The Construction of History and Nationalism in India Sylvie Guichard, 2010-06-25 Most studies on nations and nationalism argue that history or more precisely a common past is crucial for the process of national identity building However the existence of one or more concurrent narratives for the construction of this identity is often not accounted for and there are cases where the common past or a collective memory is no longer shared This book centres on the construction elaboration and negotiation of the narratives that have become official history in India These narratives influence politics and the representation of the nation Depending on the chosen definition of the nation over 160 million Muslim Indians are either included or excluded from the nation and considered as foreigners from inside The author shows that beyond the antagonism of two representations of history two conceptions of the Indian nation secular and Hindu nationalist confronted each other during the history textbook controversy between 1998 and

2004 The diverging elements of the two discourses are underlined and surprising similarities are uncovered Yet in contemporary India this convergence remains overshadowed in political debates as the definition of the political has been shaped by the opposition between these two visions of the nation This book analyzes and questions the conception of the school textbook as a tool of national construction and more generally highlights the complexity of the link between historiography nation state and nation building

Unspoken History of India of Six-Thousand Years Anand Mohun Sinha, 2011-02-25 An evolved civilization existed in India much before the advent of Roman Greek Egyptian or Chinese civilizations in this world And yet India is the only country among them which went into subjugation in the last millennium This book gives an insight into its reasons It also brings out why Indians are brilliant individually but collectively they belong to a third world country It dwells on their strength and weaknesses developed over 6000 years which remain unspoken or spoken in disguise Also it reflects on the reasons why great men like Shiv Ganesh Hanuman and Krishna who were born just like Christ Mohammed and Buddha were consigned into mythology The readers may find much rationality in its bold attempt to reveal the harsh truth It also provides thought provoking solutions to ponder and act

The Greater Second World War Andrew N. Buchanan, Ruth Lawlor, 2025-04-15 The Greater Second World War challenges the traditional temporal and geographic frameworks of World War II expanding the timeline to include a series of regional conflicts and revolutions that began in 1931 and continued into the mid 1950s These conflicts bookended a central paroxysm defined by the intervention of the United States into every theater of the war rendering it genuinely global The essays within this volume bring top level accounts of US European and Axis strategic maneuvering into conversation with social histories of bottom up agency in ways that destabilize conventional narratives Working with novel and overlapping scales of time and space and attuned to ongoing and lively debates about the place of the nation state in global history after 1945 the scholars featured in The Greater Second World War seek to not only describe the war s beginnings in Asia and Africa rather than in Europe but also trace its ends to the shatter zones of the Soviet frontier the struggles for sovereignty in contested spaces and the long reaches of US imperialism well into the late twentieth century Together their contributions reveal how the cascading imperial and economic crises of the mid twentieth century triggered a series of discrete local and regional struggles that took on the character of a singular unified world war after the entry of the United States into every theater and almost every corner of the world Contributors Marco Maria Aterrano Th W Bottelier Pablo del Hierro Alexandre Fortes Kelly A Hammond Ashley Jackson Naina Manjrekar David Motadel Tejasvi Nagaraja Martin Thomas
