A New History of Western Art Koenraad Jonckheere, 2022-10-15 A radical re examination of 2 500 years of European art deconstructing and demystifying its long history from ancient to present How has art evolved from the pursuit of the ideal human form to a black square on a white canvas Why is a banana duct taped to a wall worth more on the art market than a beautiful seventeenth century landscape By taking art for what it actually is a piece of stone or wood a sheet of paper with some lines drawn on it a painted canvas this lively and accessible account shows how seemingly meaningless objects can be transformed into celebrated works of art Breaking with conventional notions of artistic genius Koenraad Jonckheere explores how stories and emotions give meaning to objects and why changing historical circumstances result in such shifting opinions over time Tracing its story from ancient times to present A New History of Western Art reframes the evolution of European art and radically reshapes our understanding of art history Published in association with Hannibal Books

Picturing a Nation David M. Lubin, Charlotte C Weber Professor of Art David M Lubin, Professor David M Lubin, 1994-01-01 Art historian David Lubin examines the work of six nineteenth century American artists to show how their paintings both embraced and resisted dominant social values Lubin argues that artists such as George Bingham and Lily Martin Spencer were aware of the underlying social conflicts of their time and that their work reflected the nation's ambivalence toward domesticity its conflicting ideas about child rearing its racial disharmony and many other issues central to the formation of modern America From publisher description

Colours of Impressionism: Masterpieces from the Musée d'Orsay Paul Perrin, Marine Kisiel, 2018-01-31 One of the great innovations of the Impressionists was their radical use of colour their application of strokes of complementary or contrasting hues captured the shifting effects of light and foregrounded the nature of vision Using colour as the lens through which to magnify the movement's intricacies this catalogue sweeps us from Manet's rich blacks through green and blue landscapes of Monet and Cézanne to the sensuous pinks of Renoir Along this journey scientific discoveries and emerging definitions of modernity are explored illuminating the profound innovations of the Impressionists and the shifting preconceptions of their art The Magazine of Art Marion Harry Spielmann, 1889 The Passions of Jean-Baptiste Carpeaux Draper, James David, Papet, Edouard, 2014 Jean Baptiste Carpeaux 1827-1875 was an extraordinarily gifted sculptor the greatest in 19th century France before Rodin and embodied the emotionally charged artistic climate of his era Carpeaux's wrenching representations of human forms shown in beautiful color details and illustrations echo his turbulent personal life fraught with episodes of violence and fatal illness The book covers the entire span of Carpeaux's career and includes the masterpiece Ugolino and His Sons newly discovered drawings and a number of rarely seen or studied works Previously unpublished letters between Carpeaux and his family and friends a wealth of archival material and the most detailed chronology of the artist's life ever published Yale University Press website Angels of Art: Women and Art in American Society, 1876-1914, Angels of Art Bailey Van Hook, 2004-06-11 Images of women were ubiquitous in America at the turn of the last century In painting and sculpture they took on a bewildering variety of identities from Venus Ariadne and Diana to Law Justice the Arts and Commerce Bailey Van Hook argues here that the artists' concepts of art coincided with the construction of gender in American culture She finds that certain characteristics such as ideal beautiful decorative and pure both describe this art and define the perceived role of women in American society at the time Most late nineteenth century American artists had trained in Paris where they learned to use female imagery as a pictorial language of provocative sensuality Van Hook first places the American artists in an international context by discussing the works of their French teachers including Jean-Léon Gérôme and Alexandre Cabanel She goes on to explore why they soon had to distance themselves from that context primarily because their art was perceived as either openly sensual or too obliquely foreign by American audiences Van Hook delineates the modes of representation the American painters chose which ranged from the more traditional allegorical or mythological subjects to a decorative figure painting indebted to Whistler Changing American culture ultimately rejected these idealized female images as too genteel and eventually too academic and European Angels of Art is the first study to discuss the predominance of images of women across stylistic boundaries and within the wider context of European art It relies heavily on contemporary sources both to document critical responses and to find intersecting patterns in attitudes toward women and art Camille Claudel Angelo Caranfa, 1999 This book attempts to separate Camille's art from that of Rodin and to show its connections to the artistic and spiritual ideas of her brother the poet Paul Claudel Like her brother Camille communicates in her art the silence of things This silence however is not an inarticulate void a nothingness an unlimited potentiality as it is for Rodin but it is communicative actual originaive and meaningful The Grove Encyclopedia of American Art Joan M. Marter, 2011

Arranged in alphabetical order these 5 volumes encompass the history of the cultural development of America with over 2300 entries
