ASEAN Enlargement

Impacts and Implications

The background of the cover features a stylized map of Southeast Asia, including the Malay Peninsula and the Indonesian archipelago, rendered in shades of yellow and orange. This map is overlaid on a dark blue background with a light blue grid pattern, resembling a globe or a technical drawing. The title 'ASEAN Enlargement' is prominently displayed in large, bold, white and blue letters, with 'ASEAN' in blue and 'Enlargement' in white. Below the main title, the subtitle 'Impacts and Implications' is written in a smaller, italicized white font.

Asean Enlargement Impacts And Implications:

ASEAN Enlargement Mya Than, Carolyn Gates, 2001 Since 1995 the ASEAN grouping has been extended to include Vietnam Laos Myanmar and Cambodia ASEAN's focus has changed from political and military security to economic cooperation and development This work explores economic and political issues confronting the enlarged ASEAN 10

ASEAN Enlargement Mya Than, Carolyn L. Gates, 2001 During the past decade ASEAN has shifted its focus from political and military security to economic co operation and development Although this change may ease the integration of the four mainland Southeast Asian nations Vietnam Laos Myanmar and Cambodia into ASEAN there remain significant challenges to forge a workable and united ten member ASEAN This book examines many of the economic political and institutional issues confronting the enlarged regional grouping The volume is organized into three sections based on the perspectives of the region subregion and the newer members It not only addresses ASEAN's enlargement but also contributes to the debate on ASEAN's shifting role in the twenty first century

Regional Integration in East Asia and Europe Bertrand Fort, Douglas Webber, 2006-06-19 A fascinating insight into how regional organizations in Europe and East Asia are currently grappling with a striking number of essentially similar challenges This issue based overview of political integration focuses on the differences and similarities in regional integration levels and processes in the two regions to examine how the long term future role and impact of organizations such as the EU and ASEAN may depend heavily on how well they deal with complex and conflict laden issues in the next few years This volume analyzes the historical development current state and prospective future evolution of political integration in the two regions These leading authors identify key variables that account for the contrasting political integration levels clearly demonstrating and explaining why the rhythm of integration in both regions varies With contributions from both Asian and European scholars on each topic this book delivers comparative rather than a single region focus breakdowns of regional integration into key issue areas analysis of monetary cooperation and integration incisive assessments of institutional reform key topics of enlargement including identity distributional equity the distribution of power and effectiveness or decision making efficiency discussion of regional and international security crises expert scholarship from both European and Asian perspectives This volume will be of great interest to students and scholars of IPE international relations political science contemporary history and European studies and Asian studies

50 Years of Amity and Enmity Poppy S. Winanti, Muhammad Rum, 2018-10-22 This book intends to offer an alternative lens for regionalism studies in Southeast Asia Despite of its widely acknowledged status as one of the most successful regionalism ASEAN still suffers from numerous obstacles Yet in the midst of ASEAN uncertain future trajectories there is only limited consensus on how to approach ASEAN regionalism Scholars of ASEAN regionalism tend to use ASEAN identity as the main explanation of cooperation among ASEAN member states However this approach suffers from limitations Emphasis on static traditional and all encompassing identity has made issue specific cooperation and its internal dynamics neglected The way issue specific cooperation alters ASEAN architectures also remains understudied By shifting attentions to issue specific cooperation this book attempts to fully grasp the dynamics of 50 years of ASEAN cooperation Why could ASEAN member states reach consensus in certain issues ranging from energy environment human rights disaster management human security to infectious disease albeit ASEAN values such as non interference and informality How do these practices of cooperation reshape the idea of ASEAN values Will the changing practice of issue specific cooperation spillover to the strengthening of ASEAN regionalism

Regionalism in Southeast Asia Nicholas Tarling, 2006-09-27 This innovative text provides the reader with an historical analysis of Southeast Asia from the unusual perspective of regionalism

Free Trade Area Membership as a Stepping Stone to Development Emiko Fukase, Will Martin, 2001 The ASEAN free trade area AFTA was created in 1992 This book presents an overview of the mechanisms of AFTA as well as individual country reports of the costs and benefits of membership The final chapter looks at the potential impact on economic growth

Rethinking Vietnam Duncan McCargo, 2004 Drawing on fieldwork and analysis by an international team of specialists this book covers all aspects of contemporary Vietnam including recent history the political economy the reform process education health labor market foreign direct investment and foreign policy

