Designing Effective Assessment

Trudy W. Banta, Elizabeth A. Jones, Karen E. Black, 2009-07-14 Fifteen years ago Trudy Banta and her colleagues surveyed the national landscape for the campus examples that were published in the classic work Assessment in Practice Since then significant advances have occurred including the use of technology to organize and manage the assessment process and increased reliance on assessment findings to make key decisions aimed at enhancing student learning Trudy Banta Elizabeth Jones and Karen Black offer 49 detailed current examples of good practice in planning implementing and sustaining assessment that are practical and ready to apply in new settings This important resource can help educators put in place an effective process for determining what works and which improvements will have the most impact in improving curriculum methods of instruction and student services on college and university campuses      Promoting Assessment as Learning Ruth Dann,2002

Promoting Assessment as Learning sets out to re examine the relationship between assessment and learning in the classroom It argues that assessment is an important part of pupil learning and needs to be understood by pupils in order to help them make judgements about their own progress This timely book explores the theories of learning and assessment within the context of national tests and also through the theme of self assessment It offers practical approaches to help teachers translate national policy into meaningful classroom practice and suggests ways to help pupils develop their own assessment skills through a process of consolidation reflection and revision This book will appeal to new and practising primary school teachers and headteachers and those on in service courses It will also be of interest to students on initial teacher training and higher degree courses
