Mr. Justice Raffles Ernest William Hornung, 1909-01-01 Raffles had vanished from the face of the town and even I had no conception of his whereabouts until he cabled to me to meet the 7 31 at Charing Cross next night That was on the Tuesday before the Varsity match or a full fortnight after his mysterious disappearance The telegram was from Carlsbad of all places for Raffles of all men Of course there was only one thing that could possibly have taken so rare a specimen of physical fitness to any such pernicious spot But to my horror he emerged from the train on the Wednesday evening a cadaverous caricature of the splendid person I had gone to meet Not a word my dear Bunny till I have bitten British beef said he in tones as hollow as his cheeks No I m not going to stop to clear my baggage now You can do that for me to morrow Bunny like a dear good pal Any time you like said I giving him my arm But where shall we dine Kellner s Neapolo s The Carlton or the Club But Raffles shook his head at one and all I don t want to dine at all he said I know what I want And he led the way from the station stopping once to gloat over the sunset across Trafalgar Square and again to inhale the tarry scent of the warm wood paving which was perfume to his nostrils as the din of its traffic was music to his ears before we came to one of those political palaces which permit themselves to be included in the list of ordinary clubs Raffles to my surprise walked in as though the marble hall belonged to him and as straight as might be to the grill room where white capped cooks were making things hiss upon a silver grill He did not consult me as to what we were to have He had made up his mind about that in the train But he chose the fillet steaks himself he insisted on seeing the kidneys and had a word to say about the fried potatoes and the Welsh rarebit that was to follow And all this was as uncharacteristic of the normal Raffles who was least fastidious at the table as the sigh with which he dropped into the chair opposite mine and crossed his arms upon the cloth
