Speech Acts in Literature Joseph Hillis Miller, 2001 This book demonstrates the presence of literature within speech act theory and the utility of speech act theory in reading literary works Though the founding text of speech act theory J L Austin's How to Do Things with Words repeatedly expels literature from the domain of felicitous speech acts literature is an indispensable presence within Austin's book It contains many literary references but also uses as essential tools literary devices of its own imaginary stories that serve as examples and imaginary dialogues that forestall potential objections How to Do Things with Words is not the triumphant establishment of a fully elaborated theory of speech acts but the story of a failure to do that the story of what Austin calls a bogging down After an introductory chapter that explores Austin's book in detail the two following chapters show how Jacques Derrida and Paul de Man in different ways challenge Austin's speech act theory generally and his expulsion of literature specifically Derrida shows that literature cannot be expelled from speech acts rather that what he calls iterability means that any speech act may be literature De Man asserts that speech act theory involves a radical dissociation between the cognitive and positing dimensions of language what Austin calls language's constative and performative aspects Both Derrida and de Man elaborate new speech act theories that form the basis of new notions of responsible and effective politico ethical decision and action The fourth chapter explores the role of strong emotion in effective speech acts through a discussion of passages in Derrida Wittgenstein and Austin The final chapter demonstrates through close readings of three passages in Proust the way speech act theory can be employed in an illuminating way in the accurate reading of literary works

Origins of the Magdalene Laundries Rebecca Lea McCarthy, 2010-03-08 The convents asylums and laundries that once comprised the Magdalene institutions are the subject of this work Though originally half way homes for prostitutes in the Middle Ages these homes often became forced labor institutions particularly in Ireland Examining the laundries within the context of a growing world capitalist economy the work argues that the process of colonization and of defining a national image determined the nature and longevity of the Magdalene Laundries This process developed differently in Ireland where the last laundry closed in 1996 The book focuses on the devolution of the significance of Mary Magdalene as a metaphor for the organization from an affluent strong supporter of Jesus to a simple fallen woman

Wounds of Love Frank Graziano, 2004 St Rose of Lima Isabel Flores y Oliva 1586 1617 was canonized in 1671 as the first saint of the New World and Patron of the Americas In this engrossing new biography

Frank Graziano offers the most comprehensive examination of the life of Rose to appear in any language. An obscure self-mortifying mystic, Rose seems a strange choice for the distinction of first American saint. Graziano argues that the cult that grew up around St. Rose during her life and greatly expanded after her death was seen by both Church and State as a challenge and even a threat to authority. For that reason, he contends, the Church acted quickly to render her harmless by bringing her into the fold. Graziano goes on to consider Rose's ascetic Christianity in its cultural context. He seeks to discover why the severe austerities and mortifications of female piety that today are regarded as psychopathological were lauded as exemplary means of worship in the seventeenth century. In fact, he shows, St. Rose's behavior and experiences were initially regarded as pathological by many significant observers within her own culture, but such assessments were gradually dismissed as her saintly image was constructed. Drawing on key archival sources and the insights offered by psychoanalytic theory, Graziano constructs a compelling portrait of one of the Catholic Church's most beloved saints.

The Da Vinci Hoax Carl E. Olson, Sandra Miesel, 2004-01-01. The Da Vinci Code, Dan Brown's best-selling novel purports to be more than fiction; it claims to be based on fact and scholarly research. Brown wants his readers to believe that he is revealing the long-concealed truth about Jesus, Mary Magdalene, and early Christianity, a truth that he says has been suppressed by the malevolent and conspiratorial forces of the Catholic Church. The novel alleges that there has been throughout history a secret group of true followers of a Gnostic Jesus and his wife, Mary Magdalene, the true Holy Grail. Almost everything most Christians and non-Christians think they know about Jesus, according to Dan Brown, is completely wrong, the result of Catholic propaganda designed to hide the truth from the world. But are The Da Vinci Code's claims fact or just plain fiction? Is the novel well-researched as claimed? What is the truth about Jesus, Mary Magdalene, and the early Church? Has the Catholic Church distorted the real Jesus? Why is the novel so popular? What about the anti-Catholic, anti-Christian agenda behind the novel? Best-selling author Carl Olson and journalist Sandra Miesel answer these and other important questions. Their painstaking research into The Da Vinci Code and its sources reveals some surprising truths. No one who has read or heard about The Da Vinci Code should miss this provocative and illuminating book.