Human Security Benny Teh Cheng Guan, 2012-01-02 Human security is becoming increasingly pronounced in recent years due to changes in the security landscape of world politics Yet inter state relations have continued to dominate security concerns in East Asia This has unfortunately eluded the broader understanding of issues and challenges facing the peoples of East Asia Home to nations with rapid economic growth and development East Asia is at the core of what some individuals have termed as the coming Asian Century Years of economic liberalization and exposure to globalization have permitted the region to achieve high levels of interconnectedness from within and without in unprecedented ways This has certainly reduced state control and opened up spaces for cross border human activities While economic wealth have increased substantially over the years it has also brought about bigger income disparities unsustainable safety nets and a surge in social problems from health issues to migratory concerns that threaten the safety and well being of individuals Human Security Securing East Asia's Future timely examines the fundamental issues causing human insecurities and evaluates the extent of which human security plays a role at the state and regional levels Covering the different areas of threats to humans and applying case study materials this volume provides an intellectual mix of perspectives that captures the relationship between people state and region This book will be of interest to those studying traditional and non traditional security threats Asian human development and critical policy analysis

Gulf Cooperation Council Achievements and Challenges Ashraf Mohammed Keshk, Mona Saad AlResais, 2025-02-15 This book is one of the few English language publications offering a comprehensive analysis of the Gulf Cooperation Council's GCC role fostering a valuable dialogue between researchers from within the GCC and those abroad It examines the GCC's achievements challenges and evolving role in fostering stability and cooperation with contributions from scholars within the GCC and internationally It broadens the discussion beyond typical political and security concerns to encompass economic cooperation regional diplomacy and interregional comparisons with ASEAN and the EU It also provides valuable insights into the importance and benefits of integrating neighboring countries like Yemen into the GCC framework The book offers researchers policy analysts students and professionals a nuanced understanding of the GCC s achievements challenges evolving impact and future potential as a model of regional integration in a politically complex environment This edited collection includes papers presented at the 13th Gulf Research Meeting 2023 which was directed by the Editors Roads to Regionalism Tanja A. Börzel, Lukas Goltermann, Kai Striebinger, 2016-04-08 Over the past few decades states all around the globe have intensified institutionalized cooperation at the regional level To deepen our understanding of state led regionalism the authors use an analytical framework comprising four main strands First they describe and explain the genesis and growth of regional organizations Second they account for institutional design looking at important similarities and differences Third they examine the interaction between organizations and member states in an attempt to reveal factors that shape the level of commitment to and compliance with regional initiatives Finally they consider the impact of regional organizations on their member states They conclude by providing a foundation for future research on the dynamic development of regionalism ASEAN as an Actor in International Fora Paruedee Nguitragool, Jürgen Rüland, 2015-04-16 This book charts new waters in research on ASEAN by studying the role and cohesion of ASEAN in international forums

Negotiating for Water Resources Andrea Haefner, 2016-10-04 Over 90 per cent of the world population lives in countries that share a river basin with others Freshwater resources are scarce and different nations actors and users compete for limited resources in transboundary river basins often conflicting with each other Water is a resource with no substitute it cannot be secured in sufficiently large quantities through long distance trade deals and due to the interconnectivity of the hydrological system the actions of one country in its water management have a direct bearing on the interests of neighbouring countries For instance in the Mekong River Basin current hydropower and navigation developments in certain countries impact on traditional sources of income such as fisheries and rice production in others These kinds of changes in water use have given rise to conflict between countries in that region and others but have also led in some cases to greater cooperation The past few decades have seen a number of new agreements about the sharing of river resources and cooperation between riparian states Negotiating for Water Resources explores the drivers of conflict and cooperation between states in transnational river basins Drawing on extensive fieldwork and interviews on the Mekong Danube and La Plata River Basins the book provides a three level analysis across three case studies including the regional framework EU ASEAN and Mercosur the River Basin Organisations ICPDR MRC and CIC and the micro level The key question of the book is To what extent do power asymmetries prevent or inhibit cooperation between riparian states over water resources This is linked to the question of how institutions contribute to mitigate competition for natural resources and how states interact in a multilateral arena Overall the book argues that cooperation in transboundary river basins is possible even where there are asymmetric power relations challenging realist assumptions about competition and conflict over resources

Leonard, 2013-10-18 A RUSA 2007 Outstanding Reference Title The Encyclopedia of the Developing World is a comprehensive work on the historical and current status of developing countries Containing more than 750 entries the Encyclopedia encompasses primarily the years since 1945 and defines development broadly addressing not only economics but also civil society and social progress Entries cover the most important theories and measurements of development relate historical events movements and concepts to development both internationally and regionally where applicable examine the contributions of the most important persons and organizations and detail the progress made within geographic regions and by individual countries

