Torn from the Inside Out Sara Niles, 2016-09-14. During a cold February thunderstorm in the dark of night, Sara Niles fled for her life with her five children in tow, forced to disappear in order to stay alive. Torn From the Inside Out is a true story of extreme domestic violence and family dysfunction that begins with the heroic intervention of an 83 year old uncle when Sara Niles was a 3 1/2 year old child living in a perilous climate. Sara's great great Uncle Robert saves her and takes her home to live on a beautiful paradisiac farm to live with he and his childless wife, Sara's Aunt Molly. Set in the Rural South during a time of racial conflict, Sara begins her life racially mixed, half White and half Black during the late 1950s. The story fast forwards as the wonderful life provided by Sara's aged uncle and aunt falls apart, leaving Sara vulnerable to the advances of Vietnam Veteran Thomas Niles, whom she marries when only sixteen years old. Niles is a violent and abusive man given to sudden rages and fits of mood that were entirely foreign to Sara. True to Sara's optimistic spirit, Sara attempts to help Thomas Niles conquer his demons while hoping and wishing for better times and enduring abuse. Sara eventually comes to the realization that Thomas Niles is a killer who promises to kill her and every one of those children if she tried to leave him. Torn From the Inside Out probes the depth of human behavior to the root of existence as it emotionally traverses the soil of our hearts and souls. Human relationships from early childhood through adulthood color our views of selves and the world around us. Our pasts are what make us what we are. It is the pain that is experienced through during life that makes us wise in hindsight illuminating the past with new light It is through the lens of life that Sara tells her story I am the hungry little girl who sat in the sand over fifty years ago waiting to be rescued by an ancient old man I am Sara Niles and this is my story Niles' National Register ,1840 Out of the Maelstrom Sara Niles,Josephine Thompson,2011-10-22
