The Selected Works Of Ts Spivet By Reif Larsen:

The Selected Works of T.S. Spivet Reif Larsen, 2009 When twelve year old cartography genius T S Spivet receives a prestigious award he leaves his quiet ranch home in Montana for Washington D C and he learns more about himself and the world around him on his journey

The Young and Prodigious T. S. Spivet Reif Larsen, 2014-03-01 T S Spivet is a genius mapmaker who lives on a ranch in Montana He is brilliant and the Smithsonian Institution agrees though when they award him a major scientific prize they don't suspect for a moment that he is twelve years old This book tells his story

The Selected Works of T.S. Spivet Reif Larsen, 2010 T S Spivet is a genius mapmaker who lives on a ranch in Montana His father is a silent cowboy and his mother is a scientist who for the last twenty years has been looking for a mythical species of beetle His brother has gone his sister seems normal but might not be and his dog Verywell is going mad T S makes sense of it all by drawing beautiful meticulous maps kept in innumerable colour coded notebooks He is brilliant and the Smithsonian Institution agrees though when they award him a major scientific prize they don't suspect for a moment that he is twelve years old So begins T S's life changing adventure travelling two thousand miles across America to reach the awards dinner the secret society membership and the TV interviews that beckon But is this what he wants Do maps and lists explain the world And why are adults so strange

I Am Radar Reif Larsen, 2015-03-26 A kaleidoscopic epic novel about a lovestruck radio operator who discovers a secret society In 1975 a black child is mysteriously born to white parents His name is Radar Radmanovic Radar grows up in suburban New Jersey but his story rapidly becomes entangled with terrible events in Yugoslavia Norway Cambodia the Congo and beyond Falling in with a secretive group of puppeteers and scientists who stage experimental performances in war zones around the world he is soon forced to confront the true nature of his identity

Storyworlds Across Media Marie-Laure Ryan, Jan-Noël Thon, 2014-06-26 The proliferation of media and their ever increasing role in our daily life has produced a strong sense that understanding media is everything from oral storytelling literary narrative newspapers and comics to radio film TV and video games is key to understanding the dynamics of culture and society Storyworlds across Media explores how media old and new give birth to various types of storyworlds and provide different ways of experiencing them inviting readers to join an ongoing theoretical conversation focused on the question how can narratology achieve media consciousness

The first part of the volume critically assesses the cross and transmedial validity of narratological concepts such as storyworld narrator representation of subjectivity and fictionality The second part deals with issues of multimodality and intermediality across media The third part explores the relation between media convergence and transmedial storyworlds examining emergent forms of storytelling based on multiple media platforms Taken together these essays build the foundation for a media conscious narratology that acknowledges both similarities and differences in the ways media narrate

