Knochel, Osamu Sahara, 2022-10-22 This edited volume broadens the understanding of the media arts at a global scale bringing together practices and ideas from artists and art educators from around the world Authors explore issues of cultural and social diversity in fields of education media theory and critical theories of education and pedagogy with particular attention to digital technologies impact on visual arts learning Researchers utilize a range of methodologies including participant researcher ethnographies action research case study and design based research These artists and art educators share new research about the pedagogical and theoretical aspects of media arts in educational systems that are facing unprecedented change This volume begins to map why and how experts are working within networked society and playing with digital innovations through media arts education as a critical and creative practice

A History of Disability and Art Education Claire Penketh, 2023-08-16 Drawing on recent theoretical frameworks from critical disability studies and art education including normalcy ableism disability and Crip theory this book offers an analysis of the conceptualisation of ability in art education and its relationship with disability Drawing on the work of Cizek and Lowenfeld in Austria Ruskin and Richardson in England and Dewey and Eisner in the United States it critically examines the influence of ideas such as the dominance of vision and visuality the emergence of psychological perspectives the Child Art Movement the implications of assessment regimes and the relevance of art education as a critical social practice on the production of disability Offering a sustained inquiry into the differential values attributed to learners and their work and the implications of this for framing our understanding of disability in art education this book shows that although art educators have frequently advocated for the universal appeal and importance of art education they have done so within historical contexts that have produced and determined problematic ideas regarding disability It will be of interest to all scholars and students of disability studies art in education art history and education studies

Resources in Education, 2000

Beyond Multicultural Art Education Rachel Mason, Doug Boughton, 1999 Multiculturalism is a term that has been much used in educational texts in recent years Its usage is frequently taken for granted in the rhetoric of curriculum literature However it has recently become clear that there are significant variations of interpretations of multiculturalism in different world regions This book takes a new and deeper look at the notion of multiculturalism through the lens of art education In educational terms art is a unique tool for the investigation of cultural values because it transcends the barrier of language and provides visceral and tacit insights into cultural change In order to address the educational interpretations and methods of implementing multiculturalism in different regions of the world this book contains discussion and analysis of perspectives on art education theory and practice from thirteen countries The authors of each chapter are respected multicultural experts in their geographic locations who are well equipped to provide unique insights into the particular issues of multiculturalism viewed from the perspective of art in educational contexts The book as a whole provides tools for the conceptual analysis of contemporary notions linked with multiculturalism such as interculturalism internationalism and globalisation It also provides strategies for art teaching in relation to these ideas While the term multicultural education is problematic this book presents conceptual frameworks that should assist educators to examine their own teaching on issues of equity and diversity that are central to the multicultural education debate
