The Routledge

Handbook of Tourism in Asia C. Michael Hall,Stephen J. Page,2016-09-13 Asia is regarded as the fastest growing area for international and domestic tourism in the world today and over the next 20 years Given the economic social and environmental importance of tourism in the region there is a need for a comprehensive and readable overview of the critical debates and controversies in tourism in the region and the major factors that are affecting tourism development both now and in the foreseeable future This Handbook provides a contemporary survey of the region and its continued growth and development as a key destination and generator of tourism which is marked by a high proportion of intra regional travel The book is divided into five sections This first section provides an introduction to the region and context to the nationally focused chapters The next three sections are then broadly based on the three UNWTO Asian regions South East Asia South and Central Asia and East and North East Asia providing readers with a valuable snapshot of tourism at various scales and from various approaches and positions The concluding section considers future prospects for tourism in Asia The handbook is interdisciplinary in coverage and is also international in scope through its authorship and content. It presents a range of perspectives and understanding of the processes and forces that are shaping tourism in this fascinating and dynamic region that is one of the focal points of global tourism. This is essential reading for students, researchers and academics interested in tourism in the growth region of Asia now and in the future. Asian Qualitative Research in Tourism Paolo

Mura, Catheryn Khoo-Lattimore, 2018-02-21. This book explores the ontologies, epistemologies, methodologies and methods that inform tourism qualitative research conducted either by Asian scholars or non-Asian scholars focusing on Asia. In addition to providing a platform for researchers to publish their qualitative journeys, it aims to encourage further Asian qualitative tourism research production. The book not only includes chapters from Asian scholars but also non-Asian tourism researchers with a focus on Asia as their chapters are crucial to represent the multiplicity of realities constituting Asia. It is of interest to the whole tourism academic community as it provides novel methodological insights from a non-Western perspective which at the moment are often silenced by dominant Western voices. Rethinking Asian Tourism Victor T.

King, Ploysri Porananond, 2014-10-16. Rethinking Asian Tourism addresses some of the latest developments in ongoing tourism research in Southeast Asia and the wider Asia region encompassing in geographical terms Thailand, Vietnam, Indonesia, the Philippines, Malaysia, Hong Kong, Japan and Korea. It examines many of the emerging as well as established themes and issues in Asian tourism and promotes the development of critical scholarship within Asia to overcome Anglo-Western ethnocentrism in tourism studies of the region. There is some attention to such familiar concepts as authenticity, commoditisation, culture heritage and hosts and guests but more especially to the diversification of phenomena which traditionally would not have been included within the parameters of tourism studies: retirees and long stays, gastronomy, family based leisure, popular culture and local branding. Above all, the book addresses and develops a conceptual understanding from a multidisciplinary perspective of the character, experiences, encounters, perceptions and motivations of local, national and intra-regional tourism rather than basing concepts, perspectives, emphases and analyses on Western Asian interactions and on transformations in the West. In this respect, it encourages a shift in emphasis towards Asianising our understanding of Asian tourism. This is one of the first volumes on Asian tourism written primarily by Asians and as such provides them with the opportunity to express their concerns, interests and priorities rather than depending on the analyses and interpretations of those from outside the region. It also enables a deconstruction of the field of tourism studies, acknowledging that it is an open-ended, shifting, fluid and complex category of encounters and events generated by the processes of physical mobility. Climate Change and Tourism in the Asia Pacific Bruce Prideaux, Bob McKercher, Karen McNamara, 2015-09-07. Climate change will exert an enormous impact on all societies in the medium to long term. Tourism as both a commercial activity and social phenomenon is not immune. To date, industry has been slow to recognise the scale of the threat posed by a changing climate on its operations and consumers have been extremely reluctant to modify their travel behaviours The Asia Pacific region is well on the way to being the 21st Century powerhouse of tourism however the manner in which it develops will in part be determined by how the global community responds to climate change This book examines climate change issues related to tourism in the Asia Pacific region Chapters discuss demand and supply side issues explore government policy responses and introduce several new adaptation models The book also calls for a more effective linking of social science research with the scientific discourse to create long term resolution of and adaptation to this issue This book was published as a special issue of Asia Pacific Journal of Tourism Research