Facing Global Environmental Change Hans Günter Brauch, Navnita Chadha Behera, Patricia Kameri-Mbote, John Grin, Úrsula Oswald Spring, Béchir Chourou, Czesław Mesjasz, Heinz Krummenacher, 2009-06-04 The year 2007 could perhaps accurately be described as the year when climate change finally received the attention that this challenge deserves globally Much of the information and knowledge that was created in this field during the year was the result of the findings of the Fourth session Report AR4 of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change IPCC which were disseminated on a large scale and reported extensively by the media This was the result not only of a heightened interest on the part of the public on various aspects of climate change but also because the IPCC itself proactively attempted to spread the findings of its AR4 to the public at large The interest generated on the scientific realities of climate change was further enhanced by the award of the Nobel Peace Prize to the IPCC and former Vice President of the US Al Gore By taking this decision in favour of a leader who has done a great deal to create awareness on climate change and a body that assesses all scientific aspects of climate change and disseminates the result of its findings the Norwegian Nobel Committee has clearly drawn the link between climate change and peace in the world

Language Choice in a Nation Under Transition Thomas Clayton, 2006-06-03 Language Choice in a Nation under Transition charts the spread of English into Cambodia and the French efforts to contest this spread in favor of their own language through an analysis of the country's recent history This book proposes a synthesis of the national functional and international critical perspectives This synthesis emerges from the Cambodian experience and thus adheres to Joshua Fishman's admonition that theory reflect the sharp bite of local detail and unique historical experience

Security and Sustainable Development in Myanmar Helen James, 2006-09-27 Helen James considers security in Myanmar Burma She uses the ideas put forward in the United Nations Development Programme's 1994 report of human as opposed to state and security going on to argue that freedom from want and freedom from fear of the regime are in fact mutually supportive ideas and that the security of the people and the security of the state are in fact in a symbiotic relationship with each other Presenting new and significant information of the security concept of Myanmar Burma James' original work considers economic development health education environmental issues the drugs trade human rights minority peoples and political social and economic reforms arguing that improved governance the development of civil society and economic development would both strengthen the state and ensure the security and well being of its citizens The Impact of ASEAN Enlargement on Economic Integration Sarinna Areethamsirikul,2008

Regionalism in China-Vietnam Relations Oliver Hensengerth,2009-09-10 This book analyses collaboration in the Greater Mekong Subregion It explores inter state cooperation and the role of subnational units provincial and local governments and transnational actors NGOs firms in building and maintaining the subregion It also considers the relationships between actors on the three levels their influences within the structures of decision making in the GMS their policy pronouncements and roles in the GMS After exploring the historical background of cooperation in the GMS the author discusses how far cooperation in the GMS has developed from the mere promotion of the national interest of individual states towards an institution as an independent actor able to influence relationships between its member states instead of only being influenced by them Hensengerth scrutinises the nature of GMS cooperation and the character and capabilities of the institution of the GMS exemplified by the bilateral relations between China and Vietnam Here the study will combine the analysis of subregionalism and institution building in the GMS with an analysis of China Vietnam relations by combining theoretical approaches to regional integration in the form of the regime approach with foreign policy analysis This book will appeal to academics within international relations Southeast Asian regional and China or Vietnam country specialists

Region-building Ludger Kühnhardt,2010-07-01 After two centuries of nation building the world has entered an era of region building in search of political stability cultural cohesion and socio economic development Nations involved in the regional structures and integration schemes that are emerging in most regions of the world are deepening their ambitions with Europe s integration experience often used as an experimental template or theoretical model Volume I provides a political analytical framework for recognizing the central role of the European Union not only as a conceptual model but also a normative engine in the global proliferation of regional integration It also gives a comprehensive treatment of the focus motives and objectives of non European integration efforts Volume II offers a unique collection of documents that give the best available overview of the legal and political evolution of region building based on official documents and stated objectives of the relevant regional groupings across all continents Together these volumes are important contributions for understanding the evolution of global affairs in an age when power shifts provide new challenges and opportunities for transatlantic partners and the world community

New Dynamics Between China and Japan in Asia Guy Faure,2010 This book is a study of ties between China and Japan and their Asian counterparts It does not therefore directly treat bilateral relations between these powers as these already constitute the subject of many other studies A lengthy perspective has been taken into account in order to recall past legacies some of which are still painfully contentious and to record evolutions in attitudes and strategies vis vis Asian countries
