Cortes-Vazquez,2018-12-07 Since the 2008 financial crash the expansion of neoliberalism has had an enormous impact on nature society relations around the world In response various environmental movements have emerged opposing the neoliberal restructuring of environmental policies using arguments that often bridge traditional divisions between the environmental and labour agendas The Right to Nature explores the differing experiences of a number of environmental social movements and struggles from the point of view of both activists and academics This collection attempts to both document the social ecological impacts of neoliberal attempts to exploit non human nature in the post crisis context and to analyse the opposition of emerging environmental movements and their demands for a radically different production of nature based on social needs and environmental justice. It also provides a necessary space for the exchange of ideas and experiences between academics and activists and aims to motivate further academic activist collaborations around alternative and counter hegemonic rethinking of environmental politics. This book will be of great interest to students, scholars, and activists interested in environmental policy, environmental justice, social and environmental movements.

You Are Here: NYC Katharine Harmon, 2016-11-01
 Maps are magical. Every graphic like every story has a point of view, and New York is rife with mapmaking possibilities thick with mythology and glutted with history. You Are Here NYC assembles some two hundred maps charting every inch and facet of the five boroughs depicting New York's of past and present and a city that never was. A Nightclub Map of Harlem traces a boozy night from the Radium and the Cotton Club to the Savoy, and then the Lafayette Wonders of New York pinpoints three hundred sites of interest including the alleged location of Captain Kidd's buried treasure, the Ghostbusters subway map plots the route from Astral Projections Place to Stay Puft Street, and a rejected proposal of ornate topiaries illustrates a Central Park that might have been. This sequel to the best selling You Are Here includes original essays by Bob Mankoff, Maria Popova, Sarah Boxer, and Rebecca Cooper among others.
