Aspiring Adults Adrift Tentative Transitions Of College Graduates:

Aspiring Adults Adrift Richard Arum, Josipa Roksa, 2014-09 Built on interviews and detailed surveys of almost a thousand recent college graduates from a diverse range of colleges and universities Aspiring Adults Adrift reveals a generation facing a difficult transition to adulthood Recent graduates report trouble in finding decent jobs and developing stable romantic relationships as well as in assuming civic and financial responsibility yet at the same time they remain surprisingly hopeful and upbeat about their prospects Analyzing these findings in light of students performance on standardized tests of general collegiate skills the selectivity of institutions they attended and their choice of major Arum and Roksa not only map out the current state of a generation too often adrift but enable us to examine the relationship between college experiences and tentative transitions to adulthood Back cover Aspiring Adults Adrift Richard Arum, Josipa Roksa, 2014 Few books have ever made their presence felt on college campuses and newspaper opinion pages as quickly and thoroughly as Richard Arum and Josipa Roksa's 2011 landmark study of undergraduates learning socialization and study habits Academically Adrift Limited Learning on College Campuses From the moment it was published one thing was clear no university could afford to ignore its well documented and disturbing findings about the failings of undergraduate education Now Arum and Roksa are back and their new book follows the same cohort of undergraduates through the rest of their college careers and out into the working world Built on interviews and detailed surveys of almost a thousand recent college graduates from a diverse range of colleges and universities Aspiring Adults Adrift reveals a generation facing a difficult transition to adulthood Recent graduates report trouble finding decent jobs and developing stable romantic relationships as well as assuming civic and financial responsibility yet at the same time they remain surprisingly hopeful and upbeat about their prospects Analyzing these findings in light of students performance on standardized tests of general collegiate skills selectivity of institutions attended and choice of major Arum and Roksa not only map out the current state of a generation too often adrift but enable us to examine the relationship between college experiences and tentative transitions to adulthood Sure to be widely discussed Aspiring Adults Adrift will compel us once again to re examine the aims approaches and achievements of higher education Handbook of Education Policy Research Lora Cohen-Vogel, Peter Youngs, Janelle Scott, 2025-08-15 The second edition of the Handbook of Education Policy Research the largest volume published in AERA's history addresses a variety of policy and contextual issues in early childhood K 12 and postsecondary education that have received extensive empirical attention during the past 15 years With the pandemic and social turmoil as a backdrop the editors build on the breadth and depth of the first edition while expanding the scope of the project to include subjects methods theories and analyses that have contributed powerfully to the study of education policy and politics in the 2010s and 2020s The field has become more comprehensive and inclusive and the authors represent a diversity of racial ethnic and gender identities and intellectual and disciplinary orientations Most chapters come from multiple authors reflecting the multi sourced development of research in education policy since the first volume was published This compilation consists of 70 chapters and nine commentaries that map past present and future directions of the field and richly attend to critical issues of interest to students researchers policy makers and practitioners

The Dream Is Over Simon Marginson, 2016-09-08 A free ebook version of this title is available through Luminos University of California Press's Open Access publishing program for monographs Visit www.luminosoa.org to learn more The Dream Is Over tells the extraordinary story of the 1960 Master Plan for Higher Education in California created by visionary University of California President Clark Kerr and his contemporaries The Master Plan's equality of opportunity policy brought college within reach of millions of American families for the first time and fashioned the world's leading system of public research universities The California idea became the leading model for higher education across the world and has had great influence in the rapid growth of universities in China and East Asia Yet remarkably the political conditions supporting the California idea in California itself have evaporated Universal access is faltering public tuition is rising the great research universities face new challenges and educational participation in California once the national leader lags far behind Can the social values embodied in Kerr's vision be renewed

A University Education David Willetts, 2017 In A University Education David Willetts draws on his experience as Minister for Universities and Science from 2010 to 2014 as well as a broad spectrum of research and international comparisons to offer a powerful defence of the value of higher education in the world today If you want to read one book about our universities today then this is it Never one to shirk controversy either as a Minister or an author Mr Willetts combines a passionate advocacy of the value of a university education with a serious in depth knowledge of the higher education sector to present his vision of what our universities can offer us both now and in the future

Building the Intentional University Stephen M. Kosslyn, Ben Nelson, 2018-08-28 How to rebuild higher education from the ground up for the twenty first century Higher education is in crisis It is too expensive ineffective and impractical for many of the world's students But how would you reinvent it for the twenty first century how would you build it from the ground up Many have speculated about changing higher education but Minerva has actually created a new kind of university program Its founders raised the funding assembled the team devised the curriculum and pedagogy recruited the students hired the faculty and implemented a bold vision of a new and improved higher education This book explains that vision and how it is being realized The Minerva curriculum focuses on practical knowledge knowledge students can use to adapt to a changing world its pedagogy is based on scientific research on learning it uses a novel technology platform to deliver small seminars in real time and it offers a hybrid residential model where students live together rotating through seven cities around the world Minerva equips students with the cognitive tools they need to succeed in the world after graduation building the core competencies of critical thinking creative thinking effective communication and effective interaction The book offers readers both the story of this grand and sweeping idea and a blueprint for transforming higher education

