Managing to Change Thomas Hatch,2015-04-18 This book shows how school improvement efforts are often undermined by the changing conditions around schools as well as by some of the very policies and programs designed to help them make improvements Hatch argues that schools cannot wait around for conditions to improve or policymakers to figure out how to provide the right support Schools need to create the conditions for their own success To help them accomplish that the A01thor describes a small set of key practices that schools can use to get resources manage external demands and build their capacity to make and sustain improvements over time

Women and Leadership Genevieve Brown, Beverly J. Irby, 2001

While our culture aids and encourages men in their achievement women are often discouraged Women as a group have not been as successful as men in the fields which have traditionally been assigned achievement value Common internal barriers for women include low confidence perceived lack of advancement opportunities poor self image and weak determination and motivation Coupled with difficult experiences such barriers can persuade some women to relinquish their aspirations for a career in administration In various ways both subtle and direct our culture discourages women from expressing their intelligence For some who weather the difficulties the results can be highly confirming and motivating As women strive to achieve professional success and recognition they still feel societal pressure to assume more conventional roles Although cultural sexism is a consistent theme in these women's stories so are strength determination and inspiration