Handbook of Technology Application in Tourism in Asia Azizul Hassan, 2022-07-09 It is an undisputed reality that the tourism industry in Asia is getting exposed to more innovative technologies than ever before This proposed book provides the latest research in the application of innovative technology to the tourism industry covering the perspectives innovativeness theories issues complexities opportunities and challenges This book a blend of comprehensive and extensive effort by the contributors and editors is designed to cover the application and practice of technology in tourism including the relevant niches This book focuses on the importance of technology in tourism This also highlights in a comprehensive manner specific technologies that are impacting the tourism industry in Asia as well as the constraints the industry is facing The contents of this book deal with distinct topics such as mobile computing new product designs innovative technology usages in tourism promotion technology driven sustainable tourism development location based apps mobility accessibility and so on A good number of research studies have conducted outlining the contributions and importance of technologies in tourism in general However the tourism industry of Asia so far has attracted very few researchers Some contributions have been made but not sufficient Considering the ongoing trend of technology application in the tourism industry in Asia very few research attempts have been made aiming to explore diverse aspects Tourism is expanding enormously across the world which actually creates more demands for effective technologies This book will be a reading companion especially for tourism students in higher academic institutions This book will also be read by the relevant policy planners and industry professionals Apart from them this book will be appreciated by expatriate researchers and researchers having keen interest in the Asian tourism industry forecasting      The Rise of Tourism in China Yiping Li, 2023-05-15 This book offers a comprehensive understanding of China's tourism development from 1992 onwards focusing on the social cultural change that accompanied the rise of tourism. It examines both the economic benefits and sociocultural impacts of tourism and argues that tourism sustainability depends on a delicate balance between economic and social cultural interests which could manifest differently among the stakeholders of various interests. It also explores through both theoretical and empirical analysis how travel connects people and places through the processes of tourist imagination and consumption. The volume portrays how contemporary discourses fuse with individual histories to formulate the ways in which tourists understand China. It will be a useful resource for students and scholars in human geography, tourism management, leisure and recreation and social sciences.      Advanced

Research and Design Tools for Architectural Heritage Stefania Stellacci, Danilo Giglito, Chiara Piccoli, 2024-07-31 Advanced Research and Design Tools for Architectural Heritage Unforeseen Paths rethinks how to analyse, preserve and adapt Architectural Heritage and its surroundings along unforeseen paths using a broad spectrum of advanced research and design tools. By delving into conceptual foundations and recent applications, it transcends disciplinary boundaries and leverages advanced design tools such as space syntax, natural language processing, advanced photogrammetry, heritage building information modelling and virtual reality. This book offers a comprehensive collection of collaborative research studies by a team of scholars with diverse perspectives and digital expertise from long-term projects. Encompassing case studies and recent academic experiences, the volume explores notable heritage sites in Europe, Asia and Africa. Readers are afforded a nuanced understanding of integrated tools through a forward-looking approach. By addressing critical heritage challenges, the book contributes to reshaping architecture discourse and practice. The chapters explore the integration of advanced methodologies to address emerging societal concerns, making the book a valuable resource for architecture, archaeology, urban planning, catering to professors, trainers and students. Additionally, its relevance extends to practitioners interested in cultural studies, urban policies and data science, including archivists, representatives from public governmental authorities and policy stakeholders.      Quantitative Tourism Research in Asia Sajad Rezaei, 2018-12-14 The purpose of this book is twofold. First, this book is an attempt to map the state of quantitative research in Asian tourism and hospitality context and provide a detailed description of the design, implementation, application and challenges of quantitative methods in tourism in Asia. Second, this book aims to contribute to the tourism literature by discussing the past, current and future quantitative data analysis methods. The book offers new insights into well-established research techniques such as regression analysis but goes beyond first-generation data analysis techniques to introduce methods seldom if ever used in tourism and hospitality research. In addition to investigating existing and novel research techniques, the book suggests areas for future studies. In order to achieve its objectives, the analysis is split into three main sections: understanding the tourism industry in Asia, the current status of quantitative data analysis and future directions for Asian tourism research.      Practical
