The Perfect Wife By Lynsay Sands:

The Perfect Wife Lynsay Sands, 2005 It was to be hoped that her groom was partial to cherries For Avelyn feared she would very much resemble one at their wedding feast Too round too red in the scarlet gown that was all she could fit into and perhaps too tart for his taste No doubt he longed for a sweet biddable bride one who was as tiny and trim as she was trying to appear Paen Gerville longed for a lively well rounded woman one whose plump breast would cushion his head after the lonely harsh life of a solitary fighting knight At first his wife to be promised no such delights her form was unbending her health apparently fragile as she fainted into his arms after their first kiss But one split bridal gown later her assets were eye poppingly apparent and Paen could only grin as he anticipated the surprises yet to come on his wedding night with Publisher s description
