Three Tales: a Simple Heart, Saint Julian the Hospitalier and Herodias Gustave Flaubert, 2022-02-15

A Simple Heart is a story about a servant girl named Felicite. After her one and only love, Thore, purportedly marries a well-to-do woman to avoid conscription, Felicite quits the farm where she works and heads for Pont-l'Évêque, where she picks up work in a widow's house as a servant. It was inspired by several events in Flaubert's own life; he also lived in a farmhouse in rural Normandy. He was adrift in his studies, much like Paul. Most importantly, he suffered an epileptic fit in the same way that Felicite does in the story. The Legend of Saint Julian the Hospitalier is a story about Julian the Hospitaller. He is predicted at birth to do great things. His father is told that he will marry into the family of a great emperor, while his mother is told he will be a saint. It was inspired by a large stained glass window at Rouen Cathedral. Flaubert deliberately made his story markedly different from the story told in glass Herodias is the retelling of the beheading of John the Baptist. It starts slightly before the arrival of the Syrian governor Vitellius. Herodias holds a huge birthday celebration for her second husband Herod Antipas. Unknown to him, she has concocted a plan to behead John. It is based on the biblical figure of the same name. Flaubert based the section on the dance of Salome from a bas-relief also at Rouen Cathedral and his own experience watching a young female dancer while in Egypt. Gustave Flaubert (1821-1880) was an influential French writer who was perhaps the leading exponent of literary realism of his country.

DEATH SPEAKS At night in winter when the snow flakes fall slowly from heaven like great white tears I raise my voice its resonance thrills the cypress trees and makes them bud anew I pause an instant in my swift course over earth throw myself down among cold tombs and while dark plumaged birds rise suddenly in terror from my side while the dead slumber peacefully while cypress branches droop low over my head while all around me weeps or lies in deep repose my burning eyes rest on the great white clouds gigantic winding sheets unrolling their slow length across the face of heaven How many nights and years and ages have I journeyed thus A witness of the universal birth and of a like decay Innumerable are the generations I have garnered with my scythe Like God I am eternal The nurse of Earth I cradle it each night upon a bed both soft and warm The same recurring feasts the same unending toil Each morning I depart each evening I return bearing within my mantle's ample folds all that my scythe has gathered And then I scatter them to the four winds of Heaven When the high billows run when the heavens weep and shrieking winds lash ocean into madness then in the turmoil and the tumult do I fling myself upon the surging waves and lo the tempest softly cradles me as in her hammock sways a queen The foaming waters cool my weary feet burning from bathing in the falling tears of countless generations that have clung to them in vain endeavour to arrest my steps
