those seen not to fit a world brutally intolerant of difference Cold Waters Markku Lehtimäki, Arja Rosenholm, Elena Trubina, Nina Tynkkynen, 2022-11-01 This book addresses the Arctic and the northern regions by exploring cold waters and northern seascapes. It focuses on cultural discourses and artistic representations concerning the human experience and imagination of how the Arctic Ocean has been explored and used. It aims to assess what is specific to the northern waters vis-à-vis other sea and water areas in the world. The contextual background is provided by the fundamental shift from terra based thinking towards aqua based thinking including the histories of the northern waters and the innovative ocean studies of the last decades. This book will be of interest to readers in Arctic studies and Sea and Ocean studies including those with interests in literature history, cultural and film studies, anthropology and politics, Environmental History and Cultural studies as well as in Russian studies. The book has been assembled with a view towards upper level undergraduate and post graduate students and scholars and will also be appropriate for courses in the fields mentioned above. The book will be of interest to specialists working in and with Arctic environmental issues. There is a broad array of international academic networks, environmental governance and cultural associations outside academia whose members may also find the book of interest.

Slow Narrative and Nonhuman Materialities Marco Caracciolo, 2022-03 2024 Barbara Perkins and George Perkins Prize
Slow Narrative and Nonhuman Materialities investigates how the experience of slowness in contemporary narrative practices can create a vision of interconnectedness between human communities and the nonhuman world. Here slowness is not a matter of measurable time but a transformative experience for audiences of contemporary narratives engaging with the ecological crisis. While climate change is a scientific abstraction, the imagination of slowness turns it into a deeply embodied and affective experience. Marco Caracciolo explores the value of slowness in dialogue with a wide range of narratives in various media from prose fiction to comic books to video games. He argues that we need patience and an eye for complex patterns in order to recognize the multiple threads that link human communities and the slow moving processes of climate and geological history. Decelerating attention offers important insight into human societies' relations with the nonhuman materialities of Earth's physical landscapes, ecosystems and atmosphere. Caracciolo centers the experiential effects of narrative and offers a range of theoretically grounded readings that complement the formal language of narrative theory. These close readings demonstrate that slowness is not a matter of measurable time but a thickening of attention that reveals the deeply multithreaded nature of reality. The importance of this realization cannot be overstated through an investment in the here and now of experience: slow narrative can help us manage the uncertainty of living in an era marked by dramatically shifting climate patterns.

Nature and Narrative Markku Lehtimäki, 2025-05-23 The book explores environmental issues in twenty-first century Anglophone fiction and how those issues are dealt with by specific literary means. It proposes a reciprocal relationship between nature and narrative, the idea according to which nature both informs and inspires artistic creations while literary designs and rhetoric also shape our ideas and perceptions of the natural environment. It is argued that in order to address design and rhetoric in environmental texts we need a close analysis of those world shaping functions of literary narratives that unite ecocritical and narratological interests The author presents readings of contemporary novels and their varying ways of seeing nature through narrative devices and fictional minds The novels discussed in the book are Hilary Mantel's Wolf Hall Toni Morrison's A Mercy Ian McGuire's The North Water Barbara Kingsolver's The Lacuna Paul Harding's Tinkers and Enon J M Coetzee's Elizabeth Costello Ian McEwan's Solar and Jenny Offill's Weather What Editors Do Peter Ginna, 2017-10-06 This book gathers essays from twenty seven leading figures in book publishing about their work Representing both large houses and small and encompassing trade textbook academic and children's publishing the contributors make the case for why editing remains a vital function to writers and readers everywhere Ironically for an industry built on words there has been a scarcity of written guidance on how to actually approach the work of editing This book will serve as a compendium of professional advice and will be a resource both for those entering the profession or already in it and for those outside publishing who seek an understanding of it It sheds light on how editors acquire books what constitutes a strong author editor relationship and the editor's vital role at each stage of the publishing process a role that extends far beyond marking up the author's text This collection treats editing as both art and craft and also as a career It explores how editors balance passion against the economic realities of publishing Encyclopedia of American Literature Manly, Inc., 2013-06 Susan Clair Imbarrato Carol Berkin Brett Barney Lisa Paddock Matthew J Bruccoli George Parker Anderson Judith S The quiet contemporary American novel Rachel Sykes, 2017-12-01 This book explores the concept of quiet an aesthetic of narrative driven by reflective principles and argues for the term's application to the study of contemporary American fiction In doing so it makes two critical interventions Firstly it maps the neglected history of quiet fictions arguing that from Hester Prynne to Clarissa Dalloway from Bartleby to William Stoner the Western tradition is filled with quiet characters Secondly it asks what it means for a novel to be quiet and how we might read for quiet in an American literary tradition that critics so often describe as noisy Examining recent works by Marilynne Robinson Teju Cole and Ben Lerner among others the book argues that quiet can be a multi faceted state of existence one that is communicative and expressive in as many ways as noise but filled with potential for radical discourse by its marginalisation as a mode of expression The Pulitzer Prize Century Heinz-Dietrich Fischer, 2017 This volume presents a synopsis of the 100 Years History of the prestigious Pulitzer Prizes by listening the winners and samples of their work in all award groups like Reportage Journalism Recherche Journalism Opinion Journalism Picture Journalism Nonfictional Books Belles Lettres Performing Arts and Honorary Awards Series Pulitzer Prize Panorama Vol 14 Subject History Journalism Book Life Editors of Race Point Publishing, 2014-08-15 Book Life A Book Lover's Journal is filled with places to record everything about a reader's favorite books From book logs to quote pages to places books may inspire you to visit this journal has it all Experimental Fiction Julie Armstrong, 2014-08-28 Ever since Ezra Pound's exhortation to make it new experimentation

has been a hallmark of contemporary literature Ranging from the modernists through the Beats to postmodernism and contemporary hyperfiction this is a unique introduction to experimental fiction Creative exercises throughout the book help students grapple with the many varieties of experimental fiction for themselves deepening their understanding of these many forms and developing their own writing skills In addition the book examines the historical contexts and major themes of 20th century experimental fiction and new directions for the novel offered by writers such as David Shields and Zadie Smith Making often difficult works accessible for the first time reader and with extensive further reading guides Experimental Fiction is an essential practical guidebook for students of creative writing and contemporary fiction Writers covered include James Joyce Virginia Woolf Franz Kafka Marcel Proust Ralph Ellison Allen Ginsberg Jack Kerouac William Gibson Italo Calvino Jeanette Winterson Don DeLillo Caitlin Fisher Geoff Ryman Xiaolu Guo Tom McCarthy James Frey and David Mitchell