Fictionality and Multimodal Narratives Torsa Ghosal, Alison Gibbons, 2023-08 Fictionality and Multimodal Narratives interrogates the relationship of fictionality and the multimodal use of fact in modern narrative construction Early Modern English Literature and the Poetics of Cartographic Anxiety Christine Barrett, 2018 This fascinating study explores how Renaissance era maps fascinated people with their beauty and precision yet they also unnerved readers and writers The volume shows how late sixteenth and seventeenth century poets channelled the anxieties provoked by maps and mapping creating a new way of thinking about how literature represents space Metamedia Alexander Starre, 2015-08-15 Does literature need the book With electronic texts and reading devices growing increasingly popular the codex is no longer the default format of fiction Yet as Alexander Starre shows in Metamedia American literature has rediscovered the book as an artistic medium after the first e book hype in the late 1990s By fusing narrative and design a number of bibliographic writers have created reflexive fictions metamedia that invite us to read printed formats in new ways Their work challenges ingrained theories and beliefs about literary communication and its connections to technology and materiality Metamedia explores the book as a medium that matters and introduces innovative critical concepts to better grasp its narrative significance Combining sustained textual analysis with impulses from the fields of book history media studies and systems theory Starre explains the aesthetics and the cultural work of complex material fictions such as Mark Z Danielewski's House of Leaves 2000 Chip Kidd's The Cheese Monkeys 2001 Salvador Plascencia's The People of Paper 2005 Reif Larsen's The Selected Works of T S Spivet 2009 and Jonathan Safran Foer's Tree of Codes 2010 He also broadens his analysis beyond the genre of the novel in an extensive account of the influential literary magazine McSweeney's Quarterly Concern and its founder Dave Eggers For this millennial generation of writers and publishers the computer was never a threat to print culture but a powerful tool to make better books In careful close readings Starre puts typefaces layouts and cover designs on the map of literary criticism At the same time the book steers clear of bibliophile nostalgia and technological euphoria as it follows writers designers and publishers in the process of shaping the surprising history of literary bookmaking after digitization Print, 2009 Children as Readers in Children's Literature Evelyn Arizpe, Vivienne Smith, 2015-10-05 We are fascinated by text and we are fascinated by reading Is this because we are in a time of textual change Given that young people always seem to be in the vanguard of technological change questions about what and how they read are the subject of intense debate Children as Readers in Children's Literature explores these questions by looking at the literature that is written for children and young people to see what it tells us about them as readers The contributors to this book are a group of distinguished children's literature scholars literacy and media specialists who contemplate the multiple images of children as readers and how they reflect the power and purpose of texts and literacy Contributors to this wide ranging text consider How books shape the readers we become Cognitive and affective responses to representation of books and reading The relationship between love stories and reading as a cultural activity Reading as Protection and Enlightenment Picturebooks as stage sets for acts of reading Readers' perceptions of a writer This portrayal of books and reading also reveals adults' beliefs about childhood and literacy and how they are changing It is a theme of crucial

significance in the shaping of future generations of readers given these beliefs influence not only ideas about the teaching of literature but also about the role of digital technologies This text is a must read for any individual interested in the importance of keeping literature alive through reading Multimodal Stylistics of the Novel Nina Nørgaard, 2018-10-08 This book advocates for a new analytical framework that extends our understanding of multimodal meaning making in the novel Integrating theoretical traditions from stylistics and the influential social semiotic approach to multimodal communication developed by Kress and van Leeuwen Nørgaard applies this method of analysis in order to build on existing stylistic practices that look at linguistic features in the novel to encompass other semiotic resources found in the form such as typography layout images paper and book cover design The volume grounds the discussion with supporting examples from novels that feature experimentation with multiple semiotic resources as well as more traditional novels furthering the argument that all novels are inherently multimodal Offering new insights and tools for unpacking multimodal meaning making in this critical literary genre this volume is an indispensable resource for graduate students and researchers in multimodality stylistics and literary studies Handbook of the American Novel of the Twentieth and Twenty-First Centuries Timo Müller, 2017-01-11 Increasing specialization within the discipline of English and American Studies has shifted the focus of scholarly discussion toward theoretical reflection and cultural contexts These developments have benefitted the discipline in more ways than one but they have also resulted in a certain neglect of close reading As a result students and researchers interested in such material are forced to turn to scholarship from the 1960s and 1970s much of which relies on dated methodological and ideological presuppositions The handbook aims to fill this gap by providing new readings of texts that figure prominently in the literature classroom and in scholarly debate from James s The Ambassadors to McCarthy s The Road These readings do not revert naively to a time before theory Instead they distil the insights of literary and cultural theory into concise introductions to the historical background the themes the formal strategies and the reception of influential literary texts and they do so in a jargon free language accessible to readers on all levels of qualification

