Gotham Unbound James B. Jacobs, Coleen Friel, Robert Raddick, 1999-08 Demonstrates the remarkable range of the Cosa Nostra's activities and influence and argues that 20th century organized crime has been no minor annoyance at the periphery of society but a major force in the core economy acting as a power broker and even as an alternative government in many sectors of the urban economy Examines ways in which the Cosa Nostra infiltrated key sectors of New York City's legitimate economic life and how this came to be seen as inevitable and even beneficial Jacobs is professor of law and director of the Center for Research in Crime and Justice at New York University Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

Buildings Are for People Bill Caplan, 2016-04-30 Buildings are for People Human Ecological Design offers a new approach to the process of conceiving architectural design one that considers the interactions of the built environment with people and the natural environment The book exposes our visceral and experiential connections to buildings and how buildings intervene directly with our ecosystem natural environment and sense of place It brings to light our ability to utilize a building s surfaces shape and materiality to synergize with the energy and forces of nature for a more green and sustainable architecture It points out many of the roadblocks to successful design including issues in education the profession regulation and the industry s institutions providing an awareness that heretofore is rarely discussed Most importantly Buildings are for People Human Ecological Design highlights the obvious that buildings are built for people a fact that seems to have been overlooked in the last half century
