a man willing to sit on top of an enormous Roman Candle such as a Redstone Atlas Titan or Saturn rocket and wait for someone to light the fuse I decided on the simplest approach possible would ask a few of the astronauts and find out The men had it Yeager Conrad Grissom Glenn Heroes The first Americans in space battling the Russians for control of the heavens putting their lives on the line he women had it While Mr Wonderful was aloft it tore your heart out that the Hero's Wife down on the ground had to perform with the whole world watching The Right Stuff It's the quality beyond bravery beyond courage New York Magazine, 1979-09-24 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine's consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea High Flyers Morgan W. McCall, 1998 Presents a strategy for grooming executives for a company's top positions emphasizing the importance of learning from experience and being open to continuous learning The Right Stuff Philip Kaufman, 1990 The Final Frontier Dale Carter, 2020-05-05 Stunned by the news of Sputnik in 1957 the American public were to be treated over the next dozen years to the spectacle of an all out national crusade the race to beat the Russians to the moon What few understood at the time and what has largely been obscured in popular representations of this episode in movies and bestsellers was the key economic and technical role played by manned space exploration in post war US capitalist expansion From Potsdam to Cape Canaveral the yellow brick road twisted and turned but its ultimate goal remained clear the Oz of global American economic and political domination Taking off from that masterpiece of American fiction Thomas Pynchon's Gravity's Rainbow Dale Carter tells the lurid tale of the postwar boom through the history of the manned space program Salvaged from the ashes of Nazi Germany Pynchon's Oven State as US officials rounded up the Third Reich's leading V-2 scientists the American Rocket State embarked on an upward path that would culminate in the epochal voyage of Apollo XI in 1969 Following this path Carter gives an innovative brilliant account of American culture and society during the Cold War He charts the ideological and political significance of a range of phenomena from films like High Society Destination Moon and When Worlds Collide to John F Kennedy's rise to power from the emergence of a new high tech economy fueled by the NASA led transformation of the aerospace industry to the last flight of the space shuttle Challenger His highly original account of the star spangled space age sets a new standard for the study of American culture Tom Wolfe's America Kevin T. McEneaney, 2009-04-30 While The Right Stuff and The Bonfire of the Vanities remain perhaps his best known works Tom Wolfe's journalism and fiction continues to enjoy a large audience perhaps chiefly because of the variety of his subjects and his controversial approach to them Here McEneaney offers an account of the man and his works explaining along the way Wolfe's use of irony, his obsessive themes and even his use of pranks. More comprehensive in scope than any preceding book on Wolfe, it offers accurate and accessible commentary based upon what Wolfe admits about his own work. In this new book, Wolfe's work is put in journalistic and literary context. The reliability of Wolfe's journalism is discussed especially when there are alternative narrations to events he has depicted. McEneaney also examines the Wolfe's use of pranks that he plays on readers at times and uncovers the influences on Wolfe that have contributed to his unique style. Finally, the author discusses Wolfe's impact on other writers. Readers will gain access into Wolfe's world through this detailed and colorful work.

Approach, 1985 The naval aviation safety review New York Magazine, 1983-10-31 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country. With award-winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion, the magazine's consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea. The Right Stuff Tom Wolfe Tom Wolfe, 2020-03 Men first flew into space in 1961 but until now few people have had a sense of the most engrossing side of that adventure, namely the perceptions and goals of the astronauts themselves aloft and during certain remarkable odysseys on earth.

Airman, 1996 Bound and Unbound Zowie Davy, Julia Downes, Lena Eckert, 2009-05-05 This edited book has developed from the themes, connections and disjunctures that emerged from a two-day postgraduate conference on Thinking Gender: The Next Generation in 2006 at the University of Leeds. The editorial collective is comprised by Zowie Davy, Julia Downes, Dario Llinares and Ana Cristina Santos from the Centre for Interdisciplinary Gender Studies (CIGS), University of Leeds; Lena Eckert from the University of Utrecht; and Natalia Gerodetti, who is a Senior Lecturer at Leeds Metropolitan University. The Second Self, Twentieth Anniversary Edition Sherry Turkle, 2005-09-30 A new edition of the classic primer in the psychology of computation with a new introduction, a new epilogue and extensive notes added to the original text. In The Second Self, Sherry Turkle looks at the computer not as a tool but as part of our social and psychological lives; she looks beyond how we use computer games and spreadsheets to explore how the computer affects our awareness of ourselves, of one another and of our relationship with the world. Technology, she writes, catalyzes changes not only in what we do but in how we think. First published in 1984, The Second Self is still essential reading as a primer in the psychology of computation. This twentieth anniversary edition allows us to reconsider two decades of computer culture, to re-experience what was and is most novel in our new media culture and to view our own contemporary relationship with technology with fresh eyes. Turkle frames this classic work with a new introduction, a new epilogue and extensive notes added to the original text. Turkle talks to children, college students, engineers, AI scientists, hackers and personal computer owners, people confronting machines that seem to think and at the same time suggest a new way for us to think about human thought, emotion, memory and understanding. Her interviews reveal that we experience computers as being on the border between inanimate and animate.

as both an extension of the self and part of the external world Their special place betwixt and between traditional categories is part of what makes them compelling and evocative In the introduction to this edition Turkle quotes a PDA user as saying When my Palm crashed it was like a death I thought I had lost my mind Why we think of the workings of a machine in psychological terms how this happens and what it means for all of us is the ever more timely subject of The Second Self