Infowhelm Heather Houser, 2020-06-16 How do artists and writers engage with environmental knowledge in the face of overwhelming information about catastrophe What kinds of knowledge do the arts produce when addressing climate change extinction and other environmental emergencies What happens to scientific data when it becomes art In Infowhelm Heather Houser explores the ways contemporary art manages environmental knowledge in an age of climate crisis and information overload Houser argues that the infowhelm a state of abundant yet contested scientific information is an unexpectedly resonant resource for environmental artists seeking to go beyond communicating stories about crises Infowhelm analyzes how artists transform the techniques of the sciences into aesthetic material repurposing data on everything from butterfly migration to oil spills and experimenting with data collection classification and remote sensing Houser traces how artists ranging from novelist Barbara Kingsolver to digital memorialist Maya Lin rework knowledge traditions native to the sciences entangling data with embodiment quantification with speculation precision with ambiguity and observation with feeling Their works provide new ways of understanding environmental change while also questioning traditional distinctions between types of knowledge Bridging the environmental humanities digital media studies and science and technology studies this timely book reveals the importance of artistic medium and form to understanding environmental issues and challenges our assumptions about how people arrive at and respond to environmental knowledge Contemporary Adolescent Literature and Culture Maria Nikolajeva, Mary Hilton, 2016-05-13 Offering a wide range of critical perspectives this volume explores the moral ideological and literary landscapes in fiction and other cultural productions aimed at young adults Topics examined are adolescence and the natural world nationhood and identity the mapping of sexual awakening onto postcolonial awareness hybridity and trans racial romance transgressive sexuality the sexually abused adolescent body music as a code for identity formation representations of adolescent emotion and what neuroscience research tells us about young adult readers writers and young artists Throughout the volume explores the ways writers configure their adolescent protagonists as awkward alienated rebellious and unhappy so that the figure of the young adult becomes a symbol of wider political and societal concerns Examining in depth significant contemporary novels including those by Julia Alvarez Stephenie Meyer Tamora Pierce Malorie Blackman and Meg Rosoff among others Contemporary Adolescent Literature and Culture illuminates the ways in which the cultural constructions adolescent and young adult fiction share some of society's most painful anxieties and contradictions

Literature as cultural discourse has always courted mobility From the nomadic wanderings of the heroes of Homer and Virgil through the adventures of the medieval knight errants to the travellers of modern times movement and mobility have been constitutive elements of story telling Since writers have begun to explore the experiential dimension of movement their texts have embraced the essential changeability and instability of mobile worlds In this sense literature reflects and processes the transformative force of movement on the perception of the world and is part of the broader cultural discourses of mobility From the 1936 film Night Mail to the rapid movements of the dime novel detective and the metaphorical coding of automobility in Futurist poetry the essays in this volume offer new perspectives on the phenomenon of mobility at the intersection between the literary imagination and cultural experience They explore movement as a decisive force of change in the story of modernity and show how literature in its representation of mobility simultaneously aims both to mirror and to grasp the phenomenon Entrances & Exits Reif Larsen, 2016-01-20 A book set inside Google Street View in which the author imagines a fictional narrative set around a set of real locations which were captured by Google's cameras and which the reader navigates

Geography of Loss Patti Digh, 2013-12-23 This extraordinary book is borne of loss the loss of love of certainty and assuredness of knowing where we are or who we are of beauty and youth of health of life itself of privacy and of roles and of knowing When someone or something we love leaves us we suddenly walk alone into new territory without them We become strangers in new lands places where the landscape is unalterably changed where the center of gravity has somehow faltered and become weak making us feel as if we might fall off the surface of the earth Sometimes that moment of loss defines the rest of our lives becoming a center to our compass forever This unique book is a guidebook an atlas of those experiences of loss and grief a map for living through and into change and impermanence to moving on anew You are the navigator through the three main sections Embrace what is walk into your new landscape Honor what was be grateful for your old landscape Love what will be live into your future landscape Illustrated throughout with art submitted from around the world this book is an atlas of experience utilizing map imagery and the richly metaphoric evocative and functional language of geography to help you place yourself on your own journey to find your way through helpful exercises and an empathetic expert guide Multimodal Poetics in Contemporary Fiction Thomas Mantzaris, 2024-10-24 This book explores the growing body of multimodal literary texts books that creatively experiment with the potential of design to represent narrative content Examining five North and Central American novels from the first two decades of the twenty first century this study draws attention to texts that combine verbal text writing with non verbal elements photographic images varied typography maps color etc as integral parts of their narratives Their experimentation both reconfigures the potential for print based and born digital fiction in the future and holds a mirror to past practices of design and typography that were rendered invisible or which received limited attention by authors publishers and readers By placing the five case studies and related texts within a broader history of experimentation in literature this book demonstrates how multimodal novels have changed the conceptualization of narrative content in literary texts and ushered in a new era for fiction
