The Cultural Memory of the Lebanese Civil War-Revisited , 2024-12-09 This volume edited by Leyla Dakhli and Klaus

Wieland is an overview of the cultural memory of the Lebanese Civil War as it has emerged and evolved over the last 30 years. These narratives represent a counter memory to the non-existent national memory undesired by Lebanon's political class. In 1991, the Amnesty Law 84/91 was enacted, granting state power impunity for all war crimes, including crimes against humanity. The general amnesty entailed partial amnesia; the war was to be officially forgotten. And yet, since the 1990s, nongovernmental organizations, archives, activists, publicists, visual artists, filmmakers, and writers have produced an impressive alternative culture of remembrance of the Lebanese Civil War, which is revisited and analyzed in this book. Contributors represent a multi-disciplinary mix with perspectives from area studies, history, social science, literary studies, trauma and memory, and peace and conflict studies.

Global Arab Fiction Nadia Atia, Lindsey Moore, 2024-12-30. Global Arab Fiction explores twenty-first century fiction set in North and East Africa, the Gulf, the Arab East, and diaspora, showing diversity and connections across Arab world contexts. Nadia Atia and Lindsey Moore draw on a substantial literary corpus, highlighting contemporary trends in what is available to Anglophone audiences and considering how Arab fiction circulates as a global commodity. Global Arab Fiction begins by positioning the Arab novel as a global phenomenon. It also explores the influence of literary prizes, notably the International Prize for Arabic Fiction, on the enhanced international visibility of Arab fiction this century. The authors tackle the thorny issue of violence in representing Arab world contexts and spotlight queer Arab desire, identity, and community. They address the rise of speculative Arab literary modes and show how both mobility and immobility challenge a global paradigm. Global Arab Fiction illuminates a vibrant body of literature rooted in but not circumscribed by a region redefined by twenty-first century global geopolitics. This book offers new arguments about twenty-first century Arab literary tropes, modes, consecration, routes, identities, and contexts. It is unmissable for readers interested in contemporary postcolonial Arab, Middle Eastern, and world literary studies.

New Body Politics Therí A. Pickens, 2014-02-05. In the increasingly multi-racial and multi-ethnic American landscape of the present, understanding and bridging dynamic cross-cultural conversations about social and political concerns becomes a complicated humanistic project. How do everyday embodied experiences transform from being anecdotal to having social and political significance? What can the experience of corporeality offer social and political discourse? And how does that discourse change when those bodies belong to Arab Americans and African Americans? Therí A. Pickens discusses a range of literary, cultural, and archival material where narratives emphasize embodied experience to examine how these experiences constitute Arab Americans and African Americans as social and political subjects. Pickens argues that Arab American and African American narratives rely on the body's fragility rather than its exceptional strength or emotion to create urgent social and political critiques. The creators of these narratives find potential in mundane experiences such as breathing, touch, illness, pain, and death. Each chapter in this book focuses on one of these everyday embodied experiences and examines how authors mobilize that fragility to create social and political commentary. Pickens discusses how the authors' focus on quotidian experiences complicates their critiques.

shape those sites in the future Rather than focus on a single site the ethnography crosses multiple urban sites and social groups to survey varied groups with interests in particular spaces The book contextualizes these spatial conflicts within the discourses of the city s historical accounts and the much debated concept of heritage voiced in academic writing politics and journalism In the afterword Sawalha links these conflicts to the social and political crises of early twenty first century Beirut