The Evidence Liberal Arts Needs Richard A. Detweiler, 2021-11-02

Empirical evidence for the value of a liberal arts education how and why it has a lasting impact on success leadership altruism learning and fulfillment In ongoing debates over the value of a college education the role of the liberal arts in higher education has been blamed by some for making college expensive impractical and even worthless Defenders argue that liberal arts education makes society innovative creative and civic minded But these qualities are hard to quantify and many critics of higher education call for courses of study to be strictly job specific In this groundbreaking book Richard Detweiler drawing on interviews with more than 1 000 college graduates aged 25 to 65 offers empirical evidence for the value of a liberal arts education Detweiler finds that a liberal arts education has a lasting impact on success leadership altruism learning and fulfillment over a lifetime Unlike other defenders of a liberal arts education Detweiler doesn't rely on philosophical arguments or anecdotes but on data He developed a series of interview questions related to the content attributes of liberal arts for example course assignments and majors the context attributes out of class interaction with faculty and students teaching methods campus life and the purpose attributes adult life outcomes Interview responses show that although both the content of study and the educational context are associated with significant life outcomes the content of study has less relationship to positive adult life outcomes than the educational context The implications of this research Detweiler points out range from the advantages of broadening areas of study to factors that could influence students' decisions to attend certain colleges

The Fractured College Prep Pipeline Heather E. Price, 2021 This book walks readers through the stages of the high school college prep pipeline that introduces interlocked structural barriers to students The author shows how these barriers reinforce segregated structures that unfairly distribute the public good of education to some students and not others Price argues that the college prep pipeline of Advanced Placement and International Baccalaureate coursework in American high schools constitutes a new form of tracking in the 21st century Even further this new tracking introduces a facade of college readiness that veils the unequal learning opportunities that send some students out into the college world with pockets full of counterfeit credentials that serve only to reinforce the historically oppressive system Whether intentional or not this new form of tracking is embedded in schools across the United States and have lifetime consequences for individual students that reinforce historically racial ethnic and spatial inequalities This book is a rigorous and engaging portrait of the architecture of opportunity in American schools With a fine grained analysis that never loses sight of the big picture Heather Price reveals structural realities of college readiness in the United States that are ripe for change Sean Kelly University of Pittsburgh

The Instruction Myth John Tagg, 2019-04-05 The Instruction Myth argues that higher education can only be saved if universities are willing and able to abandon one of their key assumptions that education revolves around instruction In its place he presents a powerful new model of a university centered upon student learning offering concrete plans for its implementation

Parenting to a Degree Laura T. Hamilton, 2016-04-29 Helicopter parents the kind that continue to hover even in college are one of the most ridiculed figures of twenty first century parenting criticized for creating entitled young adults who boomerang back home But do involved parents really damage their children and burden universities In this book sociologist Laura T Hamilton illuminates the lives of young women and their families to ask just what role parents play during the crucial college years Hamilton vividly captures the parenting approaches of mothers and fathers from all walks of life from a CFO for a Fortune 500 company to a waitress at a roadside diner As she shows parents are guided by different visions of the ideal college experience built around classed notions of women s work family plans and the ideal age to grow up Some are intensively involved and hold adulthood at bay to cultivate specific traits professional helicopters for instance help develop the skills and credentials that will advance their daughters careers while pink helicopters emphasize appearance charm and social ties in the hopes that women will secure a wealthy mate In sharp contrast bystander parents whose influence is often limited by economic concerns are relegated to the sidelines of their daughter s lives Finally paramedic parents who can come from a wide range of class backgrounds sit in the middle intervening in emergencies but otherwise valuing self sufficiency above all Analyzing the effects of each of these approaches with clarity and depth Hamilton ultimately argues that successfully navigating many colleges and universities without involved parents is nearly impossible and that schools themselves are increasingly dependent on active parents for a wide array of tasks with intended and unintended consequences Altogether Parenting to a Degree offers an incisive look into the new and sometimes problematic relationship between students parents and universities

