Asia, Europe, and the Emergence of Modern Science A. Bala, 2012-07-26 This volume brings together essays from leading thinkers to examine what role Asian traditions of knowledge played in the rise of modern science in Europe the implications this has for the epistemology of science and whether pre modern Asian traditions can provide resources for advancing scientific knowledge in future The Circulation of Knowledge Between Britain, India and China, 2013-06-17 In The Circulation of Knowledge Between Britain India and China twelve scholars examine how knowledge things and people moved within and between the East and the West from the early modern period to the twentieth century The collection starts by looking at the ways and means that knowledge circulated first in Europe but then beyond to India and China It engages the knowledge and encounters of those Europeans as they moved across the globe It participates in the attempt to open up more nuanced and balanced trajectories of colonial and post colonial encounters By focusing on exchange translation and resistance the authors bring into the spotlight many bit players and things originally relegated to the margins in the development of late modern science Contributors include Karen Smith Larry Stewart Savrithri Preetha Nair Jan Golinski Arun Bala Jonathan Topham Khyati Nagar Yang Haiyan Fa ti Fan Grace Yen Shen Jahnavi Phalkey Veena Rao and Sundar Sarukkai A History of Science in Society, Volume I Andrew Ede, Lesley B. Cormack, 2016-09-29 A History of Science in Society is a concise overview that introduces complex ideas in a non technical fashion Ede and Cormack trace the history of the changing place of science in society and explore the link between the pursuit of knowledge and the desire to make that knowledge useful Volume I covers the origins of natural philosophy in the ancient world to the Scientific Revolution New topics in this edition include astronomy and mathematics in ancient Mayan society science and technology in ancient India and China and Islamic cartography New Connections features provide in depth exploration of the ways science and society interconnect The text is accompanied by 27 colour maps and diagrams and 4 colour plates highlighting key concepts and events Essay questions chapter timelines a further readings section and an index provide additional support for students A companion reader edited by the authors A History of Science in Society A Reader is also available Multicivilizational Exchanges in the Making of Modern Science Arun Bala, Raymond W. K. Lau, Jianjun Mei, 2024-09-09 This book explores how and why exchanges across civilizations have come to enrich science today The dialogical dimension of the history of science has long been marginalized by an excessive concern on why modern science emerged in Europe but not in any of the advanced civilizations of the East This focus upon what has been called Joseph Needham's Grand Comparative Question ignores his other project focused on showing how dialogues between civilizations have nurtured science Needham's Grand Dialogical Question if we may call it that by parity has directly or indirectly inspired a vast body of literature showing how interconnections of civilizations over the last three thousand years and exchanges of cosmological mathematical geographical physical biological and medical technologies techniques practices and knowledge have been woven together to produce current science Bringing together scholars whose research range across multiple civilizations and disciplines this book investigates the scope and limits of Needham s dialogical vision for science Education and the Nation State S. Gopinathan,2013-02-11 In the World Library of Educationalists series international experts themselves compile career long collections of what they judge to be their finest pieces extracts from books key articles salient research findings major theoretical and practical contributions so the world can read them in a single manageable volume In a career spanning four decades S Gopinathan is considered by many to be a pillar of teacher education in Singapore He has played a key role in the establishment and transformation of Singapore s education system pioneering many programmes and advising on policy both nationally and internationally In the process he has contributed over 25 books authored co authored and edited and 115 articles and book chapters to the field and continues to inspire and empower younger colleagues in the region to challenge the cause for excellence in education and education reform In Education and the Nation State S Gopinathan brings together 14 of his key writings in one volume Starting with a specially written introduction which gives an overview of Gopinathan s career and contextualises his selection the essays are then arranged thematically providing an overview not just of his own career but also reflecting the development and key concerns of education in the nation state that is Singapore

K. Lau,2024-12-24 This book offers a new investigation of the Needham Question Why did modern science emerge in Europe but not in any of the advanced non European civilizations Eurocentric accounts attribute it to certain qualities said to be unique to Europe Opposed to the Eurocentric view is a position known as the dialogical perspective Dialogism argues that Europe borrowed heavily from non European scientific knowledges and that scientific exchanges were key to the development of modern science Neo Eurocentric arguments have emerged in response to the challenge of dialogism and the debate between Eurocentrism neo Eurocentrism and dialogism currently stands at a stalemate In this book Raymond Lau brings a new theoretical methodological framework to finally settle this debate The historical analysis developed here shows that to secure the non Eurocentric case and decisively rebut Eurocentrism and neo Eurocentrism it is necessary to go beyond dialogism both theoretically and methodologically Transformations of Knowledge in Dutch Expansion Susanne Friedrich,Arndt Brendecke,Stefan Ehrenpreis,2015-05-19 In the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries objects texts and people travelled around the world on board Dutch ships The essays in this book explore how these circulations transformed knowledge in Asian and European societies They concentrate on epistemic consequences in the fields of historiography geography natural history religion and philosophy as well as in everyday life Emphasizing transformations the volume reconstructs small semantic shifts of knowledge and tentative adjustments to new cultural contexts It unfolds the often conflict ridden complex and largely global history of specific pieces of knowledge as well as of generally shared contemporary understandings regarding what could or could not be considered true The book contributes to current debates about how to conceptualize the unsettled epistemologies of the early modern world

Creolised Science Dorit Brixius,2024-04-04 This rich deeply researched study offers the first comprehensive exploration of cross cultural plant knowledge in eighteenth century Mauritius Using the concept of creolisation the process by which elements of different cultures are brought together to create entangled and evolving new entities Brixius examines the production of knowledge on an island without long established traditions of botany as understood by Europeans Once foreign plants and knowledge arrived in Mauritius they were adapted to new environmental circumstances and a new socio cultural space Brixius explores how French colonists settlers mediators labourers and enslaved people experienced and shaped the island s botanical past centring the contributions of subaltern actors By foregrounding neglected non European actors from both Africa and Asia within a melting pot of cultivation traditions from around the world she presents a truly global history of botanical knowledge
