Alternative Photographic Accessories Peter Mrhar:

Alternative Photographic Accessories Peter Mrhar, 2015-12-10 Accessories which we use in alternative and old photographic processes are difficult to find and are sometimes quite expensive through regular sales channels. Most users therefore produce them at home with the help of varied and sometimes quite conflicting information that can be found on the Internet. We try to some extent to overcome this lack of resources with this book because in it are collected the most frequently used photographic tools the operation of which has been verified in practice. As in all the books from the collection of Historical and Alternative Photography the content of this book is also presented in an extremely comprehensible manner since the procedures are described step by step with rich pictorial support. The descriptions are presented without drawing plans so that the devices can be adapted to the needs of readers who come from all over the world and this regardless of the standard dimensions of different materials found in various countries. In the instructions where this is necessary of course the applied dimensions are written in both metric and imperial units. Alternative Photographic Accessoires Peter Mrhar, 2015