Wrecked Barrett J. Taylor, 2022-08-12 The changing politics of the Right place it on a collision course with higher education These political forces support a policy agenda of deinstitutionalization in which Republican officials both slash funding for and undermine trust in public higher education Campus leaders respond with partial defenses that provide short term relief without addressing underlying mistrust Wrecked traces the disastrous collision between the Right and higher education resulting from these politics policies and practices Conflicting Stakeholders in Higher Education Assessment H. Russell Searight, 2024-08-28 Assessment requirements in universities have become nearly universal Evaluation efforts typically focus on documenting student and program learning outcomes Despite being framed as tools for enhancing educational quality decades of assessment efforts suggest that this goal is not being met This critique is contextualized within broader social historical shifts in higher education pointing out how assessment practices have paralleled trends toward corporatization and heightened administrative oversight Many assessment professionals adopted methodologies from behavioural science and educational measurement while neglecting essential measurement principles resulting in data quality issues Existing assessment measures often exhibit questionable reliability and validity undermining their effectiveness This book suggests that the prevalent summative approach to course objectives may not be the best method for improving instruction or assessing student learning Alternatives such as research derived from the Scholarship of Teaching and Learning and qualitative formative assessments may yield more meaningful quality driven information Brotherhood University Brandon A. Jackson, 2024-06-14 How do young Black men navigate the transition to adulthood in an era of labor market precarity an increasing emphasis on personal independence and gendered racism In Brotherhood University Brandon A Jackson utilizes longitudinal qualitative data to examine the role of emotions and social support among a group of young Black men as they navigate a structural double bind as college students and into early adulthood While prevailing stereotypes portray young Black men as emotionally aloof Jackson finds that the men invested in an emotion culture characterized by vulnerability loyalty and trust which created a system of mutual social support or brotherhood among the group as they navigated college prepared for the labor market and experienced romantic relationships Ten years later as they managed the early stages of their careers and considered marriage and child rearing the men continued to depend on the emotional vulnerability and close relationships they forged in their college years The Great Mistake Christopher Newfield, 2016-11-15 A powerful hopeful critique of the unnecessary death spiral of higher education The Great Mistake is essential reading for those who wonder why students have been paying more to get less and for everyone who cares about the role the higher education system plays in improving the lives of average Americans Helen Small author of The Value of the Humanities Los Angeles Review of Books Graduate Employability Across Contexts Tran Le Huu Nghia, Binh Chi Bui, Jasvir Kaur Nachatar Singh, Vinh N. Lu, 2022-09-02 This book explores stakeholders perspectives their practices and engagement with enacting the employability agenda in the context of a rapidly changing world It explains the need for developing graduate employability under socioeconomic cultural and political pressure exposed to the higher education sector Largely framed within Bourdieu s concepts of social field habitus and capital it explores international stakeholders perspectives and experiences with graduate employability agenda in different contexts which serves as a point of reference for the adoption of such initiatives Based on empirical evidence the authors develop a new graduate employability framework seeing it as a lifelong process denote the relationships between types of employability capital and shed light on the consequences of different strategies to translate employability capital to employment and career outcomes Overall this book generates both theoretical and practical insights which help to advance employability programs better prepare the future workforce and anticipate turbulence in the labour markets American Higher Education John R. Thelin, 2022-12-13 The latest book in the Core Concepts in Higher Education series brings to life issues of governance organization teaching and learning student life faculty finances college sports public policy fundraising and innovations in higher education today Written by renowned author John R Thelin each chapter bridges research theory and practice and discusses a range of institutions including the often overlooked for profits community colleges and minority serving institutions In the book s second edition Thelin analyzes growing trends in American higher education over the last five years shedding light on the effects of the COVID 19 pandemic He covers reconsideration of the rights of student athletes provides fresh analysis of the brick and mortar campus and includes a new chapter exploring school admissions recruitment and retention Rich end of chapter Additional Readings and Questions for Discussion help engage students in critical thinking A blend of stories and analysis this book challenges present and future higher education practitioners to be informed and active participants capable of improving their institutions Practice for Life Lee Cuba, Nancy Jennings, Suzanne Lovett, Joseph Swingle, 2016-08-15 Cover Title Copyright Dedication Contents Preface Chapter 1 Restarting College Chapter 2 Time Chapter 3 Connection Chapter 4 Home Chapter 5 Advice Chapter 6 Engagement Chapter 7 Practice for Life Appendix Notes Acknowledgments Index The Science of College Patricia Snell Herzog, Casey T. Harris, Shauna A. Morimoto, Shane W. Barker, Jill G. Wheeler, A. Justin Barnum, Terrance L. Boyd, 2020 This book aids entering college students and the people who support college students in navigating college successfully In an environment of information overload where bad advice abounds this book offers readers practical tips and guidance The up to date recommendations in this book are based upon real students sound social science research and the collective experiences of faculty lecturers advisors and student support staff The central thesis of the book is that the transition to adulthood is a complex process and college is pivotal to this experience This book seeks to help young people navigate the college process The student stories in this book highlight how the challenges that college students can encounter vary in important ways based on demographics and social backgrounds Despite these varied backgrounds getting invested in the community is crucial for college success for all students Universities have many resources available but students need to learn when to access which resources and how best to engage with people serving students through different roles and with distinct expertise There is no single template for student success Yet this book highlights common issues that many students face and provides science based advice for how to navigate college Each chapter is geared toward college students with a focus on the life stage that many entering college students are in emerging adulthood In addition to the student focused chapters the book includes an appendix for parents and for academics along with supplemental website materials of instructional activities related to the content of the book
