

Life As We Knew It (Last Survivors, #1) By Susan Beth Pfeffer

Miranda's disbelief turns to fear in a split second when a meteor knocks the moon closer to the earth. How should her family prepare for the future when worldwide tsunamis wipe out the coasts, earthquakes rock the continents, and volcanic ash blocks out the sun? As summer turns to Arctic winter, Miranda, her two brothers, and their mother retreat to the unexpected safe haven of their sunroom, where they subsist on stockpiled food and limited water in the warmth of a wood-burning stove. Told in journal entries, this is the heart-pounding story of Miranda's struggle to hold on to the most important resource of all--hope--in an increasingly desperate and unfamiliar world.

Life As We Knew It Last Survivors 1 By Susan Beth Pfeffer:

Blast, Corrupt, Dismantle, Erase Brett Josef Grubisic, Gisèle M. Baxter, Tara Lee, 2014-06-16 What do literary dystopias reflect about the times In Blast Corrupt Dismantle Erase contributors address this amorphous but pervasive genre using diverse critical methodologies to examine how North America is conveyed or portrayed in a perceived age of crisis accelerated uncertainty and political volatility Drawing from contemporary novels such as Cormac McCarthy's The Road Neil Gaiman's American Gods and the work of Margaret Atwood and William Gibson to name a few this book examines dystopian literature produced by North American authors between the signing of NAFTA 1994 and the tenth anniversary of 9 11 2001 As the texts illustrate awareness of and deep concern about perceived vulnerabilities ends of water oil food capitalism empires stable climates ways of life non human species and entire human civilizations have become central to public discourse over the same period By asking questions such as What are the distinctive qualities of post NAFTA North American dystopian literature and What does this literature reflect about the tensions and contradictions of the inchoate continental community of North America Blast Corrupt Dismantle Erase serves to resituate dystopian writing within a particular geo social setting and introduce a productive means to understand both North American dystopian writing and its relevant engagements with a restricted mapped reality

Contemporary Dystopian Fiction for Young Adults Balaka Basu, Katherine R. Broad, Carrie Hintz, 2013-05-02 Winner of the Children's Literature Association Edited Book Award From the jaded wired teenagers of M T Anderson's Feed to the spirited young rebels of Suzanne Collins The Hunger Games trilogy the protagonists of Young Adult dystopias are introducing a new generation of readers to the pleasures and challenges of dystopian imaginings As the dark universes of YA dystopias continue to flood the market Contemporary Dystopian Fiction for Young Adults Brave New Teenagers offers a critical evaluation of the literary and political potentials of this widespread publishing phenomenon With its capacity to frighten and warn dystopian writing powerfully engages with our pressing global concerns liberty and self determination environmental destruction and looming catastrophe questions of identity and justice and the increasingly fragile boundaries between technology and the self When directed at young readers these dystopian warnings are distilled into exciting adventures with gripping plots and accessible messages that may have the potential to motivate a generation on the cusp of adulthood This collection enacts a lively debate about the goals and efficacy of YA dystopias with three major areas of contention do these texts reinscribe an old didacticism or offer an exciting new frontier in children's literature Do their political critiques represent conservative or radical ideologies And finally are these novels high minded attempts to educate the young or simply bids to cash in on a formula for commercial success This collection represents a prismatic and evolving understanding of the genre illuminating its relevance to children's literature and our wider culture

Girls on Fire Sarah Hentges, 2018-04-04 Under the threat of climate change corruption inequality and injustice Americans may feel they are living in a dystopian novel come to life Like many American narratives dystopian stories often focus on males as the agents of social change With a focus on the intersections of race gender class sexuality and power the author analyzes the themes issues and characters in young adult YA dystopian fiction featuring female protagonists the Girls on Fire who inspire progressive transformation for the future Postapocalyptic Fiction and the Social Contract Claire P. Curtis, 2010-07-17 Postapocalyptic Fiction and the Social Contract We ll Not Go Home Again provides a framework for our fascination with the apocalyptic events The popular appeal of the end of the world genre is clear in movies novels and television shows Even our political debates over global warming nuclear threats and pandemic disease reflect a concern about the possibility of such events This popular fascination is really a fascination with survival how can we come out alive And what would we do next The end of the world is not about species death but about beginning again This book uses postapocalyptic fiction as a terrain for thinking about the state of nature the hypothetical fiction that is the driving force behind the social contract The first half of the book examines novels that tell the story of the move from the state of nature to civil society through a Hobbesian a Lockean or a Rousseauian lens including Lucifer s Hammer by Larry Niven and Jerry Pournelle Alas Babylon by Pat Frank Malevil by Robert Merle and Into the Forest by Jean Hegland The latter half of the book examines Octavia Butler s postapocalyptic Parable series in which a new kind of social contract emerges one built on the fact of human dependence and vulnerability Between the Lines Michael Anthony, Joan F. Kaywell, 2016-09-23 Michael Anthony 20 year reading workshop practitioner at the secondary level and Joan Kaywell acclaimed author and advocate for young adult literature in learning present Between the Lines a creative paradigm shift for the English Language Arts workshop classroom In contrast to the traditional sustained silent reading and individual conferencing model an impractical commitment for most teachers BtL invites collaborative engagement and active inquiry among students as well as on demand writing and integrated YA literature all designed to support existing middle and secondary level ELA classroom curriculum instruction and national academic learning standards while empowering English educators toward improved student literacy achievement and the creation of lifelong readers The classroom activities with student friendly names like Book Chat Check and Pop Goes the Question promote animated discussions in social learning contexts and produce writings supported by textual evidence from student selected texts Clear step by step directions for facilitation and authentic models of resulting student writing are shared along with a standards based lesson plan suitable for grades 6 12 Ongoing teacher student journal conversations validate independent reader thought processes and provoke differentiated learning experiences The book includes Common Core State Standards based strategies for responding to students meaningfully and for inviting extensions beyond the book motivating increasingly complex and connective writings Sample dialogue journal entries are shared along with insightful commentary and practical analysis Everything needed for implementing Between the Lines is contained within these pages including a user friendly appendix filled with fully reproduceable classroom workshop materials tips for reducing the teacher reading and writing loads and suggestions for building an enviable classroom library stocked with award winning
