The Privileges By Jonathan Dee:

The Privileges Jonathan Dee, 2010-05-27 Smart socially gifted and chronically impatient Adam and Cynthia Morey are so perfect for each other that united they become a kind of fortress against the world. In their hurry to start a new life they marry young and have two children before Cynthia reaches the age of twenty five. Adam is a rising star in the world of private equity and becomes his boss's protégé. With a beautiful home in the upper class precincts of Manhattan, gorgeous children and plenty of money they are by any reasonable standard successful. But the Moreys' standard is not the same as other people's. The future in which they have always believed for themselves and their children, a life of almost boundless privilege in which any desire can be acted upon and any ambition made real, is still out there but it is not arriving fast enough to suit them. As Cynthia at home with the kids day after identical day begins to drift, Adam is confronted with a decision that tests how much he is willing to risk to ensure his family's happiness and to recapture the sense that for him and his wife the only acceptable life is one of infinite possibility. The Privileges is an odyssey of a couple touched by fortune, changed by time and guided above all else by their epic love for each other. Lyrical, provocative and brilliantly imagined, it is a timely meditation on wealth, family and what it means to leave the world richer than you found it. n+1, Number Ten: Self-Improvement, The Prize Jill Bialosky, 2016-08-09 Edward Darby has everything a man could hope for: meaningful work, a loving wife and a beloved daughter. With a rising career as a partner at an esteemed gallery, he strives not to let ambition, money, power and his dark past corrode the sanctuary of his domestic and private life. Influenced by his father, a brilliant Romantic scholar, Edward has always been more of a purist than an opportunist. But when a celebrated artist, controlled by her insecurities, betrays him and another very different artist awakens his heart and stirs up secrets from his past, Edward will find himself unmoored from his marriage, his work and the memory of his beloved father. And when the finalist of an important prize are announced and the desperate artists maneuver to seek its validation, Edward soon learns that betrayal comes in many forms and that he may be hurtling toward an act that challenges his own notions about what comprises a life worth living. A compelling odyssey of a man unhinged by his ideals, The Prize is also an unflinching portrait of a marriage struggling against the corroding tide of time and the proximity to the treacherous fault line between art and money. Rethinking Fiction after the 2007/8 Financial Crisis Mirosław Aleksander Miernik, 2021-03-29 This book provides insight into the impact the 2007/8 financial crisis and subsequent Great Recession had on American fiction. Employing an interdisciplinary approach which combines literary studies with anthropology, economics, sociology and psychology, the author attempts to gauge the changes that the crisis facilitated in the American novel. Focusing on four books: Elizabeth Strout's My Name Is Lucy Barton, Philipp Meyer's American Rust, Sophie McManus's The Unfortunates and William Gibson's The Peripheral, the study traces how they present such issues as poverty, wealth, equality, distinction, opportunity and how they relate both to traditional criticisms of consumer culture and the US economy, particularly those issues that have received more attention as a result of the crisis. It also tackles the issue of genre and interpretation in this period as well as what methods the analyzed novels employ in order to highlight the decreasing social mobility of Americans The Monosexual Dean Monti, 2024-07-16 The Monosexual tells the story of Vincent Cappellini an obsessed ultra monogamist who struggles when his relationship with the love of his life abruptly ends Twice burned once in love and once by the sun he faces a host of challenges to his self appointed sense of identity Sunburn bad sushi a Sinatra karaoke contest and the road rage fury of a woman scorned are but a few of the trials Vincent will endure while facing the ultimate test to his monosexuality a new woman in his life How It Works Out Myriam
