Karen Marie Killilea, 2016-04-12 Winner of the Christopher Award This bestseller tells the inspirational true story of a girl with cerebral palsy and the mother who wouldn't give up on her In 1940 when Karen Killilea was born three months premature and developed cerebral palsy doctors encouraged her parents to put her in an institution and forget about her At the time her condition was considered untreatable and institutionalization was the only recourse But in a revolutionary act of faith and love the Killileas never gave up hope that Karen could lead a successful life Written by Karen's mother Marie this memoir is a profound and heartwarming personal account of a young mother's efforts to refute the medical establishment's dispiriting advice and her daughter's extraordinary triumph over seemingly insurmountable odds Marie's activism spread awareness of the mistreatment of disabled people in America and led to the formation of multiple foundations including United Cerebral Palsy A larger than life story Karen tells of a family's courage patience and struggle in the face of extreme difficulty The New York Times wrote You'll want to read it most for Karen's own words I can walk I can talk I can read I can write I can do anything

Alexander, Child of Love Eleanor K. Boner, 2011-12-23 This is a story so personal it took fifty years to write Alexander Child of Love is not a self help book about how to best survive the death of a child Alexanders story is the story of the power of love The more you love the longer you love the larger you become Long after my sons death I was profoundly shocked to learn that Alexander was actually murdered As you read you will come to understand why the word murdered was not ill chosen The story I am about to tell you is not simply about a mother and child It is about the human spirit and the heights to which it can ascend to overcome extreme physical disability and pain In essence it is about love During my sons mortal life I learned for the first time the meaning of real love I learned that such love has the power to work miracles in our lives
