Ethics for Jessica Gayle Graham Yates, 2010-01-01 Jessica's grandmother writes from her loft at her Wisconsin lakeside cottage of the intangibles she wants to give to Jessica and her generation Writing in view of the red pines and birch trees the water and the light with the sound of loons in the distance Gayle Graham Yates reflects upon insights knowledge and stories she has learned A woman family member citizen environmentalist and spiritual seeker Yates considers in this memoir as letter to her granddaughter both distresses and joys people opportunities and education that have shaped her own life and that she wants to pass along The flow of the book is metaphorically seasonal from autumn through summer Moving through ethical frameworks drawn from Aristotle's ethics and the Ojibway narrative by Ignatia Broker Night Flying Woman the chapters develop sequentially through ways of learning ways of loving and ways of hoping All this is to the end of lovingly transmitting to her granddaughter what she knows Which of us would not want a written testimony from our grandmothers about their lives and values and which of us of grandparent age would not wish to write one but rarely get around to it as part of our legacy In Ethics for Jessica Gayle Graham Yates decants a lifetime of wisdom and experience all she holds dear that she wants to pass on And in all her words it's the love that comes through most powerfully Readers do not have to be her granddaughte to glean from these pages guidance vision strength delight and edification to enhance the course of their own lives Susan Deborah King author of Tabernacle Coven and One Breasted Woman In this book Gayle Graham Yates skillfully interweaves storytelling with finely crafted writing about the natural world and reflections about how to live an ethical life Listening to her voice and entering into her imagery a sense of urgency emerges What we pass on to the next few generations will make all the difference to our individual and collective future Deborah J Haynes author of Book of This Place The Land Art and Spirituality

Daphne Harriet Brill Outlaw, Penny H. Taylor, 2012 Daphne the Jubilee City is home to people who came to partake of the rich resources of Mobile Bay's eastern shore They gathered to collect seafood miraculously washing ashore during the phenomenon of jubilee They gathered under the spreading oaks to hold councils and along the bay front to escape the perils of yellow fever across the bay in Mobile They gathered for clean spring waters and rare pottery clay to greet the bay boats and to farm the rich soil Daphne's heritage is one of a gathering of peoples and Images of America Daphne documents that heritage Don't Quit Your Day Job Sonny Brewer, 2010-11-01 P J O'Rourke said Creative writing teachers should be purged until every last instructor who has uttered the words Write what you know is confined to a labor camp The blind guy with the funny little harp who composed The Iliad how much combat do you think he saw Like O'Rourke William Faulkner had his own take on the Other Commandment for writers the one that goes Thou shalt not quit thy day job Faulkner who won the 1949 Nobel Prize for Literature had twenty five years before worked at the post office in his hometown of Oxford Mississippi Mr Faulkner was known to say One of the saddest things is that the only thing a man can do for eight hours is work You can't eat eight hours a day nor drink for eight hours a day nor make love for eight hours He must have been determined to give something else writing we may assume perhaps a glass of whisky on the side a whirl when he tendered his resignation to the postmaster I reckon I'll be at the beck and call of folks with money all my life he said but thank God I won't ever again have to be at the beck and call of every son of a bitch who's got two cents to buy a stamp The authors in this book have tried their hands at some of the same jobs you have held or still keep They've worked on the railroad busted rocks with a sledgehammer fought fires wiped tables soldiered and carpentered and spied delivered pizzas lacquered boat paddles counted heads for the church sold underwear and delivered the mail They've driven garbage trucks And like William Faulkner before them they have quit those day jobs And like Faulkner they write They tell good tales If you wonder what work preceded their efforts to produce a great pile of books if you would like to know how they made the transition to as William Gay said clocking in at the culture factory then this is the book you've been waiting for Coming of Age in Utopia Paul M. Gaston, 2010-01-01 In this exquisitely wrought memoir of a committed life historian and civil rights activist Paul Gaston reveals his deep roots in Fairhope the unique Utopian community founded in 1894 by his grandfather on the shores of Mobile Bay Alabama Fairhope grew into a unique political economic and educational experiment and a center of radical economic and educational ideals As time passed however Fairhope's radical nature went into decline By the early 1950s the author began to look outward for ways to take part in the coming struggle the civil rights movement Gaston's career at the University of Virginia where he taught from 1957-97 forms the core of Coming of Age in Utopia Our Prince of Scribes Nicole Seitz, Jonathan Haupt, 2018-09-15 Acclaimed writers family friends and more pay homage to the celebrated Southern author of The Prince of Tides and The Great Santini New York Times bestselling writer Pat Conroy 1945-2016 inspired a worldwide legion of devoted fans but none are more loyal to him and more committed to sustaining his literary legacy than the many writers he nurtured over the course of his fifty year career In sharing their stories of Conroy his fellow writers honor his memory and advance our shared understanding of his lasting impact on literary life in and well beyond the American South Conroy's fellowship drew from all walks of life His relationships were complicated and people and places he thought he'd left behind often circled back to him at crucial moments The pantheon of contributors includes Rick Bragg Kathleen Parker Barbra Streisand Janis Ian Anthony Grooms Mary Hood Nikky Finney Nathalie Dupree and Cynthia Graubart Ron Rash Sandra Brown and Mary Alice Monroe Conroy biographers Katherine Clark and Catherine Seltzer his longtime friends Pat's students Sallie Ann Robinson and Valerie Sayers members of the Conroy family and many more Each author in this collection shares a slightly different view of Conroy Through their voices a multifaceted portrait of him comes to life and sheds new light on who he was Loosely following Conroy's own chronology the essays herewith wind through his river of a story stopping at important ports of call Cities he called home and longed to visit along with each book he birthed become characters that are as equally important as the people he touched along the way Fairhope Cathy Donelson, 2005-11-09 Three centuries of Utopian dreams came true in the 1890s when a group of idealists founded Fairhope as a cooperative colony on a lush bluff along Alabama's Gulf Coast The visionary settlers thought their experimental village had a fair hope of success An oasis of idealism and equality Fairhope not only succeeded but grew into an elegant enclave of individualism and intellect The bayside town is the world's oldest and largest single tax colony as well as a popular resort that draws visitors from around the world Photographic images herein capture the unique development by adventurous characters with diverse backgrounds This book is a map of Old Fairhope
